My grandmother has practically lost her interest in the matter, and the whole thing rested in us young people to push it to the end for our own benefit and for our mother's. The fortune has now been brought down to very narrow confines. This new information is the chering assurance that we have so long watched and waited for, and at last allows the matter to be made public.'

The story of this great fortune is a rather simple one. UNCLE KEMUS AT THE TELEPHONE. The Old Man Somewhat Mystified. Atlanta Constitution.

One night recently, as Uncle Remus' Miss Sally was sitting by the fire sewing and singing softly to herself, she heard the old man come into the back yard and enter the diving room, where a bright fire was still burning in the grate. Everything had been cleared away. The cock had gone and the house girl had disappeared, and the little boy was asleep. Absolutely Accurate peared, and the little boy was asleep. Uncle Remus had many privileges in the house of the daughter of his old mistress and master, and one of these was to warm himself by the dining room fire whenever he felt lonely, especially at night. To the lady there was a whimsical suggestion of pathos in everything the old negro said and did; nevertheless, her attitude toward Uncle Remus was one of bustling criticism and depreciation. By leaning back in her chair a little she could see him as he sat before the fire enjoying the warmth.

"I should think it was time for you to HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT be in bed," she exclaimed. "No'm 'taint," responded Uncle Remus. "I year tell dat wen ole' folks git ter bed soon dey feelin's bin hurted, en goodness knows dey aint nobedy hurted Lancaster Watch

Wanamaker's.

Silk novelties innumerable and indescribable. Everything that ladies or dressmakers have occasion for in matching, decorating, combining. What we are remarkable for, more than for anything else in silks, is variety; or, at least, we are reputed so. You hear it said by everybody: "If you want to match anything, or find a rare silk, even an unexpectable one, go to Wanamaker's."

The other peculiarity that everybody expects to find here is less pleasant to speak of: lower prices. We put it second, because there are people who don't credit us with lower prices. Still, we imagine that if one should assert the contrary, almost everybody in Philadelphia would believe it.

Oftener we speak of other aspects of our trade; aspects less obvious or less recognized. It is well occasionally to give old news.

Warm skirts for ladies, and eggings for ladies, girls and little girls. The warm skirts are satin, satin-and-cloth, satin-andfelt, satin-and-Italian-cloth, and Italian, all quilted; cloth, flannel and felt prettily trimmed, not quilted, warm enough without. The leggings are all sorts; one very useful and fairly pretty sort, woven, at two-thirds value,

25 to 65 cents. Furs have to be thought of. We're busy enough as to making. If we advertise at all, we ought to say what will not oppress us with too much making. Perhaps thisit is. A great many seal coats and fur-lined circulars are ready-made. More sizes are ready-made here than anybody expects; especially the unexpected sizes. Ready-made work we can make in July. Why shouldn't we make all the
