infirm. To dergymen, lawyers, literary men, ladies, and all whom sedentary employments cause irregularities of the Blood, Stomach, Bowels, or Kidneys, or who require an appetizer, tonic, and mild -timulant, it is invaluable, being highly curative, tonic and stimulating, without being intoxicating. No matter what your feelings or symptoms are, or what the disease or allment is, use Hop

Bitters. Don't walt until you are sick, but if you on'y feet bad or miserable use the bitters at once. It may save your life. Hundreds have been saved by so doing, at a moderate cost. Ask your drugglet, or physician. Do not suffer yourself or let your triends suffer, but use and urge them to use Hop Bitters. It you have lameness in the loins, with frequent pains and aches; numbress of the thigh scanty, painful and frequent discharge of urine, filled with pus, and which will turn red by standing; a voracious appetite and unquenchable thirst; harsh and dry skin clammy tongue, often darkly farred; swollen and inflammed gums; dropsical swelling of the limbs; frequent attacks of biccough; inability to vold the urine and great fatizue in attempting it-you are suffering from some form of Kidney or Urinary Complaint, such as Bright's Disease of the kidneys, stone or inflammation of the bladder, gravel and renal calculi, diabetes, stranguary stricture and retention of the urine, and Hop Bitters is the only remedy that will permanently care you. Remember, Hop Bitters is no vile, daugged, drunken nostrum, but the purest and best medicine ever made and no person or family should be without it. D. n'trisk any of the highly landed stuff with testimonials of great cures, but ask your neighbor, druggist, pastor or physicians what Hon Bitters has and can do for you and test it. jan3c-lycodTTh& & w

CORNER LOAFING.

WHAT A STUDENT SEES ON THE STREET One of the Glaring Blots on the Escutche of Society-A Bad Practice of Young Men Severely Scored. For the INTELLIGENCES, There is one product of our modern civ ligation that, to say the least, is a serious dot on an otherwise bright escutcheon. It cannot be said that this parasitie outgrowth is judigenous to any locality, or that it flourishes more fuxuriantly in the Eastern than in the Western world; but its baneful presence is felt in every community, a source of annoyance and disgust to all right thinking and refined people. The habit of loafing at screet corners or in bar rooms, dram shops, eigar stores, and a dozen other resorts of a similar character where "men of leisure" do congregate has long since grawn to the proportions of a gigantic nulsance-a monster leach sapping the very vitals of social existence. It inculcates upon the minds of the young a sort of vegabond life that gives its quota annually, nay, daily, to recruit the tanks of vice and immorality. No one can pass along our streets day after day, and notice the same young men loating on the same corners or coming from the same dramshop without an inward, shuddering feeling, that there must be something radically wrong some where. The constitution of society does not make provision for any such elements, and so they must be mere excrescencessocial incumbrances of a dangerous nature. I have often wondered wherein lay the fascination of street loating; what the pleasure derived from it? The coldest day or the hottest, rain or shine, morning, noon or night, it matters not; there are always some members of the fraternity ready to sacrifice their own comfort to preserve the reputation of the order. When the temperature is flirting with zero these self-constituted martyrs will heroically hold their places, and with lusty beat of arms and vigorous stamp of numbing feet assist the sluggish blood in its constant flow. In their efforts to keep warm more muscular energy is expended uselessly than would suffice to generate electricity enough to light the streets of Lancaster most brilliantly. Let the city tathers think of this, and if possible, apply this surplus energy to some purpose. The only thing the corner-loafer is avowedly successful in is insulting people as they pass. The coarse, almost brut-1 jests that are bandied from mouth to mouth as a lady passes; the impudent stares that greet one at every turn; the unhallowed desceration of the one day set

We underst apart from all the rest; these are a few of the charges that might be preferred against the loaning gang. How immeasur able is the disgust with which one hears Mason & Hamlin, Peloubet & Co.'s the coarse words and coarser laughter of a set of corner rowdies at the appearance of anyone of unusual attire or Labit. No one is exempt from this disrespectful criti cism. Man or woman, young or old, it matters not to the foul-mouthed jester so he can raise a laugh among his fellows. "Brown's Iron Bitters thoroughly cured me of indigestion and general debility. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North tutor in vice and soon becomes an adept in | Queen street. the art. One of the most unpleasant experiences through which one can pass is to run the gauntiet of a corner crowd with a lady on your arm. There are places that to pass if they can avoid them, preferring to make a wide detour to the ordeal of passing the gang. Often in going through such a crowd I have felt the fair being at my side shrink as though in pain when some louder tone fell upon her ear; and I have blushed to think that I belonged to a race whose members were so lost to a sense of propriety. Ladies may be safe. from health harm from the lotters hat the results were so lost to a sense of propriety. Ladies may be safe. from boodly harm from the leafers, but the r modesty will often receive a grievous shock whose circuts will but slowly be crased. Woman has an inuate feeling that she has a right to look for protection and support to the sterner sex. Her early dream is that men are all the slaves of the sex ready to sacrifice almost anything for the sake of the weaker vessel; and when the awakening comes, as come it will, it falls with all the more crushing force because unexpected. It may be urged that ladies should not be on the street at night unattended; but we have seen that even when attended by an escort they could not escape ribaldry's baneful breath. Sanday evening seems to be the great mester hour for the brigades of loaters. Every corner, then, is garnished with a motley assemblage of men and boys. Long lines of humanity, exhaling sickeding odor of stale beer and tobacco flank the pavements on both sides. Church-goers must all undergo the impertinent scrutiny of these self appointed censors. They do not go to church themseves. They find more pleasure in annoying people who do. Gossip rules supreme,-even gossip supposed to be the sole prerogative of a party of old women assembled for an hour's interchange of news. They are at their posts "soon as the evening shades prevail," and are there still when the evening services are over and the worshippers are turning homeward. Who, that goes to church, has not been annoyed by the corner excrescences? Look at this subject as we may the unalterable fact remains that a radical change is necessary and would be hailed with pleasure by all who have been annoyed by the nuisance. How immeasurably does it detract from the grandeur of humanity to be compelled to acknowledge these men of the same race and sex with ourselves! And yet, humiliating as the confession may be, we are unable to evade the stern fact that these worthless suckers of society are men whom proper training and culture would lift to a higher plane and give expression to the nobility of character inherent in the lowest nature. It may, perhaps, be looked upon as merely a difference of degree. One boy with every advantage far acquiring education and culture has early impressed upon his mind the true meaning of life and his inclinations will then lead him to accept the nobler mission of doing good work for the human family another, without these advantages, with a mind uncultured, untaught as to the higher meaning of human existence, will be influenced in his career by merely sensual desires, to gratify which he will seek the companof persons as illiterate as himself. And who shall say that, were their positions reversed, were the first boy to be deprived of his opportunities and the second raised in the social plane, the results would not be the same? Education is the great civilizer and refiner of the coarse clay composing humanity. There must be an inherent predisposition for depravity in a man when he will not yield to the elevating influence of culture and letters. That there are such cases I know, but these should not be accepted HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT as a criterion from which to judge all men of like condition. It would be uncharitto make room and give my entire attention to wholesale trade of my own manufactured able so to do and we have need of all the charity vouchsafed to us. the home may be it still may be made attractive, especially when love rules with gentle sway. If such a course be taken by parents and not the opposite, as is too frequently the case I am certain that good results will follow. Boys will forego the questionable recreation of corner loafing : our jails and peniteutiaries will be depleted of a goodly share of their annual additions and a better state of things will be E. C. Preparations for Hostilities in Indian Terri tory—Crazed by Good Luck.

A dispatch from Muskogee, Indian territory, says there are strong indications of a renewal of hostilities between the contending bands of Creeks. George Porter has been appointed commander of the Chicote faction and has called in all availble men and it is said will attack the consolidated forces of Spieche, now camped about fifteen miles from Okmulgee, as soon as the weather is favorable. Both parties are buying all the Winchester ritles and other weapons and ammunition they can obtain. A tragedy occurred among the Creek ndians last Saturday. When the Creek orphan money was distributed among the tribe one of Euchee's band received $2, 000. The man's good luck drove him crazy, and on Sunday morning before daylight he shot two of his companions, Kigia Brown and John Buck, through the head while they were sleeping. The whole camp was aroused, and in the attempt to capture the lunatic Jim Barrett was mortally wounded. The Indian then took shelter under a wagon and defended himself with firearms. It being impossible to capture him he was killed by a wel!directed volley.

The principal chief of the Osage Indins, Joseph Pawnee Nopawsha, is dead. He was 48 years of age. He had ruled the Osages for more than twenty years. Officials at the Indian bureau at Washington, assert that Captain Payne's raids upan the Oklahoma lauds in the Indian Territory have already cost the government about $200,000, and that this expenditure might have been saved it Congress had adopted the repeated recommendations of the commissioner, providing for the punishment of intruders upon the

Silk novelties innumerable and indescribable. Everything that ladies or dressmakers have occasion for in matching, decorating, combining. What we are remarkable for, more than for anything else in silks, is variety; or, at least, we are reputed so. You hear it said by everybody: "If you want to match anything, or find a rare silk, even an unexpectable one, go to Wanamaker's." The other peculiarity that everybody expects to find here is less pleasant to speak of; lower prices. We put it second, because there are people who don't credit us with lower prices. Still, we imagine that if one should assert the contrary, almost everybody in Philadelphia would believe it. Oftener we speak of other aspects of our trade; aspects less obvious or less recognized. It is well occasionally to give old news.
