CUE RESULAR CORRESPONDENCE Lvents Along the Susquehanna-Items of Interest In and Around the Borough Picked up by the Intelit-

gencer Reporter. Squire Grier had before him Ben jamin Stipe, charged with the theft of $180 by Charles Eckert. The alleged robbery was committed last February while both were inmates of a boarding house kept by Mr. John Bartch, at the corner of Cherry street and Lancaster avenue. A warrant for Stipe's arrest had been issued as soon as the robbery had been discovered, but he becoming frightened had left the town. Yesterday he was captured in this place and brought to trial. The plaintiff did not show by any witness that he really had such a sum of money in his own pos-session, much less prove the defendant the shall announcing that the first floor thief. Most of those who heard the case of Mr. Kepler's building would be leased believe young Stipe innocent, and do not think Eckert possessed the sum of money he alleges to have been stolen. The justice took the same view of the matter and discharged the accused from custody. Driving Accident.

country. In front of the residence of sudden trot, the movement causing one of the little fellows, named Frank White, to fall over the rear end of the wagon to the ground. His collar bone was broken on the right side of the body and other injuries received, though of a slight nature. The young sufferer, who is only six years of age, was taken to his father's residence on Locust street, where he was attended by a physician. He rested well last night and is now progressing as favorably as could be expected under the circumstan-

Cake Walk

The cake walk which will be held tonight in the armory by the congregation of Mt. Ziou A. M. E. church will be a grand affair. There was plenty of fun for those who attended the last walk, which was given by the same congregation, and this one will doubtless not be behind it in this respect. Some particular feature will be unfolded to night, about which there appears to be considerable mystery. Police Cases.

Mrs. Mattie Day, charged by Mrs. Ade laide Roland with abusing her by applying to her foul epithets, appeared before Squire Grier last evening. As the plaintiff could not make out a case against her she was discharged, the former being saddled with the costs of the suit. James Furley, in default of bail, was

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS. A Case That Suddenly Went Off. REFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON.

Heary S. Herr vs. James Keemer, scire facias on a mechanic's lien, to recover $1,500, alleged to be due as a balance of plaintiff alleges, he made a contract with defendant and built for him a brick warehouse, on land which defendant then claimed as his own, in the village of West Willow; plaintiff received of Michael Harnish, as agent of Keemer, the sum of $1,000 on account. This case was in the supreme court, and the former plea was withdrawn; after considerable testimony had been taken it was discovered that no new plea had been entered. The defendantiefused to plead, whereupon a juror was withdrawn and the cause went off. Solomon S Martin vs. Samuel E. Ranck, scire facias sur mechanics lien.

The plaintiff resides in New Holland, and is a carpenter. He brings this suit to rec ver the sum of $236.18 alleged to be due for the erection of a house for the defendant at Greenbank, East Earl township in 1880. He was employed under a contract as he alleges, to build the house for $973. The defendant, however, made some changes in the plan and plain tiff told him that the house could not be constructed for the amount. The defend ant, as alleged, ordered him to go on with the work and he would be paid the cost. He refused to pay the balance and the suit was brought. The defense admitted that the work had been done and that they had made some suggestions in regard to changes after the contract had been entered into, agreeing to pay what they were worth; plaintiff during that time said nothing about the contract the best and most artistic organization on the being voided; defendant thinks he has paid all the work is worth, and proceeded to call witnesses to prove that the plaintiff told him how much the alteration would cost and he gave him figures entirely too low. The jury rendered a verdict in favor

BEFORE JUDGE PATTERSON. In the case of Barbara Sherr, executrix of Elizabeth Sherr, deceased, vs. Martin Sherr, the plaintiff in rebuttal this morning called witnesses to contradict Martin Sherr as to his allegation that a new agreement had been entered into between plaintiff and himself after the death of Elizabeth Sherr. The jury rendered a tous complaints and all diseases indicating an verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $440.01.

In the case of the Davis sewing machine company of Watertown, New York, vs. John Shillow, a verdict was taken in favor of the plaintiff for $2,165.62.

Kepler's New Building to be Leased. A contract has been made between the postoffice authorities at Washington and Mr. A. C. Kepler by which the latter is to construct his new building on the site of the old Black Horse hotel, North Queen street, so as to fit the first floor for a postoffice. The present postoffice is entirely too small and is in many respects incon venient, and for some time past Postmarter Marshall has been looking out for larger and more comfortable quarters. As the prospect of getting a new government building here is by no means brilliant, Mr. Marshall has done the next best thing—he has urged on the department the necessity of more room and the propriety of closing a contract with Mr. Kepler to furnish it. Last evening a telegram was received shall announcing that the first floor as a postoffice as soon as it can be fitted ur. The new office will be more than twice as large as the old one and superior in every way. It will be 36 feet in width and 115 feet deep. The front will be almost wholly of French plate glass, with Several little boys got into a wagon on two front doors and four front windows, Locust street yesterday, the driver having and above the doors and windows will be kindly effered to give them a ride into the transoms of stained glass. The mail bags will be received and delivered from the Mr. B. F. Dean the horse started into a street. The interior will be fitted up with all the conveniences of first class postoffices. A largely in creased number of boxes with the Yale lock will be put in, and the office will be so arranged that box renters can call at the office at any hour of day or night and get their mails. It is expected the new premises will be occupied about the first of Septem -

The Rote Automatic Brake.

On Saturday last articles of incorporation were granted, in Obio, incorporating "The Rote automatic brake company with a capital of $5,000,000." The brake, which was invented by Mr. Rote, of this city, has been very fully described in these columns, and will probably at no distant day come into universal use. The charter obtained is a very liberal one, giving the company the right, not only to manufacture the brake, but to do almost everything else if they have a mind to. Lancaster parties own about two thirds of the patent, and have a controlling interest in the stock.

ERIN GO BRAGH.

SESSION OF THE IRISH CONVENTION. To Day's Deliberations of the Delegates Mrs. Parnell Appears in the Convention Amidst Tumultuous

Applause.

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—Delegates to the Irish national convention gathered slowly this morning, and showed marks of fatigue from yesterday's long session. As and the galleries were crowded, to-day nell entered, escorted by Mr. Alexander Sullivan, of Chicago, who introduced her amid tremendous applause.

In Session. At 12 o'clock Mr. Sullivan, who is brilliant young lawyer of Chicago, at the request of a committee of seven and in persuance of an official call, called the body to order. He made a feeling address in which he invoked the "Almighty God that the proceedings of the convention might be characterized by wisdom, toleration and prudence, that they may result in that actual unity which alone will insure substantial progress in securing jus-tice for Ireland."

Rules Adopted.

Rev. Morris J. Dorney, of Chicago, was chosen temporary chairman without a dissenting vote, though a delegate, amid hisses, declared that "the thing was set up." On taking the chair Father Dorores, has become clean, smooth and soft as a ney made some appropriate remarks, speak twice on the same subject, and that no debate shall be in order on any subject not included in the call for the convention, Dr. O'Reilly immediately moved the previous question on adoption of rules and several angry protests arose, delegates declaring they would not be gagged. Considerable opposition was manifested to the rules, but after some confusion, a vote was taken and they were declared adopt -

Adjourned Until 4:30. After naming four secretaries and ap pointing a committee on credentials the convention took a recess of ten minutes. Upon re-assembling at 1:30 the privileges of the floor were accorded to Rev. Mr. Slattery and Rev. John Galler, both of Australia, and after speeches by both of these gentlemen the convention adjourned until 4:30. The committee on credentials met immediately in the hall.

THE FLAMES.

Burning of a Philadelphia Opera House. PHILADELPHIA, April 26 -The Arch street opera house was burned this morning for a third time since it was built. The flames originated by the explosion of a gas stove under the steps leading to the gallery, and spread rapidly to the roof. The fire soon made its way to the stage and the greatest damage was done there including the destruction of the wardrobe valued at three thousand dollars which belonged to the house. The roof fell in and crushed many seats in the auditorum, but the body of the house is not seriously damaged. The theatre has not been occupied for several weeks. It is owned by Bolten Winpenny, and leased by Joseph E. Winner. The loss will not, it is thought, reach $15,000, as the walls are standing and the front of the building is uninjured. The building was insured for $19,000. Fire in a Foundling Asylum. NEW YORE, April 26 .- Fire broke out t three o'clock this morning at the New York foundling asylum. Owing to the coolness and systematic action of the sisters a panic was avoided, and the 200 children were all safely removed. The flames were subdued before much damage had been done.

Strikers' Demand Conceded. BORDENTOWN, N. J., April, 26.—The garmakers of Messrs. Reeder, Gabel & o., of this city, who stopped work a few day ago because of not receiving a satisfactory answer to their demand for one dollar per thousand for making cigars, have been informed that their demand is conceded and have accordingly returned

SWEPT OVER DUNDEE DAM.

Hundreds on the thore Watching a Boy's Linguing Beath. William Jacobus, aged 16, a son of a farmer living on the Bergen county side a farmer living on the Bergen county side of Dundee Lake, near Paterson, started to cross the lake about 61 o'clock on Wednesday morning, his errand being to engage a washerwoman for the day. The river is high and the wind was blowing a gale from the northwest. The boat was a square bowed, flat bottomed scow, and in spite of his efforts it was toward the Dundee dam. day. This dam is 450 feet long, and it is said to be one of the longest of the kind in the U. States. It is only 20 feet high. It is built of solid masonry, 45 feet thick at the bottom, and 6 feet wide at the top. It widens the river into a lake, which supplies all the mills in Passiac city with water. The boat went over the dam. As it tip.

ped on the brink Jacobus was thrown out and he fell out but apparently so far away from the curtain of water that he was not carried down to the rocky bottom of the abysa below. The boat lodged on a rock a short distance below the dam, where it lay bottom up. The boy made brave efforts to swim to to the boat, which were witnessed by occupants af several farm houses along the shore, and by men going to their work. After an hour's struggle in the eddies, he succeeded. After climbing on the bottom of the boat he stretched himself across it, apparently com-pletely exhausted. The cold water was running over all but a small portion of the boat. After a short time he recovered his strength and called out to those who had gathered on the shore to come and save him. He said he was dying with the cold. His parents and brothers and sisters were soon on the shore, together with 600 or 700 other spectators, all fran tically encouraging the efforts at rescue.

The river at this point is very rough being full of rocks, forming dangerous rapids, but several brave, although futile, efforts were made to save the boy. Wm. Dunnigan, the gatekeeper and watchman at the dam, succeeded in going out in a boat to within 20 feet of him, when his boat capsized, and Dunnigan himself was nearly drowned before he was rescued. Next a rope was stretched across the river from shore to shore, and about 10 o'clock a man endeavored to walk across from rock to rock, steadying himself by the rope. The current washed him from the rocks and he was swept down the stream, but he managed to pull himself hand over hand along the rope until he reached the shore exhausted.

Jacobus had kept up piteous appeals to his friends to keep trying to rescue him, but a little after 11 o'clock he fell over on the bottom of the boat, his cries ceased, and for a short time he was seen to shiver. After this he was not seen to stir. He had been over four hours in the icy water and cutting wind. His feet lay in the water, which ran over the boat. About noon a long discussion in the Senate to day on a boat was guided out by means of the
