The roof of the casting house was fired and totally destroyed. Several adjoining buildings were damaged by the flames. A time of the explosion and was surrounded and burned to death by the hot metal before assistance could be rendered. The cart to which it was attached was also burned. The Fiddlers' Struck. "The colored residents of the 'Hill' started a dance in Williams hall last evening, but before much dancing had been done the fiddlers struck for their pay. This not being forthcoming they packed up their instruments and left in disgust. One of them remarked 'dat it was a 'flat' crowd' wouldn't skeer up a quarter apiece." The dance will be continued at some future time—when the boys can "skeer" up a quarter.

Projected Improvements. The frame building which lately occupied the ground where Henry Westerman's new residence is to be built, on 4th street, nearly opposite the scene and saved the furnace from total destruction. The boys did well, and deserve something more substantial than thanks from the owner of the structure.

The work of erecting danger signals along the Pennsylvania railroad, at all over head bridges, has been commenced and will be pushed rapidly forward. Pennsylvania railroad engine No. 526, jumped the track on the weight scales in the west yard, last afternoon.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS. The Hartman Will Case Not Concluded BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON. In the case of Dr. Abraham C. Treichel vs. the United Brethren mutual aid society, of Pennsylvania, the testimony for the plaintiff closed this morning and the defense asked for a non-suit on the ground that the policy had been forfeited because the plaintiff failed to comply with the by-laws by paying his assessments within 30 days after the time they were levied, and that the plaintiff was notified of the forfeiture and did not make such money to have the insured reinstated, and further, that the defendant's policy had been assigned to the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff had no right to receive the money for assessments (which the plaintiff alleged he did) after they were due, and they refused to receive the money from him.

The plaintiff opposed the granting of the non-suit, claiming that, as Ely, the authorized agent of the company, had the policy for assessments, they were liable; he having before waived the forfeiture, when money was over due, and it was apparent that Snyder, on whom the policy was in good health, he was at the time this money was paid. Long arguments were heard on both sides of the case and Judge Livingston decided in favor of the non-suit.

REBUTAL. In the lower court room the Hartman will case yet occupies the attention of Judge Patterson. After the rebuttal of the plaintiff had been closed, the defense called Henry F. Eberle as a witness, who testified that he furnished witness with clothing, food, &c., after his father had refused to have anything to do with him, and with the father's knowledge. This morning the testimony closed, and Mr. Namm, of the counsel for the plaintiff, began speaking. Speeches by the other attorneys are being heard this afternoon.

Unavailable Matter.

Letters and papers addressed as follows are held at the postoffice for non-payment of postage: "Mrs. O. H. Bros. & Co., 425 Walnut street, Philadelphia." "Mr. Jacob Strohm, Edison P. O., Furzeas co., Nebraska." "J. H. Shule, P. O. box 69, Washington, D. C."

Three of the above letters have two-cent stamps on the envelopes, which would seem to show that the writers supposed the non-payment of postage law had gone into operation. This is a mistake. The reduced revenue law went into operation on the 1st of May, but the reduced postal law does not take effect until the 1st of October next. No sealed letter can now be forwarded from this or any other postoffice unless it contains a three-cent postage stamp. After October 1st a two-cent stamp will do.
