Freight Trains Runnin; Around the City. The new line of railroad above the city, which has been in course of construction for a year past, was connected with the main line vesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This branch is over two miles in length, running from the Big Conestoga creek, east of the city, to the Little Conestoga, west of Dillerville. It is as straight as an arrow, and is one of the best pieces of road owned by the company. There are three tracks, but only two of them are entirely finished. The third will be ready shortly. The New Holland, Man-heim and Lititz turnpikes cross the branch on handsome and substantial iron bridges with two roadways each. Along the line of the road the railroad company owns considerable property, on which they will probably erect warehouses and other buildings so that the Additional switch tenders will be put on at Dillerville, as well as at the eastern end of the branch. In a short time the switches at Dillerville will be worked by men stationed in the tower with wires Amos A. Team Recovered.

The horse and buggy belonging to Jas. Swayne, which were taken on Friday and not returned, were recovered at New Providence this morning. Cyrus H. Col vin, proprietor of the City hotel livery stable, went down to that village on business this morning and he noticed a team standing in front of the hotel. He identi fied it at once as being the property of Mr. Swayne, as he himself had owned the horse at one time. The man who had the team quickly discovered that Mr. Colvin was from Lancaster and took to his heels, making his escape. Mr. Colvin being lame in one of his legs, from an injury, was unable to follow him, and none of the other men standing around seemed inclined to. It appears that a man named Burke, who thought that he knew the team had stopped the tellow at the hotel. Mr. Colvin brought the property to this city and turned it over to Mr. Swayne. The fellow who had the horse is a resident of that neighborhood and is said to be simple

A Missing Man for Whose Children a *mai Estate is Searching. The following letter received by Mr Slough, of the Black Horse hotel, is published in the hope that it may lead to information of the party for whom it makes inquiry:

Et. Louis, March, 16, 1883.

To the Proprietor of the Black Horse Hotel, Lancaster, Pa:

DEAR SIR.—Will you have the kindness to inform me if you know anything of the present whereabouts of a man by the name of William Hein, a native of Switzerland? The last address he gave his folks at home was your house. Whether he worked in it or boarded there we do not know.

He has left some children behind him that are now of age. In consequence of a death in the family they have become heirs to a small estate. This cannot be divided unless it is found out if the man is alive or dead yet. I am, therefore, directed by our government to gather all the information I can in regard to him.

Hein was born in 1828, lived in Lancaster for some time; the last letter he wrote home was written from your city in 1877. He came to this country about 11 years

If you can give me any information about the man you will greatly oblige me. Yours, most respectfully, I. Buff, Swiss Consul. FOURTH AND ELAN STREETS.

Elder D. A. L. Laverty, formerly of ance with the rites of the Church of God, in the Susquehauna river at Harrisburg yesterday. One man, three ladies and four boys announced themselves ready to woman, however, caused some trouble. The people on the bank guessed her weight at two hundred pounds, but it might have been twenty pounds more. It was a task for Elder Laverty, as she nearly fainted on his hands, and he could scarcely hold her during the moment of dipping. Willing hands assisted the lady and men who stood shivering in the sun. Finally another lady entered the current and stood by the elder. It came near being the last time for either of them. The rite of baptism had just been completed when the elder slipped and got into deep water. He went in up to his chin, but held the girl above his head for a full minute before securing another foothold. It seemed an hour to the people on shore, and great excitement ensued. The girl's name is given as Mary White. She was a little more wet than the others when the shore was gained, and it is said caused dispersed, and the baptised were led away in their wet clothes.

"There is no provision in the Divine comomy for political bosses!"
With a bang of his fist, and in the voice of a man who had made up his mind on the subject, Rev. James Chambers, of Calvary Presbyterian church, Harlam, recently opened his sermon with this announcement. He was right. The only boss authorized by the Book is mentioned in these words: "He who raight
his own spirit is greater than he who takets a his own spirit is greater than he who tal

Commonly, the better side of men is subject to the despotism of the worse side Bad passions, bad humors, mean jealonsies and base revenge are all bosses. One of the worst bosses is bile. What is most depressing in philosophical or theological thought is due to it. Old General Debility is another tyrannical boss. He lashes men who are naturally good until they become unnaturally bad or miserably weak.
