THE COOK AND THE CANVAS.

A Funny Story That Should be Taken With a Grain of Salt.

Portland, Me., May 27. The artist, formerly of Portland, tells a story concerning a pet game cock which he kept in his studio. Having at one time to paint the portrait of a large sized game bird for a patron, the pet bird suffered a larger companion and got so that he could never see him without flying into a rage. After the picture was completed and the bird which was its subject had been removed the canvas remained in the studio, standing on the floor. One day the little game cock happened to be picking his way about the studio when he suddenly caught sight of the counterpane of his former enemy. With a scream of rage he gave one leap and flying at the picture planted his spurs into it again and again before he could be restrained. The next time he was given an opportunity he repeated the attack, and for some time it was the almost daily amusement of the artist and his friends to witness these impromptu cock-fights between a live bird and a dummy.

At last one day, the little fellow, resting a moment from an unusually spirited attack, happened in cocking his head to one side, to get a look behind the picture. Then for a moment dumfounded. He then looked in front and saw his old enemy as large as life, another glance behind and he was more than ever puzzled. He then deliberately walked behind and around the picture several times carefully surveying it, and finally with a spiteful frown and an air of disgust that would have credit to a human being marched away and hid himself. Never after that day could he be persuaded to attack the picture or indeed to pay the slightest attention to it, notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts that were made to incite him.

The sequel to a Dream.

One of the most remarkable occurrences I ever heard of was related to me this morning," remarked a State street broker yesterday. "It was told to day by a leading city hall official, whose worthiness is undoubted, that a daughter of the late Harvey Jewell (who was so well and favorably known in Boston in legal and business circles, and was a brother of the late Marshall Jewell) had recently a very queer and unusual experience, and one calculated to make a deep impression upon the strongest mind. Some weeks ago she had a dream in which she distinctly saw an undertaker drive up to her residence in a hearse. He was a peculiar looking man. His queerly shaped nose, which looked as if it had been broken and was twisted to one side, gave his countenance an expression which would have made identification easy and certain. He came directly toward her, and, as he said, 'are you all ready?' she suddenly awoke.

The dream seemed a peculiar one, but did not attract very much attention in the household until, a few days or a week later, it was repeated with exactly the same characteristics, down to the 'Are you all ready?' and the awakening. "And now comes the strangest part of the story. Some little time afterward the young lady was visiting in Cincinnati and went to an apartment hotel to call upon a friend. She stepped into the elevator with others, and was startled to hear 'Are you ready?' from the man in charge. She was still more startled on looking around and beholding the exact picture of the man of the dream, even the misshapen nose. It made such an impression upon her mind that she requested to be let out of the elevator at the first landing. She went out at the next landing, and the man remained. The elevator machinery gave out; suddenly the car went up and then down, and the man was instantly killed."

DROPS OF WATER.

Mr. JOSEPH G. HICKELL, No. 612 Main Street, Cambridgeport, Mass., writes, April 27, 1883: "I have been terribly afflicted for a number of years with gravel and kidney disease. My urine contained brick-dust deposits, and I think I could not pass my water except in drops and with great pain; and have had to get up as many as fifteen times during the night. I tried several physicians; they did me no good, and I was told to use Hunt's Kidney Remedy. I got a bottle and used it. He had been cured of a severe case similar to mine, and that others had used Hunt's Kidney Remedy with the most successful results. After being repeatedly urged I purchased a bottle, and before I had used it of I passed a stone as large as a pea, and was cured. It has completely cured me. My kidneys are in excellent condition, and for one of my age (68) sixty-eight years, I can truly say I feel like a young man with strength and vitality. My family use the Remedy, and would not be without it, and never fail to recommend it to our friends and neighbors in Cambridge and Boston. You may be sure to use my name in praise of the best kidney and liver medicine, Hunt's Remedy."

"DID WONDERS FOR ME."

The above words are from Mr. LEWIS KERN, No. 9 Highland Avenue, Milford, Mass., April 28, 1883. He says he has been troubled for years with kidney and liver complaint, followed by gravel, with severe pains in my back and groin. I had great trouble in passing water, it being scanty, and accompanied by terrible burning, the vessel being coated with brick-dust deposit. I was recommended to use Hunt's Remedy by a friend who had been completely cured of a similar trouble. I purchased a bottle of the Remedy, and commenced to improve at once. I have used but two bottles, and it has done wonders for me—no more kidney trouble, no more pain. It has given me new life, and would not be without Hunt's Remedy at any price. It is all that it is recommended to be, and I cheerfully give this testimony for the benefit of the many sufferers from kidney disease and gravel."

MONDAY—FAIR AND WARM.

Some changes have been quietly going on about the Market street front, and we can now speak of this part of our store with not a little satisfaction.

The higgledy-piggledy look of the shoe department has disappeared. We were a long while getting the neatness and cleanliness and orderliness that we wanted. With abundant light, spacious aisles, superior stock and obliging attendants, we are happy.

Right or centre aisle.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

The centre aisle is flanked with Neck Dressing, Shirt Collars, Cuffs, Under Clothing, Gloves, Handkerchiefs and Suspenders. There are few that know how well we do this business. In with two long counters there is a great store full of all sorts of things that make up a good stock of what is known best by the trade title of "Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods."

Centre aisle and left of centre entrance, Market street.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Clothing for the little boys is next neighbor. Much of the stock comes from our own manufacturing rooms and our customers do not get wholesale lots that are made to be sold by the dozen, but get our own careful cut and sewing intended to be fitted suit by suit on the backs of Philadelphia's little men.

On the other side of the aisle is the domain of the men's clothing. It is the Wanamaker clothing that we sell. Twenty years of trial have proven the stamp to be worth something.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Writing materials we send you wherever you are, and you have the advantage of getting exactly what you want, plain or rich, at less cost than you can get them anywhere else.

For example:

Commercial and Octavo Note, Foreign Mail, Lavender, Belfast Linen, Marcus Ward & Co.'s Opaline and Irish Linen, Hand-Painted Note, Portfolios and Lap Tablets, Samples of paper with prices sent if requested.

Not half our customers know we keep stationery at all. Nevertheless our trade in it is much the largest in Philadelphia. The reason must be in having the right things at inviting prices.

Third counter from centre, left of main aisle.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Outdoor games—Archery, Lawn Tennis, Croquet, &c.

We have everything for bow and arrow play, from tools that cost next to nothing to those that cost a good deal, and a like variety in several other games.

Basement near Thirteenth and Market Street, corner starway.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Summer Black Goods—

Our stocks have to be very large to serve our trade; our assortments also have to be very full. There is nothing desirable to be found anywhere that we have not.

All-Silk Grenadines—Damasee, Striped, Plain, Sewing Silk, Open Mesh, Silk and Wool Grenadines—Damasee, Striped, Mexican, Open Mesh.

All Wool Grenadines—Lupin's Open Mesh, Camel's Hair Grenadines, Plain, Crape, Miscellaneous—Crepe de Chene, all silk, Crepe de Japon, all silk, Nun's Veiling, for dresses, all wool, Bunting, all wool, Tamise, all wool, Henrietta, silk warp.

We have also everything in Black Goods for all seasons, and curiously enough the demand continues.

Not a merchant in Philadelphia has one of these to-day in a single quality even, so far as we know, below us; as a general fact we are decidedly below the usual scale of prices.

First counter from Chestnut street entrance, left of main aisle.

DIY GOODS—BARTMENT. We show something new in Dress Goods nearly every day. To-day we received a lot of Cheviot Combed Dress Goods—something very neat and new—selling them at $1.62 a yard, and they are going fast; also, a New line of Children's Gaiters, Socks, and other goods. In a stock like ours it is very difficult to enumerate each article, but would simply say—call and see what our line of Dress Goods comprises.

WILLIAMSON & FOSTER.

STRAW HATS.

Our formal opening was made some time ago in these goods, but now they are selling at prices that are low, and some of them seem as cheap as the straw itself.

The best goods are made by DUNLAP, of New York, and of Baltimore. There have been several cases of Boys' and Children's goods already sold, but we are prepared to see you all.

Call on us at our store, 303 North Queen Street, and see what our line of Dress Goods comprises.
