CONRAD BUCHER.

His Praises Told in Song.

[Rev. John Conrad Bucher, minister of the Reformed church, was born in the canton of Schaffhausen, Switzerland, June 18, 1730; died at Lebanon, Pa., August 10, 1780. He studied for the ministry at St. Gall, Basel, Goettingen and Marburg; but, about 1755, came to America and entered the British military service. His promotion was rapid, but in 1763 he resigned his commission and became a minister of the gospel. In the following lines in the Guardian Rev. J. H. Dubbs has versified the career of this excellent man:]

We have read full oft of the heroes grand
Who live in the annals of Switzerland;
Of the courage high and the warlike deeds
Of Tell, and Melchthal, and Winkelried;

But in rhyme the story has ne'er been told
Of the little band of Switzers bold
Who across the sea, to its western shore,
The precious faith of their fathers bore.

Names uncouth in the English tongue—
Goetschius, Schlatter—remain unsung:
But as brave were they as the men who fell
On the fields of Urior Appenzell.

Have you read the story of one who came
Across the ocean in quest of fame,
From the place where over the rocky wall,
At grand Schaffhausen, the waters fall?

Have you heard how he wielded his valiant sword,
But laid it aside to serve the Lord?
It was Conrad Bucher! Let me tell
How he served the king and his Maker well.

In the quiet cloisters of old St. Gall
He had heard in his youth his Master's call;
He had sat at the feet of godly men
At the schools of Basel and Goettingen.

But, 'twas said, in the land of the setting sun
There were battles fought and honors won;
And there came a message across the main
That Braddock was beaten at Fort Duquesne.

Could he hear the sound of the rolling drum
That to distant battles bade him come?
Did he heed the music far away,
When he followed the fortunes of bold Bouquet?

Have you read of the German regiment
That was furthest into the forest sent?
How in Summer's heat and Winter's snows
They freed the land from its dusky foes?

There bright in the forest's darkest shade
Was the flash of Bucher's battle-blade,
And the painted chiefs, the legends tell,
Knew the hand that smote them when they fell.

It was when they lingered, to rest awhile,
In the famous barracks of fair Carlisle,
That the soldiers prayed him to preach the Word,
So precious of old time, so long unheard.

For there comes a time in the soldier's life
When he hungers anew for the Bread of life
And he longs, like the scion of Jesse's stem,
To drink of the waters of Bethlehem.

Once more the Master's call had come,
And louder it sounded than fife or drum:
"Renounce thy laurels and sheathe the sword!
Take up thy burden and serve the Lord!"

Ah! where was the soldier's dream of fame?
To his Saviour's altar he humbly came,
And the "Fathers" ordained the captain there,
With benediction and heartfelt prayer.

To his faithful soldiers, at fair Carlisle,
As a Royal Chaplain he preached awhile:
But their work until life's work was done,
He served his Master in Lebanon.

And where'er our ancient churches stand,
From bright Seathra to Maryland,
The hearts of the people were deeply stirred
When his voice like a trumpet blast was heard.

All hail to Bucher! For him, we know,
No drums ate beaten, no bugles blow:
But 'tis well! For he cast his laurels down,
And took up the cross to win the crown.

BOOK NOTICES.

Recent Publications of Merit.

The last issue of Lovell's Library of standard publications is Henry George's "Progress and Poverty," which was one of the literary sensations of the day when it first appeared and stood the test of searching criticism as a unique and vigorous work, introducing to fame a writer and thinker who has displayed as much originality as anyone who in these later days has grappled with the serious questions that he deals with. John W. Lovell company, 14 and 16 Vesey street, New York. Pp. 405. Price, 20 cents, in paper.

"A Hand-book of Literature, English and American, Historical and Critical with Illustrations of the writings of each successive period," by Esther J. Trimble, late professor of literature, State Normal school, West Chester, Pa., is published by Eldridge & Co., No. 17, North Seventh street, Philadelphia, as a text book for use in advanced schools. It is made up mainly of selections for illustrative purposes, with brief facts of interest relating to authors, and in its plan and management seems to be well adapted to direct the attention of scholars to the study of belles lettres and to independent and original criticism of the English classics. Pp. 518, price $1 50.

MEDICAL.

A REMARKABLE DISCOVERY.

[From the Home Journal.]

A REAL SKIN CURE.

THERE IS ONLY ONE

AND THAT WITH SIMPLE NAME.

Beware of impostors, pirates, or any old articles which now suddenly claim to be best. They have been tried and found wanting, while this has been proved a remarkable success.

NO POMPOUS NAME.

This curative needs no pompous or incomprehensible title of Greek or Latin to sustain it, but its simple English name appeals directly to the common sense of the people. And the people are signally manifesting their appreciation of this frankness by selecting and using Dr. Benson's SKIN CURE in preference to all other professed remedies.

Dr. C. W. Benson has long been well known as a successful physician and surgeon, and his life study has been the diseases of the nervous system and of the skin; since he has been persuaded to put his New Remedy and Favorite Prescription as a "Skin Cure" on the market, various things have sprung up into existence, or have woke up from the sleepy state in which they were before, and now claim to be The Great Skin Cure.

☞ Beware of imitations, or the various articles which have been advertised for years or struggled along, having no real hold or merit on the public, that now endeavor to keep head above water by advertising themselves as "The Great Skin Cure." None is genuine and reliable, except Dr. C. W. Benson's Skin Cure. Each package and bottle bears his likeness. Internal and external remedy two bottles in one package. Price, $1.00; get at your druggists.

Relief for all Overworked Brains.

CAUSE AND CURE.

Dr. C. W. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pill are valuable for school children who suffer from nervous headaches caused by an overworked brain in their studies, and for all classes of hard brain workers whose over tasked nervous centres need repair and sedation. Nervous tremor, weakness, and paralysis are being daily cured by the e pills. They correct costiveness, but are not purgative. Price 50 cents, or six bottles for $2.50, postage free, to any address. For sale by all druggists. Depot, Baltimore, Md., where the doctor can be addressed. Letters of inquiry freely answered.

C. N. Crittenton, of New York, is wholesale agent for Dr. C. W. Benson's remedies.
