At Memphis the river last night showed line of five inches for the past twentyour hours. It now marks thirty-three feet ten inches on the gauge, which is a otal decline of twenty-two inches. Farm-

Benator Blair, in an open letter at Portsmouth, N. H., denies the newspaper reports that he has combined his forces with those of Rollins in the senatorial contest in that state, and declares he never will favor an alliance nor make a combination with any candidate. While acfight for re-election.

At 8 o'clock Thursday night, about a mile above Lewisport, Ind, the steamer Enquirer, going up the river, collided with the Dory Cabler, coming down, striking her just forward of the fire doors She sank to the boiler deck in about four minutes, when she took fire in the ladies' cabin and her upper works were burned to the water edge. Everybody on board caped and were taken to Lewisport by the Enquirer. It was the crossing of signals by the Enquirer that caused the FRENCH FANCIES IN GOWNS. of Snowdrop Satin. New York Evening Post.

Among some unusually elegant Parision dresses made by Worth and Grauge and Magenties and designed for some brilliant festivities following closely upon Easter week, are several velvet robes, one of palest green with court train, drapings of a magnificent pattern of duchesse lace and petticoat of white satin embroidered with sweat-pea blossoms and vines. Another is of delicately tinted mauve velvet, with a superb network of white silk chenille and pearl beads draped in a shawl point ross the front. In other materials a dress of pale canary satin is made in Watteau style, with the double box-pleat carried to the left shoulder, from which it falls unconfined and mingles with the bouffant drapery in the back. Soft sheeny nun's gray seems to be a very fashionable hue, as costumes of this shade are shown in Ottoman silk, satin broche, moire cashmere and tulle, the latter being made up over silver gray satin with trimmings of cream white lace and pink roses for garniture for young ladies and with costly black lace for their elders.

Toilets of white and gold is another French fancy. An exquisite toilet in this combination is of snow drop white satin figured with tiny golden butterflies p r h-ed on half-opened roses of gold. The bodice and train are of brocade with panels on each side reaching from the hips to ruching on the under-dress; these are lined with pale gold satin, and from underneath the panels are brought scarfs of white Venetian lace, which are caught together with pearl clasps, the wide ends falling over the tablier of white satin which forms the front of the skirt and is laid in flat kiltings.

A RECREANT HUSBAND.

A loung Jewess in Search of Her Missing Partner. Mrs. Lasar Arnowitz, a young Jewess, asked the New York police yesterday to look for her husband, and told a strange story to Superintendent Walling. She was married at Tilsit, in Eastern Prussia, in 1877, and has one child, a girl. Her husband was a cabinet maker, and in 1880 he came to America penniless, but by peddling he accumulated enough money to pay her passage over a year later. They went to Minneapolis and St. Paul, and eight weeks ago, when she thought they were on the high road to fortune, her husband took $3,000 and her jewelry and left her, saying he was going to Stillwater on important business. Two weeks ago, at Minneapolis, the Rev. Morris Fredman, of St. Paul, served on her a notice to show cause why a decree of divorce should not be issued against her before the Rev. J. L. Siskind, rabbi of the congregation Mikre Thora, No. 521 Eldridge street, New York. She came there and learned that her husband had taken up with another woman and proposed going to Australia with her. She has been unable to find him. She is now with a family named Polandsky, at No. 40 Division street. The police can do nothing for her, and her sole remedy is in a criminal suit for abandonment.

Silly Students. About a week ago a dispute arose between two students of Columbia college, New. Charles M. Smith, of 316 West Twenty-third street, and Robert Mahan. of 108 West Forty-fifth street. The lie was given and the insulted man struck his opponent. Mahan was the man struck and he immediately sent J. W. Belline and Mateo Tajordo, two friends, with a challenge to Smith. The latter accepted and med Charles Cross and Wm. Alcott as his seconds. The challenge was to fight with swords, but Smith objected and demanded pistols. This was agreed to yestermanded pistols. This was agreed to yester-day and a little island on Long Island sound named as the time and place of meeting. By some means, Domingo Par-rozo, a mutual friend, learned of what was to take place and informed police Captain Chinchey, who arrested all the bloody thirsty party, except Smith. In court they were held in $1,000 bail.

Editor of Evening Press:-

DEAR SIR,—Feeling deeply grateful for the great benefits which I have received from the ise of a very valuable article which has its origin and home in our beautiful city, and hoping that others who are afflicted as I have been may find like relief from its use, I beg the indulgence of a tew lines in your valuable paper for the privilege of communicating to you a brief statement of facts, for the benefit of the multitude of sufferers to be met with on every side. Many of my friends well know that I have been very severely afflicted with heart disease for a number of years, and have suffered from it as only those can suffer who have that disease; it reduced my strength so low that I could scarcely walk across my room and the least exertion rendered me so shortbreathed that I dared scarcely move, and life seemed very burdensome. I was treated for my malady by the best physicians, and derived no benefit from their treatment or prescriptions until I was advised by my family physician to use Hunt's Remedy, as my trouble was caused by inaction of my kidneys, which affected very seriously the action of my heart. I com menced taking it (having little faith in it or any other medicine), and it has helped me wonderfully, and I am now a, great deal better, and have been ever since I began its use In fact I have taken no medicine that has benfited meso greatly. My breathing is easy, and I have gained in strength so much that I am able to do my housework. I cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy to all who may be
