OUR WATCHFUL GUARDIAN AND FAITHFUL PROTECTOR RESTORED TO ACTIVE DUTY AGAIN.

MR. HENRY A. WATERMAN, of the City of Providence, R. I., for many years the faithful and vigilant night watchman of the Barstow Store Company's very extensive establishment, having been confined to his home several weeks by a very distressing illness, on resuming his duties again avails himself of this early opportunity for stating briefly a few plain facts.

MR. WATERMAN SAYS:—

"A few months ago I was taken down with a severe sickness, which confined me to the house quite a long time, and much of the time I was so very lame as to be unable to walk, and my left leg, from the hip to the toes, became monstrously swollen, and I suffered extremely from the constant intense pains produced by so great inflammation: I was trying the various so-called cures, all the time, and was under the treatment of a physician seven weeks, but getting no substantial relief. At this time an old time friend, a police officer, called upon me, and during our conversation informed me of the great benefit which he had obtained by the use of Hunt's Remedy, and urged me to try it, as he considered it a wonderful medicine. I commenced taking Hunt's Remedy, having very little faith that it would do much in such a stubborn case as mine, but my doubts were soon dispelled, and before I had taken one bottle I began to get better, the severe pains disappeared, the swollen leg gradually decreased in size, and I was encouraged to continue the use of the Remedy and the improvement to my health continued, my appetite is good. I have regained my strength, and I am now performing again my duties as watchman at the factory. Every night I go up and down stairs more than one hundred times, and am in good condition, and feel that my recovery is due to Hunt's Remedy alone. My severe sickness and terribly swollen leg was caused by the disease state of my kidneys, and I think that it is a most valuable medicine that will so speedily relieve and cure such a severe case as mine. I therefore most cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy to all afflicted with Kidney Diseases, as I know it to be safe and reliable remedy."

THE GIST OF GORDON'S BILL.

Medical Legislation Proposed at Harrisburg—Discusses the "Halters" Bill in Committee.

Senator Gordon has introduced a lengthy and radical bill to enforce the provisions of the new constitution relating to railroads. In substance following are the features of the bill:

The first section provides that if any president, director, officer, agent, superintendent, employee, lessee or receiver of a railroad or canal company shall deny to any individual, association or company his equal right to have persons or property transported over the same on the same terms as if he were a citizen, he shall be liable to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for the first offense, and for a second offense imprisonment at hard labor for a term not less than one year nor exceeding two years.

The second section provides that a person indicted for the offense provided for in the first section shall not be allowed to set up as a defense that he committed the act under the orders of a superior officer or director, but the superior giving such order, or any member of the board of directors voting for such a policy or being present at the meeting at which such policy was thereby made equally liable with the person who actually commits the misdemeanor.

The third section forbids the consolidation of rival or parallel railroads, the controlling of one road by another, or the sale of one road to another, or the pooling of receipts under the penalties presented in the first section.

Section 4 forbids any corporation doing business as a common carrier to engage in mining or in manufacturing articles for transportation, or engaging in any business other than that of a common carrier, or to buy or hold lands except such as shall be absolutely necessary for carrying on its proper business. All contracts made contrary to this are to be null and void, and the officers and principal managers consenting thereto are punishable as prescribed in the first section.

Section 5 forbids, under like penalties, any president, vice president, director, manager, officer, superintendent, agent or clerk of a railroad or canal company, directly or indirectly, in furnishing materials or supplies to such companies.

The sixth section makes the giver and receiver, except employees of a five pass or a discount liable to like penalties, and provides that if the recipient be a member of Congress or a public officer of any kind it shall be considered bribery and punished accordingly.

Section 7 gives jurisdiction in such cases to the court of the county where the misdemeanor was committed, and prescribes that the amount of any fine shall not exceed $100 for his personal expenses, time and trouble.

Section 8 prescribes that any party injured by an act herein made punishable as a misdemeanor, or who shall compromise or compound it, or for fear of prosecution, or for a valuable consideration, shall be liable to indictment as guilty of a misdemeanor of the same grade under the same penalties.

Section 9 gives the person injured the right to bring suit in any district or county pleases, and makes the original process good as against the corporation if made in the proper county on any officer, ticket agent, superintendent or station agent.

Section 10 provides that if any violation of this law be committed in pursuance of a resolution, by law, contract or agreement passed, made or acquiesced in after the passage of this act, it shall work a forfeiture of the company's charter, and it is made the duty of the attorney general to proceed to cause the same to be annulled.

Section 11 provides for the appointment of a board of revision to fix the tariff charges, which shall be reasonable and not exorbitant within the meaning of this act. The manner of appointing this board is in blank, to be filled in when the bill is in committee, or as the sense of the House may suggest.

Section 12 provides that through rates and local rates shall be always the same, whether wholly in this state or partly in this and partly in other states.

The bill also provides that the board of revision shall meet at the capital every six months, on a day publicly fixed by the governor, and shall be sworn to perform their duties faithfully. They shall have power to send for persons and papers and take testimony and hear parties interested, by counsel or person, the attorney general to appear in the interest of the public, and the board shall have the power of a court of record to punish for contempt.

Freight Discriminations.

In the House the Halter's bill is being considered in committee and the railroad people are being heard in opposition to it. For the Pennsylvania railroad Mr. Sellers has argued that the bill would do no good to the state and would cripple the Pennsylvania railroad by giving all its through freight, which comprises two-thirds of its tonnage, to competing trunk lines. The law was already sufficient to prevent unjust discrimination. He believed that there were not five cases pending in the courts of alleged unjust discrimination. If local rates were to be through rates the railroad would be forced into bankruptcy. On the other hand, if through rates were raised, through freight would be taken away, and the company's only escape from disaster would be to make local rates still higher. In connection Mr. Sellers suggested that if there must be further legislation upon this subject, let a certain commission be appointed to ascertain as nearly as possible what will be said and fair to all.

It is thought that the committee should do no more than to bring the matter in the House to bring the matter in the House. He went on to say that Sellers evidently did not understand the bill. The present law now prohibits unjust discrimination, but does not point out any mode of procedure for the aggrieved. His bill embodied almost the exact language of the constitution. It did not aim to abolish just wholesale and retail rates. Hearings now offered an amendment which he thought ought to satisfy everyone. The amendment defines unjust discrimination and forbids "except a due and reasonable difference growing out of difference in the cost of service."

A FOREMAN'S GOOD FORTUNE.

Three Millions of Dollars Waiting for Him in Scotland.

The foreman of a candle and soap factory, a modest gentlemanly fellow, with a small family, has come to the front in Milwaukee as the heir to a fortune worth $3,000,000. The mail brought a letter to Mayor Stowell from a lady named Mrs. Margaret Irwin, County Monaghan, Ireland, making inquiries for a nephew named John Clements Ralston, who came to America 15 years ago and who had last been heard of as living in some place in the Northwest. She had reason to believe he was now in Milwaukee. She said her brother died ten years ago, leaving a vast estate worth at least $3,000,000, and that it fell to John C. Ralston and herself; that the officials who had the estate in charge had settled it, and that everything was in readiness for an equal division. She said she was a woman of wealth and would pay any reasonable reward for any information leading to Ralston's discovery. The matter was turned over to the reporters and in less than an hour John Clements Ralston was found. He is the foreman of a large soap factory, and his general appearance shows that he is a person who has been decidedly better days. He said he expected some time to get something of the fortune in question, but never expected to strike anything quite so rich. He came from Buffalo about two years ago, and has a family to support. He heard of the death of his relative, Silas Ralston, by the merest accident. A few years ago a Glasgow (Scotland) paper advertised for the heirs, and one of the papers chanced to come into his possession. Knowing that some of his grandfather's relatives went to Scotland a great many years ago from the North of Scotland, where his people lived, he was struck with the idea that they must be related to his family, as no other Ralston lived in Scotland. He, therefore, communicated the fact to his uncle, James Halston, of Petrolia, Canada, who began an investigation, sending a man to Scotland and Ireland to look the matter up. This man never returned, and thus the matter rested. He says he is positive that the deceased millionaire's father was his great-grandfather, and that in due course of time the property will fall into his own and his aunt's hands. Mr. Ralston said he was born in Newry, Ireland, and came to this country about 15 years ago. He married and lived at various places, where over fortune took him. The estate has been in the custody of a trustee for 10 years, ever since the relative died. He is a distant relative of Ralston, the California banker who committed suicide five or six years ago. He had had luck, and as his relatives were all wealthy he drifted off from them and gradually lost track of them all. He is quite a coincidence that only a week ago he wrote a letter to his aunt, who is now looking for him, asking her what had ever become of his uncle's great fortune. It seems that the rich relative made a very peculiar will, and that all his property was divided into two portions mentioned, but it was not to revert to them until the expiration of a certain time. Ralston is very much elated and will in a short time start for Glasgow to claim his share of the great fortune. From what he knew of the matter previous to the receipt of the aunt's letter he feels there is no doubt but that he will get his share without the least trouble.

We walk in the midst of secrets, we are encompassed with mysteries, but it is an open secret that there is no remedy in the world so wonderful as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for coughs and colds.
