A Stray Bullet.

This morning as Dr. Frank Hinkle was passing through the yard in front of his that the back bone of winter is broken residence on 2nd street, he was startled by and that we shall have an early spring ; a pistol shot and almost at the same time a bullet lodged in the board walk at his feet. It is not known whether the bullet was a stray one from the revolver of some one who was practicing at a mark or whether it came from the weapon of some murderously inclined person. by Oliver Burgh, one of the employees, in out and will live privately. the cellar of the factory, this morning about 8:30, with a pistol wound in his stomach. Dr. Lineaweaver was summoned and the injured man was removed to No. 630 Walnut street, where he boards with ins sister, Mrs. Joseph Detz. On account of his prostrated condition no probing for the bullet has yet been done. In answer to questions he said that he had pulled out his revolver, a small 22calibre one, for the purpose of shooting a rat. He had drawn the hammer back and was examining it before taking aim, when it went off. The accident occurred a few minutes prior to 6 o'clock, and before any of the workmen had yet arrived. The wound is of a serious nature and may prove fatal. Mr. Lash is 27 years of age and a single man. He came to this place from Reading to assume the foremanship of the eigar box factory above mentioned.

THE OPERA.

A Fine Performance by the Boston Ideats their first appearance in Lancaster last evening before a large and brilliant audi- after the very successful run was over they ence that filled the opera house. It is not risking anything to say the performance eclipsed anything in the line of comic opera that has been given here, and the high anticipations of the audience were amply realized. The opera was "The Musketcers," a composition abounding in sparkling music, with pretty ear-taking melo dies and choral effects that are marked by sharply accentuated march movements and a general vim and energy that make it a great go and a charming variation on what we are accustomed to hear in recent operatic composition. The libretto is funny, dealing with the escapades of two red musketeers, who find their way into a convent where their sweethearts are im mured, and who, after a variety of the most amusing situations, are united to the girls of their heart.

The cast was the strongest that has ever appeared here in a similar performance. It included Marie Stone, Mary Bebee and Lizzie Burton, and conspicuous among the male portion were such well known artists as Tom Karl, W. H. MacDonald and George Frothingham, while the en-semble was as near a perfect balance as could be imagined. A marvelous waltz song by Miss Stone constituted the hit of the evening, and was rapturously encored, as were also the romances of Karl and Miss Bebec, Frothingham's bass solo, and many of the other leading numbers. It was indeed an ideal performance by an ideal company.

St. John's Festival and Supper. Last evening at Robert's hall the sociable committee of the ladies' pastoral aid society of St. John's Free Episcopal along the hall near the west front, for the seating of guests, and along the east wall was a long table loaded down with the finest fruits and confections. The attendance was very large, many gentlemen, friends of the cause, taking their entire families with them to the festival. Each table was superintended by a manager, who was aided in waiting on the guests by a number of young ladies. The supper was excellent, the menu embracing all the delicacies of the season, and that it was enjoyed by the guests is made evident by the fact that over eleven hundred fried BLOOD PUBLFIER ever discovered, effectoysters in addition to the other viands ually curing Scrotula, Syphlitic disorders, were required to serve them. The festival Weakness of the Kidneys, Erysipelas, Malalarger attendance is expected. A ticket including supper costs fifty cents; children impure condition of the Blood, Liver, Kidtwenty-five cents.

"HONEST JOE.

He Confesses to Horse Stealing. Joseph Hinkle, alias "Honest Joe," the valuable team belonging to Mr. I. E. Cochran, of Chester, Delaware county, we gave some account yesterday, had a hearing before Alderman Spurrier this morn-ing. "Honest Joe" acknowledged the corn and gave a circumstantial account of his travels while the team was in his possession and of his sale of it to Mr. John owner of the team, was present at the hearing, as were also Dr. W. Berg and J. Diehm, proprietor of the Pennville hotel, through whom the information that led to 'Honest Joe's " arrest was obtained. After hearing the testimony in the case Alderman Spurrier remanded Joe to prison to await the action of the Delaware county authorities.

Mr. Cochran states that he had no trouble at all in getting his team at Cumberland as he very soon convinced Mr. Kelso that the team had been stolen. The harness was the only part of the outfit not recovered.

Mr. Cochran gave Berg and Diehm $50 for their assistance in the recovery of the property and the arrest of the thief. His entire expenses are about $300, but he don't mind that, as he gets back his team which is worth $1,000.

Liederkranz Sociable and Concert. Last night the Liederkranz gave one of their pleasant sociables in the hall of the Schiller house. The attendance was larger than usual and all present had a fine time. Previous to the sociable the society gave a concert, which was excellent. The programme was as follows:

Candlemas-Ground Hog Day. To-morrow will be Candlemas day-the festival of the Purification in the church calendar. Outside the church it is known as ground hog day, on account of a superstition that on Candlemas day the ground hog, or wood chuck, which has been hybernating ever since cold weather set in, comes out of his hole before sunrise and watches for the orb of day. If the sky is overcast with clouds so that the ground hog cannot see his shadow it is a sign but if the sun shines sufficiently to enable the ground hog to see his shadow six weeks of severe winter weather may be clock this morning fire broke out in the large pier owned and occupied by the Inman steamship company on the North river near Canal street. A quantity of vitriol on the wharf caught fire and as carboy after carboy exploded flames were scattered in every direction. In half an hour after the first alarm the huge shed was a mass of fire, and flames were eating their way along the bank and causing utmost consternation among those having vessels close by. The glare lighted up the river to the Jersey shore, disclosing scores of tug boats steaming from all directions in answer to distress signals from vessels in danger. The steamship Egypt soon caught fire and as the tugs moved slowly into the stream, her yards and forward bulwarks were a flame and the panic among the shipping became general. In the stream the fire enveloped her from stem to stern, and busy little tug boats surrounded her, deluging her with water. Clouds of sparks from the burning pier shot high into the air and set fire to canal boats and small crafts moored in the neighboring slips, and continued, threatening a general conflagration, until the tugs had removed every vessel from the dock. The loss will not be less than

At 9 o'clock the fire was still burning. The steamship Egypt proves to be only slightly injured, as she was built of iron. It is now said the loss will reach $1,000,000.
