

COLUMBIA NEWS.

REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. Events Along the Susquehanna—Items of Interest in and about the Borough.

The Red Men went to work yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and adjourned for the day at 5 in the evening. The sessions were largely devoted to the question of law. The committee on the order of the order reported favorably to the national benefit fund and their report was adopted. The bi-centennial committee also reported and it stated that owing to the fine display made by the order at the celebration; many members had been added to their list. The committee on returns reported that the amount of money invested by tribes in the state is $109,350.29. Twenty candidates for representatives to the Great Council of the United States were nominated and the names were added to the list. A committee of five was appointed to draft a suitable report relative to the purchase of a hall in Philadelphia to be used as a wigwam. It was decided that past sachems not delegates cannot vote in the Great Council. The committee made reports in regard to the subjects with which they had to deal. Some of them were very lengthy. Congratulatory telegrams were sent to the Great Councils of Ohio and Virginia now in session.

The contract for printing for the ensuing year has been awarded to T. D. Tanner, of Easton. No reception exercises took place at last night's banquet in the armory. The Red Men being invited to the spread as soon as they marked the number. The number part of the evening was passed by witnessing some excellent clog and jig dancing and listening to good vocal music. The entertainment ended between 11 and 12 o'clock.

The visiting Red Men have been amusing themselves during their leisure hours to-day, by bag and blind race, the participants in which are colored bootblacks. In the former the boys were enveloped in bags and started down Locust street, from Second to Front. The little fellows tumbled about in the bag, but persevered in the race after regaining their feet. The victim carried off a purse of two dollars. The blind race was also very amusing. In this the boys had their eyes bandaged and then started off on a half block course. With outstretched hands the runners groped about on one side of the street and then on the other. A bootblack called "Toothy" came in last, but was awarded the prize forty cents, because he did his task fairly. "The others" was accused of being able to see and so lost the race.

Death of a Good Lady. The death of Mrs. Frederick Mumma, of Ironville, is announced. She departed this life yesterday at 3 o'clock, p. m., at the age of 60 years. Deceased was well known in Columbia. The funeral services will be held in Ironville on Saturday at 10 o'clock, a. m., at which place also the remains will be interred.

Market Hours. When council changes the hour at which market shall open to a later time of day, then there will be a good attendance of sellers. Why don't this body of lawmakers open the market at 10 o'clock? They were placed in the present position for that purpose. This article is intended only for those councilmen who favor an early market. The others need not grumble at it.

Top of a Cab. The top of Pennsylvania railroad cabin car No. 238 was completely off yesterday, by the large arm of a derrick at the Henry Clay furnace, which swung over the track as the car was passing. The derrick saw the approaching danger, and jumped from his position in the sky light to the floor of the car.

Farewell Cavalcade. A pavement in front of a house belonging to Mr. Joseph Watts, on Front street, and underneath which extends the cellar of the house, partly caved in yesterday. It was planked over and repaired to-day.

Timely Surgery. A little son of a family, named Fred, was rescued from being trampled under the feet of a pair of horses on Third street, by a gentleman who saw the child's danger. The escape from serious or fatal injury was a narrow one.

Through Notes. For the purpose of enabling an account of the week's work to be closed during the present week, work will be resumed as soon as this has been finished. A large stone fell on the foot of a little boy named Eddie Conner, yesterday, on Front street, and crushed it. No bones were, however, broken.

Reckless. A two year old daughter of Wm. Danbar, was run over by a buggy on 2d street, yesterday, and sustained a number of cuts and bruises about the head and body.

Pennsylvania railroad pay car will very likely not be here until the beginning of next week. Here is the opinion of those in authority at this place. The body of the 6 year old son of Mr. William Wilson, who died on Monday night of typhoid fever, was removed to Gettysburg to-day for burial.

Obsequies of Red Men will hold a meeting to-night in their wigwam. Solomon have made their appearance in the market.

A STABBING AFFAIR. Serious Result of Skyrocketing. Last evening Benjamin Boas and Benjamin S. Chesser, employes at the tannery of A. M. Myers & Co., South Water and Chestnut streets, had a playful rencontre during which Chesser stabbed Boas quite seriously in the side, the knife passing between two ribs and entering Boas' lungs to the depth of an inch. Boas, who lives at 328 South Water street, was carried to the hospital and attended at the residence of Dr. Foreman. His wound is a painful one, but not necessarily mortal.

The stabbing is believed to have been entirely unintentional. The circumstances, as reported to us, are that the men had just taken their seats on the boat which was to take them to the fair. The boat was crowded and the men were standing. Chesser, without looking around, struck backward with the knife the side of Boas' chest. Boas, as above stated, was not the slightest enemy between the men, and Chesser was overwhelmed with grief when he saw the result of his thoughtlessness.

The Temperance. A chorus of about forty voices are rehearsing the music to be sung on the occasion of the installation of the grand officers of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania Knights Templar which takes place in this city on the 30th inst. "To Deum" by Baumback, a "Gloria in Excelsis" by Pease, and other fine selections will form the programme in which many of the best vocalists in the city are to take part.

FRANKFORD IN WEST CHESTER.

The Contest for the Prisoner's Custody. The West Chester Village Record of last evening has the following in regard to the delivery of John Frankford:

"District Attorney Windle was seen this Wednesday morning by a Village Record reporter about the matter and he stated that as yet he had not been asked to grant leave to remove him until he has had a hearing before the court here, as without that Chester county would be most likely to lose its claim to him after the Lancaster authorities get through with him. After he has been tried and convicted, he will be granted a writ of habeas corpus which cannot be refused, on account of his being at present a fugitive from their prison." In answer to a query of the reporter as to why it was that the Lancaster parties were so anxious to get Frankford out of town, he was also a fugitive from the Western penitentiary. Mr. Windle said: "The case was different. He was tried, convicted and sentenced by the Lancaster county court, on offenses committed within its jurisdiction, before it was known that he was a fugitive from the Western penitentiary, and of course after that had been done he could not be taken out of their hands until his term in their jail had expired. Had he been tried, convicted and sentenced here before the Lancaster authorities, no application for his removal would be kept here under the same circumstances, and they would have to wait for him until Chester county got through with him. When will the court be likely to hear the charges against the prisoner here, asked the reporter. "I cannot say. The judge of the court may not return for a day or two. It will be entirely at his discretion as to when he will hear the case. He may order it for an early day or may postpone it until next term of court, should he feel so disposed."

The Local News says: "Tuesday evening Mr. Burkholder, with Sheriff Ovinger and the prison authorities endeavored to secure an audience with Judge Futhy for the purpose of laying Lancaster's claim to the custody of Frankford, but were unable to find the judge and the effort failed, he being temporarily absent from his home. This morning the judge was appealed to as he was taking a train for a business trip, and being unable to give any definite answer, Mr. B. has instituted proceedings to bring out a hearing of his case, which will be held in a few days, when it will be decided upon as to whether Lancaster's claim shall prevail over that of Chester or to the contrary. Mr. Burkholder feels it to be his official duty to return the prisoner to Lancaster, if it lies in his power to do so, as that county argues a claim to him because of his unexpired term of imprisonment. The Chester county authorities look upon the matter in this wise: If he is allowed to go to Lancaster, a lapse of time might serve to cause some trouble in effecting his conviction here, as witnesses may die or remove to distant places during the interim."

Prison Keeper Burkholder came home last evening, but did not have the prisoner. He stated he had been proceeding to have a hearing on a writ, in the case, but the time for that has not yet been fixed.

THE STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY. The Papers Read at the Annual Meeting. In the meeting of the State Medical Society in Norristown yesterday Dr. Benj. Lee read a report from the committee on the need of such an institution and a central sanitary commission, and urged upon the medical profession and the editorial fraternity the necessity of co-operation towards securing legislation looking to the establishment of such an institution.

Dr. O. H. Allen read a paper on the "Schedule of Subjects for Preliminary Examinations," the result of which was the adoption of a resolution to the effect that the members of the nominating committee be appointed to confer with the committee on legislation, with a view to devising some plan whereby a regular schedule for the preliminary examination of students may prevail throughout the state.

The afternoon was devoted to the reading of voluntary papers by the following persons: Dr. James Tyson, Philadelphia, "Address in Medicine;" Dr. R. L. Sibbett, Carlisle, "Obstetrical Notes;" Dr. Hugh Hamilton, Harrisburg, "Artificial Alimentation;" Dr. R. H. Chase, of the Norristown hospital for the insane, "On the Insane;" Dr. J. A. Reed, of the Dixmont hospital; Lord Shaftesbury, of the British lunacy commission, and other eminent authorities. He contended that the cure of patients who are pronounced cured from insane asylums has a tendency to increase the number of cases, the disease being naturally transmitted from one person to another.

OBITUARY. Death of Miss Venie Eckert. Miss Venie Eckert, daughter of the late Lecker and wife of Charles W. Eckert, fruit dealer of this city, died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Holtzworth in Philadelphia, at an early hour this morning of consumption of the throat, a disease from which she had suffered for some time past. Miss Eckert was a young woman of wonderfully sweet disposition, pure, warm-hearted and unselfish. She would suffer any inconvenience, and make any sacrifice to confer a favor or do good to others. Of a high religious temperament, she was not only a devoted Christian, but a woman whose religion is expressed in signs and groans over the world's wickedness; on the contrary she was always cheerful, always pleasant, always aiming to make others happy. By her amiable and useful nature she won the affection of all who knew her wherever she went. She was born in Paradise town ship, and lived there many years. After the death of her father she kept house and took care of her aged mother until she was called away. She also kept house for her brother Charles in this city for several years, and when he declined house-keeping, she made her home with her sister, Mr. Holtzworth, in Philadelphia, and her brother Howard Eckert, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Her funeral will take place from the residence of her brother, C. W. Eckert, No. 216 East King street, and the interment will take place in the burying ground of the old Leacock church, of which she was so worthy a member. The time for the funeral has not yet been fixed, but due notice of it will be given.

THE ROBERT FULTON. Launch of the New Steamboat. The little steamer Robert Fulton, built by the Andersons and to run on the Conestoga creek from Witmer's Bridge to Rocky Springs, was put upon a wagon today and hauled out to the creek where it is to be launched. It passed through Centre square at 2:30 this afternoon and attracted a great deal of attention. The hull is painted black with a red stripe above the water line. Around the deck are arranged rows of seats extending from stem to stern, on either side, and the passengers are protected from the sun by a canvas roof, something like that of an open car. The boat was gaily decorated with flags, and those having it in charge were in the water before the sun goes down. We will give particulars of the launch tomorrow.

THE DISASTROUS WORK OF FLAMES. A Train, Going at the Rate of Twenty Miles an Hour, Thoroughly Wrecked and Destroyed by Fire—A Great Fire Among Oil Works.

Cedar Lake, Ind., May 10.—An accident occurred last night to the regular day passenger train on the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago line, near Chicago, which might have resulted in serious loss of life. Shortly after the train had passed the station the gas stove in the baggage car exploded, setting fire to it. The wind was blowing sixty miles an hour and the train was running at the rate of thirty. The other passengers, who were in the baggage car, while he was attempting to suppress the flames. The express messenger attempted to extinguish the flames and in so doing received most serious injuries. The bell rope was burned, so that no communication could be held with the engineer. The boy jumped from the blazing car. When the flames burst from the car the engineer saw the trouble and stopped the train. The car was filled with the passenger baggage and express and mail matter, all of which was consumed. There was no means of extinguishing the fire on the train and it had to be allowed to burn itself out, thus delaying the train nearly four hours.
