FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 2, 1888,

MILEYS PLEA FOR THE QUESTIDORE [During the debate on the tariff bill the her day, Mr. Brewer, the potter from New racy, implored the House to vote increased stection for his crockery, samples of which se tossed about the hall like a Japanese juger. At the conclusion of this extraor splay, two pages carried to Judge Kelley's set an enormous and elaborately ornated vase, made at Green Point, New York. The sides were decorated with massive ad splendid imitations of roses, tulips and ies. With one arm tenderly embracing the royal cuspidore, the venerable doctrinaire cald with impressive solemnity: "Here is fifty cents worth of American clay and seven ty-four dollars worth of American labor. To this has your protective tariff brought this

THE FRECKLED-FACED GIKL. How She Entertained a Visitor While Her Ma Was Dressing. Boston Globe.

"Ma's up stairs changing her dress," said the freckled faced little girl, tying her doll's bonnet strings and casting her eye about for a tidy large enough to serve as a shawl for that double jointed young person.

"Oh, your mother needn't dress up for me," replied the female agent of the missionary society, taking a self-satisfied view of herself in the mirror. "Run up and tell her to come down just as she is in her every day clothes, and not stand on ceredevery day clothes, and not clothes day clothes are considered to consider day clothes. sionary society, taking a self-satisfied view every day clothes, and not stand on cere-"O, but she hasn't got on her every-day clothes. Ma was all dressed up in her new brown silk dress, 'cause she expected Miss Dimmond to day. Miss Dimmond always comes over here to show off her nice things, and ma doesn't mean to get left. When ma saw you coming she said, 'the dickens!' and I guess she was mad about something. Ma said if you saw her new dress she'd have to hear all about the poor heathen, who don't have silk, and you'd ask her for more money to buy hymn books to send 'em. Say, do the nigger ladies use hymn-book leaves to do their hair up on and make it frizzy? Ma says she guesses that's all the good the books do 'em, if they ever get any books. I wish my doll was a heathen."

Why, you wicked little girl, what do you want of a heathen doll ?" inquired the missionary lady, making a mental inven-tory of the new things in the parlor to get material for a homily or worldly extrava-

"So folks would send her lots of nice things to wear and feel sorry to have her going about naked. Then she'd have hair to frizz, and I want a doll with truly hair and eyes that roll up like Deacon Sliderbach's when he says amen on Sunday. I a'n't a wicked girl either, 'cause Uncle Dick—you know Uncle Dick, he's been out West and swears awful and smokes in the house—he says I'm a holy terror and he hopes I'll be an angel pretty soon. Ma'll be down in a minute, so you needn't take your cloak off. She said she'd box my ears if I asked you to. Ma's putting on that old dress that she had last year, cause she said she didn't want you to think she was able to give much this time and she needed a new muff worse than the queen of the cannon ball islands needed religion. Uncle Dick says you oughter go to the islands, 'cause you'd be safe there, and the natifs'd be sorry they was such sinners anybody would send you to 'em. He says he never seen a heathe hungry enough to eat you, 'less 'twas a blind one, an' you'd set a blind pagan' teeth on edge so he'd never hanker after any more missionary. Uncle Dick's awful funny and makes pa and ma die laughing

"Your Uncle Richard is a bad, depraved wretch, and ought to have remained out West, where his style is appreciated. He sets a horrid example for little girls like you."

'Oh, I think he's nice. He showed me how to slide down the bannisters, and he's teaching me to whistle when ma ain't round. That's a pretty cloak you've got, ain't it? Do you buy all your good clothes with missionary money? Ma says

Just then the freckle-faced little girl's ma came into the parlor and kissed the missionary lady on the cheek and said she was delighted to see her, and they pro-ceeded to have a real sociable chat. The little girl's ma can't understand why a person who professes to be so charitable as the missionary agent does should go right over to Miss Dimmond's and say right over to Miss Dimmond's and say such ill natured things as she did, and she thinks the missionary is a double-faced to River Sand, for sale.
