The Memories of Youth.

The Christian Advocate says: "Invent every possible amusement to keep your boys happy at home, evenings. Never mind if they do scatter books and pic tures, coats, hats and boots! Never mind if they do make a noise around you, with their whistling and hurrahing! We would stand aghast if we could have a vision of the young men gone to destruction for the very reason that, having cold, disagreeable, dull, stiff firesides at home, they sought amusement elsewhere. The influence of a loving mother or sisters i inealculable. Like the circle formed easting a stone into the water, it goes and on through a man's whole life. cumstances and worldly pleasures may weaken the remembrance for a time, but each touch upon the chord of memory will awaken the old time music, and her face, her voice, and her loving words will come up before him like a revelation.

"The time will come, before you think when you would give the world to have your house tumbled by the dear hands of those very boys; when your heart shall long for the noisy steps in the hall, and their ruddy cheeks laid up to yours; when you would rather have their jolly whistle than the music of Thomas or the songs of Nilsson; when you would gladly dirty carpets, aye, live without carpets at all, but to have their bright, strong forms beside you once more. Then play with and pet them. Praise Johnny's drawing, Betty's music and baby's first attempt at writing his name. Encourage Tom to chep off his stick of wood, and Dick to persevere in making his hen-coop. If one shows a talent for figures, tell him he is your famous mathematician; and if another loves geography, tell him he will be sure to make a good traveler or a forma minister. Go with them to see their young rabbits and chickens and pigcons-and down to the creek-fall to see the flutter-mill in full operation. Have them gather you mosses and grasses and bright autumn leaves, to decorate their room when the snow is over all the earth. And you will keep yourself young and fresh by entering into their joys.
