MRS. QUINN'S TRIPLETS.

How Nicetown's Population is Augmented Philadelphia Record. Charles Quint, a workman employed at the Midvale steel works, Nicetown station, was on Thursday last made the father of a trio of babes-two girls and a boy. Mr. Quinn lives with his wife and (up to this time) three daughters, aged 6, 4 and 2 years, in a neat little brick house on the Old Plank road, between Waynd junction and Nicetown. Mrs. Quinn first gave birth to a girl weighing about four pounds, and an hour later the first baby was provided with a sister of her own weight; while scarcely had the two young ladies given their opening concert before they were followed into the world by a baby brother weighing six pounds. The birth of the boy involved a very difficult operation, known to the medical profession as "ver sion by the feet," it being necessary to administer ether to the exhausted mother. The scene of the wholesale addition to the population was visited yesterday after noon by a Record reporter. A friend of Mrs. Quinn was in charge of the house, and was ably supported in taking care of the triplets by half-a dozen motherly women, were being exhibited wrapped in little blankets to some neighbors. "The dear little things; ain't they just perfect," said one, and the others cho rused: "See what lovely eyes they have," and such cute little heads," "and such lots of silky hair," "and just look at their pretty little ears," until every possible attraction had been pointed out and commented upon. The youngsters are, indeed, pretty little babies, being well formed and apparently perfectly sound and healthy. So far they have been raised on the bottle. The mother is also doing well. Soon after the birth of the babies their astonished father sent for Father Powers, the rector of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic church, Nicetown, who christened them on the spot, the eldest girl being named Annie, the second Marcella and the boy John.

all of whom vied with each other in lay-

OBITUARY.

Death of an Actor and a Politician Charles R. Thorne, jr., the actor, died at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning after a month's illness at his home, No. 67 Union Square, New York. The illness which caused his confinement was stomachie gout, but the immediate cause of death was hemorrhage of the bowels. He be came unconscious about 7:30 a. m. and did not revive again. His death was in a great measure unexpected, as only the day be fore he was feeling much better than h of his speedy recovery.

Marshal Jewell grew rapidly worse Saturday afternoon. Both lungs were involved in the attack of acute pneumonia. The physicians informed the family that they regarded the case as hopeless and that death was only a question of hours. The governor was conscious. His daughter and her husband, Arthur M. Dodge, of New York, arrived at an early hour in the morning by a special train. Another daughter and her husband, William M. Strong, of Detroit, came by special train from Springfield. Governor Jewell said to the physician : "Doctor, how long does it take?" The doctor inquired what he meant. Governor Jewell replied: "How long does it take for a man to die?" "In your condition, governor, it is a matter of only a few hours." Governor Jewell then said: "All right, doctor," and settled back quietly upon his pitlow and died. Marshall Jewell was born in Wincester, N. H., October 20, 1825. His early days were spent in learning the business of tanner, which business he began in Hart ford, Conn., in 1850, and continued through life. He also gave some attention to telegraphy, and constructed number of lines during the early development of this business. He was always more or less active in politics, and in 1868 was elected governor of Connecticut, serving two years and being elected to a third term in 1872. In 1873 he was appointed minister to Russia, but held that position only a short time, as he returned in 1874 and accepted the position of postmaster general in General Grant's cabinet. It 1880 he was chosen chairman of the Re publican national committee, though the practical management of the campaign was given into other hands.

Popular Everywhere. "Burdane," the French name for Burdock is as popular in France as in America. As an anti-scorbutic, aperient and diuretic it cannot be too highly extolled. REJOICE, REJOICE, " HE IS ALIVE AGAIN." "WAS LOST, BUT

IS FOUND." Under date of July 9, 1832, Mr. E. B. BRIGHT of Windsor Locks, Conn., writes a plain, mod est narrative, which, from its very simplicity, has the true ring o' fine gold. He says: "My father is using Hunt's Remedy and seems to be improving, in fact, he is very much better than he has been for a long time. He has been tapped three times. The first time they got from him sixteen quarts of water. the second time, thirteen quarts, and fully as much more the third time, and he would constantly fill up again every time after he had been tapped until he commenced using Hunt's Remedy, which acted like magic in his case as he began to improve at once, and now his watery accumulation passes away through he secretions naturally, and he has none of that swelling or filling up which was so frement before the functions of the kidneys were restored by the use of Hunt's Remedy the is a well-known citizen of this place, and has always been in business here."

Again he writes, Nov. 27, 1882 :

"I beg most cheerfully and truthfully to state, in regard to Hunt's Remedy, that its use was the saving of my father's life. I spoke to you in my previous letter in regard to his being tapped three times. It is the most remarkable case that has ever been heard of in this section. For a man of his age (sixty years) it is a most remarkable cure. He had been unable to attend to his business more han a year, and was given up by the doctors "The first bottle of Hunt's Remedy that he used gave instant relief. He has used in all seven bottles and continues to use it when ever h. feels drowsy orsluggish, and it affords instant reitet. He is now attending to his regular business and has been for severa months, I am perfectly willing that you should publish this letter, as we thoroughly believe that father's life was saved by using Hunt's Remedy; and these facts given above may be a benefit to others suffering in like manner from diseases or inaction of the Kidneys and Liver," feb9-M, WF&w

FRIENDS AND PATRONS-This may be the last chance to secure the greatest hargains in He wy-Weight WOOLENS ever offered in this city. Remember, I am going to close them out if possible this season. I have handled them out if possible this season. I have handled this class of goods for over 25 years. I am thoroughly familiar with the merits of all the leading makes of cloth in the market and do say I think the F. & H. and Johanny Edrec'ons are superior in finish, more reliable in color and more durable than any cloths produced in the WORLD. Remember, also, I am the only man in this town that has the NERVE to lack these fine, high priced goods. They can only man in this town that has the NERVE to tackle these fine, high priced goods. They can only be had in the larger cities at prices not less than $70 to $75 a suit. I am closing mine out at $40 a suit. I am having a great Boom in Trouserings. I am offering Heavy-Weights from $3.50 to $40 a pair—make a note of this, I have among my line the best English and French patterns, that cannot be had in Philadelphia for less than $15 to $18 a pair. Thanking the public for the kind patronage extended particularly since my great reduction in prices I shall endeavor to give entire satisfaction to all my patrons. Being again able to attend to business, I will superintend every department of the trade personally and will guarantee to secure every one the greatest value for their investment.

All my productions are warranted to be of superior CHARACTER AND TONE from any other house in the trade, having in my employ the best skilled workmen from the city. Unless entirely satisfactory to the customer I will not allow it to go out. Thanking the public for the kind patronage
