A Stout Champion.

The cause of the people against the Standard oil company has found its fit test champion in Franklin B. Gowen, in whose fearlessness, ability and incorruptibility the supremest confidence is felt. Mr. Gowen is so customarily suc cessful in his undertakings that the battle is considered half won when he is in the lead. The reason is that he is always found to be the champion of the truth, as he understands it at least; and his understanding is usually good. There is an irresistible force in virtue that needs but to be let loose to be victorious. The fearless, honest and intelligent spirit have a sure majority in the Senate no who is inspired to vigorously take the side of the truth that he finds crushed to earth drawal, and that this action, signifyis sure to speedily see it rising up under ing his retirement from the dic his feet. Mr. Gowen is often thus re tatorship of Pennsylvania Republiwarded ; and will be again in his present canism, would pave the way to such harundertaking. It is safe to say that there mony in his party here as is necessary to never has been a viler association of men its future success. For some time than is found in the Standard oil com- political circles in this state have been pany. They are conspirators of the mysteriously promised a coming political meanest and darkest complexion. It is sensation, but it is hard to believe not known that they have ever conspired that it is to arrive in this shape. to murder, but they have so well shown Mr. Cameron's resignation at this that they will do anything necessary to time or within a few months would that they will do anything necessary to time or within a few months would senator Hoar anteing up a bright, new their purposes that we are at liberty to ensure Democratic succession to his five dollar gold piece. Mr. Hopkins conclude that if they have not yet killed position-the elect of a Legislature passed out, and after the draw and the any one who stood in the way of their in which the Democrats have a majority betting Senator Cameron took the pot on thieving accumulations it is because on joint ballot. It would cast upon the Hopkins, the Colorado stranger, lost $200 they have not needed to. They Democrats a contest for the position, have obtained the command of so and in a partisan view the Republicans much money by their nefarious might reap some advantages from it practices that they have been able to do commensurate with the loss they would luck. But Mr. Hopkins' ill fortune did not pretty much as they pleased with every-suffer in a reduction of their majority in for the costing five deals, the winnings of one whom they found in their pathway. It was only a question of cash. Everyone, it is said, has his price, and the Standard oil company has prospered under its experience of the truth of this declaration, and under its disposition and ability to avail itself of it.

It seems, however, in its struggle to upset the opposition of the Tidewater Pipe Line company, to have come across an odd lot of men. The secretary of the concern they succeeded in purchasing, but President Benson they do not seem to have been so successful with. They claim, in their affidavits pro duced in the present litigation before Judge Church at Meadville, that Berson offered to sell out the Tidewater stock to them, but that they virtuously refused to buy. Benson swears, however, that it was just the other way ; they offered and he refused. They proposed to give him a great price for his stock and a salary of $25,000 a year as president of the Tidewater concern. The probabilities are strongly in favor of Mr. Benson's telling the truth ; the only thing against it is the general distrust of man's incorruptibility when strongly tempted. But this makes as strongly against the Standard people; since they ardently desired to get rid of the correctness of the information that Mr. the Tidewater opposition, and it is Robert A. Packer has died in Florida. not credible that they would refuse The universal grief which the confirmathem its stock. They never have failed his friends is in slight measure assuaged to buy out opposition. They are as sure by the news that loving hands were near purchasers of rival concerns as is the to perform the last sad ministrations of Western Union telegraph company. affection. Moreover, Mr. Benson's reputation for veracity and honesty is good ; while that of the Standard corporation officials could not be worse. No jury could be found to credit their oath when their interests were involved. It is a corporation so obnoxious to the sense of the people different subjects are discussed as meriof Pennsylvania that the belief is universal that its members should be in the penitentiary. Mr. Gowen has the warm feeling of the people behind him in his attack upon it. He starts out with the popular verdict with him. The Standard oil com pany is adjudged a common nuisance. It is an impudent foreign corporation that has fastened itself as a leech upon the productiveness of the state, and that has been allowed by the corruptibility and supineness of Pennsylvania officials to destroy the oil business of the state and to smother the enterprise of its citizens. Away with it !

until 1886. There is no good reason why an apportionment should not be made and if, as has been threatened by high Republican authorities, that party proposes to resist any attempt to improve the present legislative apportionment it may be well to give them an early intimation that the Democrats can be as stubborn for the right as the opposition for the wrong. The governor has power to call the Legislature into special session as often as it shall adjourn with out doing its plain constitutional duty.

THE rumors of Senator Cameron's resignation are again revived and in smoked cigarettes and recounted literary proof of the probabilities of such a step Balzac until finally Senator Hoar proposed are cited the facts that he is in very ill a small game. Mr. Hopkins, the pale, health and discontented with his politi, slim gentleman from Colorado, confessed cal situation, that as his party will soon to knowing very little about poker, but nose. On the night of March 2, 1883, Senator Edmunds entertained a select party of friends at his rooms on K street in Washington. The guests were Senators Tabor, Hoar. Sherman, Cameron, Logan, Ingalls and Beck, and a pale, slim gentleman whom Senator Tabor introduced as a Mr. Hopkins, of Colorado. This genial party sat around the stove and sipped wine, reminiscences of Rabelais, Boccaccio and sitting in with them, and he was too much of a gentleman to hold out. Ac cordingly, when the group arranged themselves around the table, it was in the
