FRIENDS AND PATRONS—This may be the last chance to secure the greatest bargains in fine Heavy-Weight WOOLENS ever effered in this city. Remember, I am going to close them out if possible this season. I have handled this class of goods for over 25 years. I am thoroughly familiar with the merits of all the leading makes of cloth in the market and do say I think the F. & H. and Johanny Edrecons are superior in finish, more reliable in color and more durable than any cloths produced in the WORLD. Remember, also, I am the only man in this city that has the NERVE to tackle these fine, high priced goods. They can only be had in large cities at prices not less than $70 to $75. I am closing mine out at $40 a suit. FRIENDS AND PATRONS-This may be the ut at 840 a suft.

I am having a great Boom in Trouserings, I am offering Heavy-Weights from $3.50 to $10 a pair—make a note of this, I have among my line the best English and French patterns, that cannot be had in Philadelphia for less than $15 to $18 a pair.

Thanking the public for the kind patronage extended particularly since my great reduction in prices, I shall endeavor to give entire satisfaction to all my patrons. Being again able to attend to business, I will superintend every department of the trade personally and will guarantee to secure to every one the greatest value for their investment. All my productions are warranted to be of superior CHARACTER AND TONE frem any other house in the trade, having in my employ other house in the trade, having in my employ the best skilled workmen from the city. Un-less entirely satisfactory to the customer I will not allow it to go out.

"Oh, I don't know," responded the first speaker's friend, with a little yawn, as though he didn't take much interest in the subject. I have never been able to see much difference in those things. They are all pretty nearly the same size, and made of about the same stuff." The talk, of which the foregoing is a fragment, took place in Gallatin, Missouri, not long ago, in the snug office of Dr. M. P. Flowers, one of the leading physicians of the state, who followed up the vein in which he had introduced it substantially in these words:

" Nonsense, that is the rigmarole of a boy, or rather of a man who either doesn't know or doesn't care what he says. These things, as you call them, are just as different as the noon is from green cheese. Now, liniments, lotions and ofntments are very good in most cases for the relief of pain and inflammation. But, in the first place, they are unclean. They soil the hands and the linen, besides being always out of reach when they are most "Well, my dear doctor," sighed the traveler from the North, "what would you have? This is a wretched world anyhow, and nothing is ever at hand when it is wanted, You can't suggest anything..." suggest anything—"

"Yes, I can," broke in the doctor, thumping the table with his first. "I can suggest BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER. I nave tried it on my patients, and have tried it on myself for an attack of Neumonia, and in all cases relief has followed in from three to forty-eight hours. The old plasters are stage coaches—the Capcine is a telegraphic dispatch. For instance, in cases of Neuralgia. Muscular Rheumatism. Lumbago, retarded action of the Ridneys, and—"

"I give it up, doctor, and in case of need I'll buy Benson's," said the traveler, pleasantly.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN BOSS. How to Promote Personal Power—A New Radical Reformer.

"There is no provision in the Divine economy for political bosses!"
With a bang of his fist, and in the voice of a man who had made up his mind on the subject, Rev. James Chambers, of Calvary Presbyterian church, Hariam, recently opened his sermon with this announcement. He was right. The only boss authorized by the Book is mentioned in these words: "He who ruleth his own spirit is greater than he who taketh a city."

Commonly, the better side of men is subject to the despotism of the worse side Bad passions, bad humors, mean jealousies and base revenge are all bosses. One of the worst bosses is bile. What is most depressing in philosophical or theological thought is due to it. Old General Debinty is another tyrannical boss. He lashes men who are naturally good until they become unnaturally bad or miserably weak.

EATING HUMAN FLESH

THE TERRIBLE CONFRASION OF MURDERS, Killing Five Men for Meney-Living for Many Days on Flesh Cut From

Their Dead Bodies

Alfred Packer, a long hunted outlaw is safe in jail in Denver. He is charged with Remedies. the murder of five men, and by his own confession he lived for many days by eating human flesh. The crime was committed in the winter of 1873. Packer started to guide to the silver mines of San Juan William Miller, Albert Swan, James Noon, Wm. Bell and Ed. Humphries, a party of Outleura Resolvent, the new blood purifier internally, and Cutieura and Cutieura Scap, the great skin cures, externally, clear the Complexion, cleanse the Skin and Scalp, and purify the Blood of every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Scrofulous, Mercurial and Can cerous Sores, Humors, Ulcers, Swellings, Tumors, Abscesses, Blood Poisons, Scurvy, Salt Rheum, Erystpelas and all other Torturing Disfigurations, Skin Blemishes and Humors of Childhood, when physicians, hospitals and all other means fail. men from Salt Lake. That was the last seet of them alive. In February, 1874, Packer turned up in Los Pinos agency and told a terrible story to General Adams, Indian agent. He said they had started out from Chief Ouray's camp, with provisions for a long journey. Almost be-fore they knew it their food had disapother means fail.

Cuticurs Resolvent operates with energy upon the bowels, liver, kidneys and pores of the skin, purifying the system of all humors and diseases arising from impure blood, inherited weaknesses and mercurial poisons.

Cuticurs, a medicinal jelly, clears off all external evidences of blood, skin and scalp humors, cats away dead skin and fiesh, instantly allays itchings and irritations, softens, soothes and heas. Worth its weight in gold for any itching humor, itching piles and delicate irritations of either sex.

Uniteurs Scap, fragrant with delicious flower odors and healing balsams, contains in a modified form all the virtues of Curicura, and is indispensable in treating skin diseases, in peared and nothing was left but the few rabbits which they might kill with their rifles. These were hard to find, and in a day or two they found themselves on the point of starvation. Roots were dug out of the frozen ground, and on these they subsisted for some days. But roots, as a means of sustenance, were found not to be very nutritious. Soon there came into the eyes of the men a look of longing, restessness and determination which has been described in sea stories, when men modified form all the virtues of Curicura, and is indispensable in treating skin diseases, in fantile and birth humors, rough, chapped or greasy skin, black heads and skin blemishes, and is an exquisite Skin Beautifier.

The Curicura Remedies are the only real curatives for diseases of the skin, scalp and bleod, and may be used from infancy to old sge. Price, Curicura Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Curicura, 50 cts. per box; large boxes, $1. Curicura Soap, 25 cts. Curicura Shaving Soap, 15cts. Sold by all designs. were offered up in sacrifice to save the lives of others. They looked at each other and thought of how their lives might be saved by the flesh and blood of others. One day Packer went out to gather dry wood for the fire, and when he returned he found that in his absence the first life had been sacrified. Lying upon the ground, dead, was the oldest man in the party, Mr. Swan. His skull was fractured and his death had been instantaneous.

A Party of Cannibals. Packer said that he was horrified to see the remaining four men seated about the murdered man engaged in cutting up the body. Large pieces and strips were cut from the calves of the legs, thighs and breasts. Swan's money, amounting to several thousand dollars, was divided among the men. In two days the party was again out of food and it was decided by three of the survivors Miller, a young man, well built and stout, should be the next to go. Packer confessed that Miller was chosen because of the great amount of soft flesh he carried, Miller was killed with a hatchet while stooping for a stick of wood. His body was dissected and the best parts eaten. Humphreys and Noon followed in the same way, leaving only Packer and Bell. In his confession Packer described fully the feelings of the men toward each other-the distrust and fears entertained and the tendency of the men to wander off alone, fearful of meeting with their death at the hands of their companions. Meanwhile the men had been traveling slowly, and when Packer and Bell found themselves alone a solemn compact was entered into between them, each one pledging himself by the living God not to kill the other. One day, however, Bell could stand it no longer and raised his rifle to shoot, but Packer was too quick and killed Bell instead. He cut up the body, packed up as much flesh as he could and resumed his tramp, at last arriving at the agency. He acknowledged that he had grown quite found of human flesh and coolly said that he found the breasts of of the men the sweetest meat he had ever tasted. He had thrown away the last pieces of flesh when near the agency.

The Bodies Found. The men at the agency did not believe this story, and Packer said he would take them to the place. H. F. Lauter, then clerk of the agency, headed an expedition. It was out two weeks and then Packer said he had lost his bearings and could go no further. On the trip he tried to murder Lauter and on the return to the agency he was handcuffed and sent to the sheriff, at Saguache. The handcuffs were rude in construction and Packer had no difficulty est combinations ever produced, and my ex-perience of that sort of thing has been wide vain. The bodies were finally found in June by a photographer, named Reynolds, from Peoria, Ill., in the employ of the Harper Brothers, while sketching along Lake San Christoval, near the present town of Lake City. He came across the remains of the five men lying in a grove of hemlocks. The spot was the same described by Packer as the place where Bell met his death. Four of the bodies were lying together in a row, and the fifth was lying away a short distance with the head completely severed. There were traces of a struggle about Miller, showing that the man had fought hard for his life. An examination showed that all five had been assassinated. Holes made by rifle balls were found in the heads of Bell, Swan, Humphrey and Noon. Miller was clubbed to death, the instrument used being a rifle. which was found near by, broken in two. The four men lying together were undoubtedly asleep at the time. Blankets were found wrapped about two of them. The blankets had been removed from the other two for obvious reasons. Murdered for Money. There was every reason to believe that the men had been murdered for their money. Valuable articles and money. money. which the men were known to posses; had disappeared. An inspection of the bodies showed that Packer had actually been guilty of the revolting crime of cannibalsm. Miller was badly mutilated and the breasts of two other men were cut away, leaving the ribs bare. Two men, those with blankets around them, were untouched. About one hundred yards from where the bodies were found and just outside the grove, a brush cabin was discovered. A beaten path led from the cabin to the spot where the bodies were found. In the cabin were found blankets and other things belonging to the dead men. The indications were that the crime had been committed before the provisions of the party had been used up. After the murders Packer lived for some time in the rude cabin, and when the provisions had given out he fed upon the bodies of his victims. The discovery of the bodies created great excitement. It was remembered that Packer had been very flush with money. An inquest was held and Packer was charged with the murder. When the proper officers went to Saguache to serve a warrant upon him it was learned that only a few days before he had broken jail and made his escape. After Nine Years.

Since then Packer had been a wanderer Last fall he turned up in Wyoming and settled near Fort Fetterman, going under the name of Schwartze. He engaged in ranching and prospecting and his identity was not discovered until a French peddler JOHN SIDES has purchased the entire stock of Hats, Caps and Furs lately belonging to the firm of Shuitz & Bro., fashionable hatters, and now offers them for sale, retail and wholesale, at greatly reduced prices at Nos. 31 and 33 NORTH QUEEN ST., the well-established Hat Store of the late firm of Shuitz & Bro. MES. CARLTON'S MURDERER. The Police on the Track of a Murderer w it is Believed, Dtd the Deed.

Enough has at length been learned to warrant the police in believing that they are well on the track of the murderer of Mrs. Carlton, at Watertown, Mass. A day or two ago two Newton gentle day or two ago two Newton gentlemen described a negro, with a prominent scar on his cheek, whom they met coming from the vicinity of the Carlton house Sunday evening. It has now been learned that a dissolute negro, named Benjamin Page, whose description in detail corresponds with that given of the Watertown tramp and who has since been missing, was an habitual frequenter of Carlton's saloon, at the West End. The negro is described as being capable of any crime, A few days before the murder he told a crony that he was soon to receive a considerable sum of money. He was last seen at West Newton, some four or five miles west of the scene of the murder, and seemed to be headed along the line of the Albany road. He is about thirty years old, five feet nine or ten inches high weighs 155 pounds; smooth face, or nearly so; complexion rather darker than a mulatto, but not black. He has a bluish, angry scar, two and one-half inches long, from the cheek bone down his left cheek. He wore a black slouch hat, dark blue American reefer overcoat. Opinion is divided as to Carlton's complicity. The relatives of Mrs. Carlton offer $3,000 reward in addition to that offered by the
