COURT AFFAIRS.

FOUR WEEKS OF JURY TRIALS OFF.

The Results of the Failure of the Jury Com missioners to be Duly Sworn-Court Adjourned Till Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon the court met to hear the argument on the rule to show cause why the array of jurors drawn in December, 1882, should not be set aside. The counsel for the commonwealth and the district attorney said that as the court had informed itself on the subject, they had no suggestions to make.

Mr. Brosius, one of the defendant's counsel on the arson case, discussed the ubject at some length, and quoted laws in relation to the drawing of jurors and their duties, for the purpose of showing that the setting aside of the jurors drawn to serve in common pleas courts for January would not render it necessary to continue the trials of the cases for those terms, nor would their action taken in the criminal court compel that, as the prevision of the 146th and 147th section of the act of 1834 (which, it was contended, had not been repealed by any subsequent legislation) provided relief if the court desired to avail itself of it, in cases where the challenge of the jurors is sustained, by empowering the court, on motion of either ride, to issue a venire to the sheriff to at once summon 21 jurors to try any case as if they had been drawn from the wheel. The court heard all that was presented and said that this was a motion to quash the present array of jurors that had been drawn for the trial of cases during this year, for the reason that the jury com missioners had not taken the prescribed oath before entering upon their duties although it was conceded that they had subscribed to the "iron clad oath on their induction to office. The law required that the act of 1834 be confirmed with and the same be filed in the prothonotary's office ; this in this case had not been complied with strictly. It was therefore evident that the names of the jurors at the last filling of the wheel were illegally and improperty placed there, and the rules to quash the array must be made absolute and the wheel refilled. All the court for the next four weeks, for which jurors have been drawa, must be declared "off," as the court declined to adopt the suggestions of a special venire of 21 to be summoned by the sheriff

The Jurors Discharged.

Court met at 10 o'clock this morning, this being the time set for the commence ment of the first week of common pleas court. The court informed the jarors in regard to the manner in which they were drawn, and told them that they could not be used. They were thereupon discharged for the week, with the thanks of the court, and received their pay for to-day and mileage. The attendance of jarots was unusually large this morning Court then adjourned to Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

He remained with him many years, and after Mr. Mayer's death went into business on his own account. He was for years the senior partner of the firm of Diller & Groff, and after its dissolution, continued in the business as a salesman for his brother, Isaac Diller, who became proprietor of the cstablishment. Mr. Diller was a member of St. John's Free Episcopal church, and was in every way an exemplary Christian gentlemen. He leaves a wife and six children. Asphystation

The family of John Chambers, living at No. 320 West Orange street, made a nar row escape from suffocation by coal gas last night. It appears that the damper in a stove in a down stairs room was closed, and the coal gas unable to escape through the stove pipe found its way into an upstairs room, in which three of Mr. Chamber's children were sleeping. The children there were all badly affected, and one of them in its struggles fell out of bed. The noise made by the fall led to the discovery that something was wrong. The children were found in a helpless con dition, and would probably have died had it not been for the timely discovery of their situation and their speedy removal from the gas tainted room. They are all better to-day and considered out of danger. Moral: All stovepipe slops are humbugs.

He Could Not Eat Bauanas. On Saturday a certain cigar-box manufacturer entered the gentlemen's room at the Pennsylvania railroad depot, this city, and looking longingly at a big bunch of bananas hanging in the Union news company's stand and said he would bet a dollar he could eat three dozen of them in two hours. The news agent thought he political crookedness was the theme of couldn't and took the bet, the conditions conversation with everybody a few years bananas he need not pay for them, but if being that if he ate the three dozen he failed to eat them all he was to lose a west 'had been lodged in jail a few days ago to answer for recent alleged frauds in St. Louis, Mo. and elevating entertainment. "Jolanthe."-Rice's opera company, reputedly one of the best equipped organizations of the kind now traveling, will produce Gilbert & Sullivan's delightful fairy opera at Fulton opera house, Wednesday evening. The management have taken special care in providing the most artistic scenic effects, elegant c stumes, etc., while the orchestra will be under the direction of Signor DeNovellis, late director of the Strakosch opera company. A Providence (R. I.) newspaper reviewing a recent performance of the opera in that city by the Rice company, says : " As a whole the cast is an evenly good one, and musically left nothing to be desired, all the principals having good voices, and the choruses were given with commendable spirit and precision." Pat Rooney .- Among the Irish comediana.

Pat Rooney conce fedly holds the position of commanding eminence, on account of the originality of the humor with which he endows the character of the rollicking Hibernian without ever marring his impersonation in this city, and the announcement that he will be in Fulton opera house next Thursday evening, with his own great star specialty company, is certain to attract a large audience, with the assurance of a capital entertainment. The Vokes Family .- Everybody has heard of the famous Vokes family, whose success in this country and abroad has made them the chie exponents of the light musical comedy that has become popular. They have had many imitators, but probably no equals, and next Friday evening will afford our people an op portunity of passing upon the merits of the

The Boy Lecturer. - At Grace Lutheran church next Thursday and Friday evenings the boy lecturer, Word II, Mills, will speak to the subject of " Light and Science of Life and Nature," Rather a ponderous problem for an eighteen-year-old boy, but the young orator is said to have proved his capa dry to furnish an agreeable and instructive entertainment in its treatment

Badger, of St. Louis, reached this city for him to answer for his alleged crimes. He brought with him all the necessary papers from the criminal court of St. Louis. The charge against Dannis is that "he did uniawfully, feloniously and frau lulently obtain from one Thomas J. Grant, twentyfour mules, all of the value of $3,248, lawful money of the United States, all the property of the said Thomas J. Grant, by means and by use of a bogus check and draft, and by means and by use of a barroom. They then attacked the safe by confidence game." This charge is sworn to by Thomas J. Grant, and duly certified by the court officers.

This morning Detective Badger went to robbed of $125 in cash and a val-Harrisburg to secure from Governor Pattison a requisition to take Dennis west. knew nothing of the robbery until this Meantime the friends of Dennis had lodged morning-the burglars probably having with the governor a protest against the is- blown the safe open while a long freight sue of a requisition until it could be shown that the offense charged against Denais was one that would be recognized by the governor of Missouri if a similar There is no clue to the robbers. requisition had been made on him. Be sides this action, Mr. Dennis' friends secured the legal services of J. Hay Brown and S. H. Reynolds, esq., who took out a writ of habeas corpus and had Mr. Dennis appear before the court at 11 o'clock this forenoon. Counsel demanded first, the absolute discharge of the prisoner ; and, second, his discharge on bail, so vious invitation, is expected to be present, that time may be had to investigate the charges against him before he is taken beyoud the jurisdiction of the court. The court declined to discharge the prisoner and the hearing was postponed until Wednesday next at 11 o'clock.

Early this morning two complaints of forgery were made against Dennis by S. Clay Miller, administrator of the estate of the late Abram H Reist. The one case charges him with having forged the name of John Leib, of Mount Joy, to a promis sory note for $75, and the other with forging the name of John Doyle, of Mount Joy, to a promissory note for $127.50. These notes were re ceived as good by Mr. Reist, were en-dorsed by him and discounted by D. P. Locher & Son, bankers. After they were discounted, in the winter of 1881, they were discovered to be forgeries, and Mr. Reist paid them. A few mouths after wards Dennis went west, and has not been in this county since, so far as is known, until his present appearance here. There are said to be several other charges pending against Dennis in St. Louis, and his friends here appear to be anxious to hold him to answer the less grave charges brought against him in this county, rather than let the St. Louis authorities get hold of him; and they express the opinion that there is a very slim chance of Detective Badger taking the prisoner bridge. A freight train broke and then west with him.

A Church Literary Association. Rev. C. F. Knight, D. D., of St. James P. E. church, gave notice yesterday that a number of the young men, members of the church, had concluded to form an association for instructive diversion, to be held in the parish chapel on Locust street. with the further purpose of making it a permanent institution ; the great object being to give the youths of that neighborhood who are employed during the day the advantage of an evening of intellectual entertainment and thus lead them from the evils that they eccasionally run into when left without anything to employ their time and minds. The originators of this institution have formed themselves into committees for the furtherance of this plan, which will be put into immediate operation.
