Surviving a Terrible Dead.

Lockport Journal.

We have heard much lately of Justice Height, of Pennsylvania, living many days after a bullet had been fired into his brain. A more peculiar case is now a resident of this county. George Sinsel, of Newfane, was a private in the Eighth New York heavy artillery. At the charge on the Rebels works on Petersburg, on the 10th day of June, 1864, a minie ball struck him on the head, breaking the skull. The ball divided, part going outside and part going under the skull. For three days he lay on the field and was reported dead. After this time he wandered into a hospital and was treated, the physicians taking out a number of bones from the head. He was then sent to St. Mary's hospital, Rochester. While there he was under the care of Dr. Moore, and on the 23d day of October following Dr. Bradley, the assistant surgeon, took from the unhealed wound piece of rebel lead, which had lain there four months. Now Mr. Sinsel is as well, apparently, though he has a deformed nose, and his eye is still large enough to hide a walnut, and over which there is no skull bone. This case was a wonder to the surgeon at the time it occurred, and a greater wonder to the man himself that he should survive.

The archbishop of Chicago and the bishop of Minnesota have come out with powerful appeals to their Roman Catholic people to sustain the movement for high liquor license.

The Atlanta Constitution thinks that as long as hotel waiters set the fashion in dress suits and negro minstrels in hats our society young men can't go very far wrong.

The largest fruit seller in New Orleans is asking what became of all the cocoanut shells, replied that he sent annually 1,000,000 to New York to be ground into pepper.

The story of mankind in all ages is told in this little aphorism, attributed to a Georgia doctor: "A man that makes a living playing fiddle aint' up to pastor."

M. Fournant has concluded a series of exact experiments upon trichine in meat. He finds that to pack the deceased flesh in salt for fifteen months does not kill the parasites ; mice fed upon the meat die of trichinosis.

The mayor of Jacksonville, Florida, is a Jew. He said to enforce the Sunday law with a degree of strictness that is irksome even to orthodox churchgoers. In Ohio there is a Jewish justice who displays similar strictness in punishing violations of the Sunday law.

A Sunday school teacher, after reading to her class the story of a generous child, asked them what generosity was. One little fellow shook his head vigorously, and on being requested to answer said, "It's giving to others what you don't want yourself."

President Porter, of Yale, told a legislative committee on temperance that he did not believe in prohibition, for it was impracticable in cities. He looked round the room and said, "There is no place where it would be better to prohibit the sale of beer than in Boston."

The British National smoke abatement institution is making arrangements for opening a permanent exhibition in a central part of London for the display of apparatus, fuels, and systems of heating combining economy with the prevention of smoke, and the best methods of ventilation and lighting.

A little 10 year old girl impressed her parents with her juvenile wisdom the other night by wording the following prayer: "Bless the food ; make the baby good ; forgive the sin ; bless everything in the house. We thank you for keeping us through the storm. Keep the baby good. Amen."

Traited horses have shown in England that they are capable of jumping great distances. Chandler cleared 29 feet over a break at Warwick : Calverthorpe, 33 feet over hurdles at Newport Pagnell : King of the Valley, 35 feet over the Wissenden Brook, Leicestershire. Lottery, 34 feet at Liverpool : Peter Smith, 37 feet at Boston.

"Ma, I towled a boy, running into the house and approaching his mother, 'ma, little brother hit me with a stick.' 'Well, I'll whip your little brother,' said mother abstractedly tucking together a pair of stockings she had been darning. 'No, don't whip him. Don't let him have any supper. I whipped him before he hit me.'

Prof. Swing, of Chicago, christened seven children of his congregation at his residence on Easter afternoon.
