Keep the Gutters Upened.

Street Commissioner Levan would stand a better chance of re election if he would see that the gutters are kept open and the crossings in a passable condition. There is an ordinance that requires people to keep the gutters open in front of their residences, and it is a part of the street commissioner's duty to see that it is done. The gutters and sidewalks in East Vine street especially are in bad condition. A flood of water comes down Rockland street. overflows the crossings and sidewalks, and renders them almost impassable. The crossings at Duke and Vine are among the worst in the city.

A Complicated Case Wm. Smedley was arrested some time ago in Columbia for adultery. The case was arranged in some way and Smedley went to Wilmington. The news came to the authorities here that the case had been settled, and an attachment was issued for Smedley. Sheriff High procured a requisition and went to Wilmington for him. He was not there, and to-day Depu ty Sheriff Strine went to Columbia for him. He arrested him, but upon finding that he had given bail to answer the charge at court, released him.

THE LEGISLATURE.

THE HAND BOOK STEAL REATEN. form Triumphant at a Saturday Se Bills to Proceet Liverymen—Do-tors of Both Schools in the Board of Realth.

Special Dispatch to the INTELLIGRECE HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 24.—In the Senate the bill to require school director to purchase text books for children was negatively reported. Waters' military bill reducing the governor's staff was favorably reported. Shearer, of Berks, introduced a bill to give that county a separate orphans court. The state board of health bill was amended so as to give the governor the power to appoint as members of it physicians from allopathic and homepathic schools and laid over for third reading. The bill providing for the distribution of unclaimed bodies for dissecting purposes was among a number which passed second reading.

The House Proceedings. In the House the following were among the bills favorably reported: Fixing the license fee of bottlers of malt liquors at fifty dollars; exempting building and loan associations from taxation; fixing the license fee of livery and exchange stables at twenty five dollars and providing for the punishment of persons who injure the property of livery men; requiring goods manufactured by convicts to be branded Mr. Landis offered a resolution which was laid over, that the bill to prevent political parties, or their agents, from paying poll tax, be placed on the calendar, it having been negatived in committee. The bill to print ten thousand copies of Smull's hand book, for use of the legislators, was defeated—yeas 68, nays 75. A message was received from the governor vetoing the Lackawanna county poor director act, on the ground that it prepared special legislation under the guise of a general bill. Both Houses adjourned until Monday evening.

Legislative Measures Introduced. A bill was introduced into the House to-day repealing a former act which provides that the costs to prothonotaries and sheriffs in cities of the second class shall not be paid until the claim of the city and costs shall be realized out of the real es tate as bought in and held for use of the city. Among the bills introduced in the Senate was one to prevent minors fre quenting billiard halls. The act relating

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. -The Senate after transacting some important routine business, at 10:40 went into executive session, and when the doors re opened took up the legislative appropriation bill. Bills Passed in the House,

The first hour in the House to-day was occupied in calling up bills for passage under the pound rule. Among the bills the rule, and were not considered at the expiration of the hour. The consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill was proceeded with. The amendment granting $5,000 each to heirs of the late Representatives Herron, of Louisiana, and Updegraff, of Ohio, was stricken out and the bill then passed.

Page (California) gave notice that he would on Monday next move that the House go into committee of the whole on the river and harbor bill.

The Wreck of the Ashnelet. A cablegram from Rear Admiral Clitz, requests instructions as to the disposal of the Ashpelot and her officers and crew. He reports $5,000 in the safe on the vessel, but operations are impossible except by wreckage. He gives no further particulars.

PRO . WILKESBARRE.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 24.—The river here has fallen to 14 feet above low water mark, and travel has been resumed on the west side of the river. Dennis Malley, of Shickshinny, has been held by the coroner's jury as the real murderer of John Briggs, and he has been imprisoned. Six others who have been implicated, and who are now in jail, are to be released on bail.

THREATENING LETTERS.

Fixing Things to Blow Up the Czar. ST.
