FRIENDS AND PATRONS—This may be the last chance to secure the greatest bargains in fine Heavy-Weight WOOLENS ever offered in this city. Retrember, I am going to close the outif possible this season. I have handled class of goods for over 25 years. I am foroughly familiar with the merits of all the Acroughly familiar with the merits of all the Leading makes of cloth in the market and do say I think the F. & H. and Johanny Edrecons are superior in finish, more reliable in color and more durable than any cloths produced in the WORLD. Remember, also, I am the only man in this city that has the NERVE to tackle these fine, high priced goods. They can only be had in large cities at prices not less than $70 to $75. I am closing mine out et $40 a suit.

less than $79 to $75. I am closing mine out at $40 a suit.

I am having a great Boom in Trouserings. I am offering Heavy-Weights from $3.50 to $10 a pair—make a note of this, I have among my line the best English and French patterns, that cannot be had in Philadelphia for less than $15 to $18 a pair.

Thanking the public for the kind patronage extended particularly since my great reduction in prices, I shall endeavor to give entire satisfaction to all my patrons. Being again able to attend to business, I will superintend every department of the trade personally and will guarantee to secure to every one the greatest value for their investment. All my productions are warranted to be of superior CHARACTER AND TONE from any other house in the trade, having in my employ the best skilled workmen from the city. Unless entirely satisfactory to the customer I will not allow it to go out.

SIGNIFICANT SPRING.

A Dissertation upon its advent, and its effect upon mankind.

"The green leaf of the new come Spring." Shak. Everybody recognizes spring, when it is once upon us, but many persons are not fa-miliar with the exact date of its appearance. Webster, the world-renowned lexicographer gives us a definition, which may not be inappropriate here. "Spring," says he "is the eason of the year when plants begin to vegetate and rise; the vernal season, comprehen ing the months of March, April and May, in the middle latitudes north of the equator."

Thomson, in his "Seasons," and Shakspeare in many of his works, have, perhaps, no peers in describing it, and yet "otherial spring" is freighted with malaria, "that insidious toe, lurking unseen in the very air we breathe.' It spreads over the fairest portions of our land; brings death and disease to thousands; cuts off scores upon scores of our children and youth, as well as those in advanced life. A pestilence is regarded, with little less apprehension, and reople everywhere are asking, "what is it?" "Where does i come from?" What will cure it?"

Kidney-Wort, as a Spring Medicine When you begin to lose appetite .- have headache, a pain in your side, back, and shoulders;-to toss about at night in restless dreams; -wake in the morning with a foul mouth and furred tongue; -feel disinclined to go about your work, heavy in body and oppressed in mind; -have a fit of the blues,when your urine gets scanty or high-colored; -to suffer with constipation. diarrhoa; or indigestion; -have a pasty, sallow face, dull eyes, and a blotched skin, -one or all of these common complaints will certainly be evidences that your liver is disordered, torpid, or perhaps diseased. A bottle of Kidney-Wort is, under such circumstances, a price less boon to such a person.

Bare assertions of proprietors have come to cossess less force than they frequently merit. The cause of this condition of popular skep ticism is, in the main, to be found in the fact that charlatanism covers our broad land. Meritorious articles are too frequently found in bad company.

The proprietors of Kidney-Wort always rove all their assertions, touching the merits of their preparations. When we affirm, therefore, that Kidney Wort is a specific for just such disorders as have been mentioned in this article, the proof, too, belongs to and shall, follow this statement.

A Physicians Experience.

Dr. R. K. Clark, a regular physician of extensive practice in Grand Isle County, and a worthy deacon of the Congregational Church, at South Hero, Vt., has used Kidney-Wort for several years in his practice, and before the present proprietors purchased an interest in it, he had given his unplaced opinion in its favor. This opinion has not changed. " It has done better than any other remedy I have ever waed" says the Doctor, and, further on he writes: "I do not recollect an instance where the patient to whom I have given it has failed to receive benefit from its use, and in some severe cases most decidedly so." These are strong words. They are from a representa citizen, however, and-better still-they are

Kidney-Wort will bear all the enconiums lavished upon it by its friends- and their name is legion. "I will swear by Kidney-Wort all the time," writes Mr. J. B. Kauffman of Lancaster, Pa. We will supplement this by serting, as a matter of fact, and one capable of demonstration, that all honest patrons of Having in my Employ a First-Class this remedy are its friends and advocates. m16-1wdeod&w

Lady Florence has been prostrated. The story of the affair was elicited from her only at intervals. The saving of her life is attributed to her St. Bernard dog, which it is supposed, protected her while she lay in the swoon. Lady Florence had no rea-son to suspect immediate danger although she had been somewhat fearful since the receipt of the letters about the Laud League. The last thing she remembers is one of the men pushing a quantity of mud into her mouth. On her recovery she found that both palms were cut across and her gloves severed. There were two dag-ger holes, two inches apart, in the right breast of her dress. A broad steel corsetrib had been broken by the weapon which had penetrated to the inner lining of her dress at the first stroke and to the corset at the second stroke.

Lady Florence supposes that she unconsciously struggled with the men, assisted by her dog, until the scoundrels were driven off.

PARNELL ON IRELAND.

A time When Friends are Needed—Discussing the Recent Explosions. Mr. Parnell has gone to Paris. A correspondent, before his disappearance, sought Mr. Parnell for the purpose of se curing from him for publication a statement of his views of the present general attack of the English press upon the attitude of the Irish agitation. Mr. Parnell to have children living in Boston or Philawas at first firm in his refusal to speak for delphia, to whom she used to send money publication, because, as he said over and monthly, but there is no positive knowl. over again, "Never did Ireland more need friends in England, and never have the friends of Ireland been so constrained to silence." Being pressed, he said : "I have effects taken away. Among them was a felt compelled to refuse to make any ut trunk that has not yet been opened, and terances concerning these matters to the in which may be found some information English press because, no matter how as to her history. carefully my expressions might be made, my jury would certainly be prejudiced, if it would not be packed. England is not in a mood to listen to anything about Irish affairs that is not condemnatory of the Irish people. "It is the fashion in England now to cry down Ireland. The surest way to British preferment is the doing this well. Christianlty has grown for nearly two thousand years, and in the country which has published the most Bibles it has come to pass that the greatest public favor is the proffered and the guaranteed reward of the English followers of Christ who can invent the most excuses for suppressing the natural rights of the Irish followers of Christ. The Irish Christian takes less Friday fish from the north side of the British channel; the English Christian less from the south. Why should the lrishman be absolutely a slave and the Englishman be his master? Why should the Irishman give up his struggles to be free? After centuries of strife the Irish people reached by wonderful patience and wonderful tact that stage of political success wherein their struggles for liberty were confined to parliamentary efforts. So good was their cause that legislation was than revolutionary reasons for their com

Lady Florence was walking in a secluded spot, near the woods, when the two men asked her what time it was. Much alarmed she started to walk away and a started to w on opening the door he was startled at see-ing the old lady sitting unconscious in her

Coroner Ken-nedy was notified, and on visiting the house, which was a large five-story tenement, found the woman lying on her bed in a small room whose only furniture con-sisted of a stove, a table and a few broken articles of furnitures. On examining the body there were found tied to the dead woman's side two bags, one of them containing about $18 in pennies and ten cent pieces and the other a bank book showing ing a balance to her credit in the Bleecker Street Savings bank of over $6,000. The first deposit had been made over fifteen years ago and the various sums deposited ranged in amount from $20 to $100, and there was one made on January 1, 1882, of $1,000. Very few drafts had been made on the account.

But little was known of the woman throughout the house, as she had consistently kept away from her neighbors. Though always pleasant in manner when addressed, she had still managed to make it evident that she wished to keep entirely by herself. For years she had kept a news-stand, corner of Broadway and Maiden lane, where, during all manner of weather, she could be found, morning and evening, industriously selling her papers. The room in which she lived was always kept neat clean, and it is asserted by those who know her best that she lived well and always treated herself to the best of food. She is believed to have been a widow and edge at present on any of these points.

Coroner Kennedy notified the Public Administrator, who had the deceased woman's

Mr. Dawler has been in the drug business in the city of Providence twenty-five years as clerk and proprietor in good standing, and knows whereof he affirms.—ED. Mr. D. says : "For many years I have suffered, intensely at times, with what is generally called rheumatism. When first attacked I was confined to my bed and could not walk a step. I could not bear the weight of the bed-clothes so exeruciating was the agony I endured. I always noticed that before these attacks came on my kidneys were affected; before there would be any pain in my limbs or any swelling of joints or limbs, the color of the score-tions from the kidneys would be very dark and the odor strong and feverish. The last attack was very severe, about five years ago, and I was confined to the house several weeks and was unable to attend to business in three months. During the time I was confined at ome and the time of my convalescence I mployed four of the best doctors that I could obtain, but none of them gave me permanent reliet, for they did not go to work at the cause of the trouble. Having been ac quainted with the proprietor of Hunt's Rem-edy a long time I was induced by him to give it trial, hoping that it might reach the seat of the disease : and after taking one bottle found myself very much improved, and after aking the second I was feeling better than I had after any previous attacks. During many months previous to taking the Remedy my hands and fingers would be much swollen and stiff every morning; my lett side, in the region of stomach and spleen, was very lame and sensitive; at times I would be taken with severe cramps over the spleen, and be obliged to apply mustard or cayenne for temporary relief; I was very nervous nights and could not sleep; I was obliged to be very particular not sleep; I was obliged to be very particular in my diet, and my physi al system was sadly demoralized. Since I have taken Hunt's Remedy systematically all these things have changed; I have no swollen hands or limbs, no pains or cramps in the side, can eat all kinds of food, sleep soundly and get thoroughly rested, and my kidneys are active and perform their functions promptly, thus taking out of the system all the poisonous secretions which contaminate the whole system where the kidneys do not act efficiently. My friends, what Hunt's Remedy has done for me it will co for all of you. I believe it to be the only sure cure for all diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, and Urinary organs.

NOTIOE TO TRESPASSERS AND GUN-NERS.—All persons are hereby forbidden to trespass on any of the lands of the Corn-wall or Speedwell estates, in Lebanon and Lancaster counties, whether inclosed or unsecured giving the Irish peasantry some rights on their native soil. So prudent were these peasants in the enjoyment of the fruits of their hard toil that malice was for the time foiled, and since the period of the ministry's concessions no unlawful act has been or can be brought home to the real Irish party. If crimes have been committed in Ireland, so have crimes been committed elsewhere. But in Ireland everything done by persons not in office must be done by Irishmen, and if the acts are criminal it seems nearly impossible for Englishmen to assign other under judicial investigation in Ireland so long as the courts of justice have them in charge, but I do protest against the uncivilized injustice shown by the English press toward the people of Ireland since the recent explosions. The explosions occurred at 9 o'clock at night, the one at the government buildings doing some £4,000 damage and the one at the Times building doing little, if any. The police and military were at once put in possession and all opportunity for an impartial investigation shut off. If the London press were conducted as the American press is, scores of expert writers would have at once investigated the explosions on the spot and undoubtedly fully explained them in all the public prints next day. But secrecy and mystery were secured, which naturally surrounded the affairs with great portent. Next day the London press, without exception, without investigation, without reason, charged both explosions upon the lrish party, describing them as diabolical plots to punish and intimidate the govern-ment. Fair reportorial invertigation might have shown that' the explosion at the government buildings was caused by gas and that the one at the Times building was caused by any one of a thousand persons who imagined themselves aggrieved.

"I tell you, notwithstanding a'l the troubles of the Irish people, there is to day as much bitter woe in England and Scotland and as much bitter hostility among the poor and idle of both countries against those lodged in power as there ever was in Ireland. The Irish are struggling for fair politics. They are accus tomed to being hungry and ill housed and clad, and are not murmuring on that account.
