A STUDENT DROWNED.

THE RESULT OF CRAMP.

The Third Tragic Occurrence of lus Kind How the Accident Happened.

Last evening about 9 o'clock A. Wm. McKinley, a student at the Millersville normal school, was drowned in the Conestoga creek a few hundred yards below the Millersville park. Mr. McKinley and a Then some of his companions became a steep spruce clad hill. alarmed and called out that he was drown-ing. Nearly all the good swimmers were at this time on the opposite side of the creek, but they hastened to McKinley's creek. had gathered at the creek, Dr. Reeder, of had fled, the body was taken up and sadly borne to the school, where it was placed to await the action of friends and the authorities.

Mr. McKinley was a bright young fellow about 18 years of age, who was attending the normal school with a view of fitting himself for teaching. He was genial, open hearted and well-bred, made friends of all with whom he came in contact and was beloved by all his class-mates. His elder sister was also a student in the school and is well-nigh distracted in consequence ing. He is also held for assault and batof the terrible calamity which befel her tery on George Rote. brother. The two came from Line Lexington, Bucks county, where their mother and they have been living in comfortable circumstances. We are informed that the mother recently sold the family homestead and removed to Ohio. sending the son and daughter to Millersville to complete their education.

This morning Coroner Shiffer was notified and rode ont to Millersville to hold an inquest.

The corpor impauneled a jury compised of J. G. Peters, Prof. Lansinger, Christian Eiseman, Henry Metzger and two students of the school. Dr. Compton acted as coroner's surgeon. After viewing the body and hearing testimony substantially as above given, the jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning.

A framed portrait of Mr. Grube, hotel keeper at New Holland, which is on exhibition in the window of Sam Clark's coffee store on West King street, has attracted a good deal of attention. It is the work of Miss Sue C. Harkins, a graduate of the Lancaster high school and was executed with pen and India ink.

Train jumpers.

Officer Pyle, of the Pennsylvania railence. road police, arrested three young men for train jumping. They were taken before Alderman McConomy, and though they had money enough to pay their fines they refused to do so, and were sent to jail for ten days cach.

with the occurred, tells us that the place of bathing is one of the best and safest along the creek ; that the professors and teachers of the school are in the habit of bathing there, and that some of them are generally present when the students bathe. The c ident was one of those unavoidable ones which no foresight could have prevented.

Other Drowning Accidents.

Just one year ago, June 3, 1882, Alfred L. Specht, a student of Millersville normal school, a son of Rev. J. C. Specht, of Allentowu, was drowned in the Conestoga while boating just below the Wabank dam. The creek was high at the time and young Specht incautiously rowed his boat close up to the volume of water that was pouring over the breast, and was sucked in by the return current and his boat upset and he drowned in full view of several of his classmates who were starding on the shore but unable to render him any assistance. Ilis body was recovered in about twenty minutes after the accident.

Some twenty four years ago a student of the normal school was drowned while bathing in the Conestoga, not far from where the above fatal accident cocurred ; for courtosy and interest manifested. and years ago a student of Franklin and Marshall college was drowned in the creek while bathing.

From Major Downs, Military Instructor: Mt. Pleasant Academy, Sing Sing, N. Y. During the very cold weather I was suffering with Catarrh. My head and throat ached so severely that I was obliged to give up every thing and keep quiet. Elys' Cream Baim was suggested. Within an hour from the first ap-Mication I felt relieved, the pain began to subside. In two days was entirely cured. W
