oluntary Tributes of Gratitude for Benefits

DEAR SIR,-Please allow me the privilege of giving my testimony regarding the wonderful curative properties of your invaluable medi-cine, Hunt's Remedy. During the past six or seven years I have been a great sufferer from Kidney disease, and during a great part of the time my sufferings have been in tense as to be indescribable. Only those who have suffered by this dread disease know of the awful backsche, and pains of all kinds, accompanied by great weakness and nervous prostration, loss of force and ambition which invariably attend it. I had all these troubles intensified, and was in such a bad condition that I could not get up out of my chair except by putting my hands on my knees, and almost rolling out before I could straighten up. I tried the best doctors, and many kinds of medicines, but all failed to help me and I experimented so longendeavoring to get cured that last spring I was in very poor shape, and in seeking for relief my attention was directed by a friend to the remarkable cures of Kidney diseases, etc., which were being accomplished by Hunt's Remedy. I was induced to try it and began to take it, and very soon "limbered ur " as it were; my severe backache and the intense pains I had suffered so long speedily disap-peared, notwithstanding I had been bothered with this complaint so many years. When I began to take Hunt's Remedy I was considerably run down in general health and suffered also from loss of appetite. Ever since I have been taking the Remedy, however, my improvement has been most marked; my former complaints, aches, pains, etc., have disappeared, and I now feel like my former self, hale, hearty and sound in health. I shall always keep Hunt's Remedy with me, and would most earnestly recommend all hose who are sufferers from Kidney or Liver dis-Cases, or diseases of the Bladder or Urinary Organs to use Hunt's Remedy, and take no

WHAT BEGINS AND ENDS THE WEEK.

The Terrible Voyage of the America Line Steamer Ohio-A Third Officer Washed Ashere.

The belated steamer Ohio, of the American line, arrived at Queen street wharf, Philadelphia, Saturday at half-past twelve o'clock to the great relief of many anxious friends of those on board, after one of the roughest passages ever made by an American line steamer. The vessel was compelled to battle with adverse winds and heavy seas from her departure from Liverpool, February 2, and during almost

On the evening of the 13th, at seven minutes past eight, a heavy gale struck her. It was accompanied by a blinding mist, during which Charles Worth, the third officer, was washed overboard and lost. The night was so dark that nothing could be seen of him. The fourth officer, William H. Ferguson, had been on the watch until five minutes past eight, when he was relieved by Worth, who remarked to him what a bad storm they would likely have during the night. A moment after Ferguson went to the cabin, Captain Morrison, who was in the pilot house, saw the gale coming and called to the officers to come inside, but he had scarcely spoken when a heavy sea struck the steamer and she was thrown on her port side, then back on to the starboard side and back again to the port side. It was shortly afterward discovered that the smoke stack had been washed away and that Lieutenant Worth, who when last seen was stand ing under the stack, had disappeared. If made any outcry it was not heard above the roaring of the sea. this sea struck the steamer but a few moments before, while the watch was being relieved, it is probable that all the officers on board would have been washed away. The water poured into the cabin and steerage, causing panic among the pas-sengers in the latter place, many of whom rushed up on deck, but were not able to stay there because of the fury of the gale. At one time there were two feet of water in the cabins and three feet in the hold, slightly impairing the working of the engines. Besides the stack all the lifeboats except two aft boats, were carried away and the davits all badly damaged. The repairs will cost $2,500. On the morning of the 14th the storm began to abate and grew less violent until the 18th, when it ceased altogether. The Ohio brought over thirteen cabin passengers and one hundred and two steerage passengers. The officers of the Ohio say, with the exception of the lamentable loss of the third officer, the homebound was preferaable to the outbound passage, when the weather was very fair. The reason was ble it was several days' stale. Arriving in Liverpool they emptied their tanks, sorubbed them and filled them with sufficient British water to supply them until their return to Liverpool, some three weeks hence.

DRESSED FOR HIS FUNERAL.

John Speakman's Ghostly Deception That Concealed His Own Death by Suicide. John Speakman, 34 years old, a plumber, residing at 328 East Somerset street, Phildelphia, had been out of work for some time and had a return of the spells of melancholy and insanity which caused his confinement in an insane hospital at Wilmington, Del., a year ago. On Friday he alarmed his wife by informing her on his return from down town that a man had attempted to kill him at Eleventh and Chestnut streets. He then became infuriated but finally quieted when he received a letter asking him to attend a funeral in Delaware county. At half past employ for bad conduct. 9 on Friday night Speakman, whose eyes were glaring wildly, aroused his wife, re-marking: "Get out of bed and go out." A DISPUTED WILL.

George F. Wilson, connected with the Rumford chemical works in Providence, R. I., made a will leaving $500,000 to his daughter Alice. After this they quarreled, 139 North Queen rtreet. but he did not change the will until Janu ary 13th of this year. Six days later he died, and the second will was found, which bequeaths stock in the Rumford which bequeaths stock in the Rumford chemical works, valued at $100,000, to Brown University, and to Dartmouth College stock to the amount of $50,000 These bequests are left in trast, and at the end of five years the college receive the legacies. To Alice, his daughter, he leaves fifty shares of the company's stock leaves fifty shares of the company's stock in trust, she to receive the income only, the cash value being about $25,000. The bulk of his property was left to his sons, George and Ellery, amounting to $300,-000 each, which they can handle at the end of the stipulated five years trust. Alice at once contested the will, alleging that when it was executed her father was not of a sound mind. The will has been ad mitted to probate, but counsel for the daughter gave notice of an appeal to a higher court. During the hearing the re markable fact was sworn to that Mr. Wilson had forbidden the first will to be

The cause of his hasty departure was soon explained by the eash being found $7,000 short. Suspecting that Redmond had engaged in some sort of speculation, inquiries were made at brokers' offices.

After a diligent search it was learned that Redmond carried stock on margins to the extent of $20,000. Mr. Bethune, the cashier, said that the defalcation amounted to nearly $7,000, but the bank had succeeded in recovering about $4,000. Redmond reached Buffalo that evening and was soon followed by a detective. The culprit was traced to a little hotel, and plaus were laid for his arrest, but a clerk in the hotel was told by a thought-less reporter that there was a Toronto detective and a fugitive from the same city in the house. The clerk is a Toronto man and at once became interested. His investigations put Redmond on his guard and the latter fied.

THE CHRISTIANCY ROBBERY.

The Arrest of a Man Who Received the Stolen Jewelry. Upon the affidavit of Colonel William P. Wood, ex-chief of the secret service department, a warrant of arrest for Nathan I. Bennett, of 44 Clinton place, New York, was issued by United States Commissioner Osborne Saturday. Colonel Wood had in his possession a bench warrant issued by Judge Cartter, of Washington, upon an indictment found against Bennett as the receiver of the diamonds said to be worth $20,000 from ex-Senator Christiancy in September, 1881. Colonel Wood discovered that a Washington detective, whom Mr. Christiancy employed in his divorce proceedings, knew of the possession of the jewels. They were most of them family treasures, committed to the custody of Mr. Christiancy while he was United States minister to Peru by residents of that country who feared pillage during the war with Chili. Colonel Wood says he learned that the detective referred to had introduced a man into Mr. Christiancy's room nominally to fix a lock; that this man took the diamonds first to the shop of a Washington man named Donohus and that subsequently the goods were received by the man now arrested, Nathan I. Bennett. Colonel Charles S. Spencer appeared as counsel for Bennett, personally vouched for his good character and asked a postponement of the hearing until Monday. To this Assistant United States District Attorney Fiero assented. Bail could not be taken under the law, which prohibits it until after the case has been passed upon by the United States commis-

Every Day Events. The vicinity of the toll-gate at Salsburg, Allentown, was thrown into excitement on Saturday by a mysterious explosion in the kitchen stove of the Widow Kern, daughtor of John Gross. A short time previous to the explosion Mrs. Kern had filled the stove with cut cordwood taken from a large woodpile near the house. The report was very loud and the stove was blown to pieces. Mrs. Kern was struck in the face and body by the flying pieces. She was severely burned. It is said that a piece of wood loaded with powder had been thrown on the pile from which the family obtained its supply, and the act is laid to a German boy, aged fourteen, who was recently discharged from Mrs. Kern's Address Correspondence to
