OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Events Along the Susquehanna—Items of Interest in and Around the Borough Picked up by the Intelli- gencer's Reporter.

Mr. Thomas Lundy's residence, on North Locust street, was the scene of a pleasant and successful social event last evening, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of his daughter, Miss Janie. The party was an entire surprise to the lady, the guests having first assembled at the residence of Mr. W. K. Nowlen, on Walnut street, and then marched in a body to their destination.

Mr. F. D. Sooty, who has a contract for furnishing poles for the Pennsylvania telegraph company, received orders yesterday to deliver poles for thirty miles of wire in Lancaster and Lebanon counties. The points connected will be Lancaster, Litzitz, Elizabethtown, Manheim, Ephrata and Lincoln.

When James C. Biggs, clerk for B. Street, tobacco packer, returned from dinner yesterday he was informed by the friendly demonstrations of the warehouse men, who, through their foreman, B. Maguire, presented him with a pair of gold mounted eye glasses, which were received in a feeling manner.

Two pigeons, one of which was a carrier pigeon, were shot yesterday afternoon by two boys. Two of the birds were captured and taken to Columbia, where they were received by their owner, and the others will doubtless be forthcoming also, as the boys will fear arrest since their theft has been discovered.

Six young "swells" were ejected from the E. E. Luthman theatre, on Monday evening for misconduct. One amused himself and annoyed those near him by playing a mouth organ. All had been drinking, which may account for their behavior. They adjourned to the Methodist church, where their conduct was also reprehensible, but they returned to the theatre, and remained until the end of the service.

The "Columbia" fire company and apparatus promptly took passage for Middletown upon the call yesterday, but at the block station at Columbia the train was signalled to return to Columbia, as the fire was under control. The run from Columbia to Collins had been made in 17 minutes, the distance being 14 miles. The ride was a wild one, and was anything but enjoyed by some of those on board the train. The firemen were disappointed at not being allowed to proceed, and the train returned to Columbia at 2:30 p. m.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAR. 13, 1883.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS.

PROGRESS OF THE DUKES-NUTT TRIAL. A Son of the Murdered Man on the Witness Stand—The Letters of Dukes Read in the Court Room and Create a Sensation.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 13.—When the Dukes-Nutt murder trial was resumed this morning, Joseph Nutt, son of the deceased, was put on the stand to prove that he had seen Dukes drop an anonymous letter reflecting on his sister, in the road near his father's house. This evidence was ruled out. The letters Dukes had written to Captain Nutt were then offered in evidence, and notwithstanding the strenuous protests of the defense, were admitted. They were read to the jury by Mr. Playford and created a profound sensation in the court room. In point of infamy they were fully up to the expectations. Dukes acknowledged unhesitatingly that he had enjoyed illicit intercourse with Capt. Nutt's daughter, and gives alleged town rumors affecting her character.
