HOP BITTERS.
Something for Everybody,
Read, Mark and Inwardly Digest.
ASHBURNHAM, Mass., Jan. 11, 1880.
I have been very sick over two years, and was given up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physician, but they did not reach the worst part. My lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I took two bottles. They helped me very much indeed. I took two more; and am well. There was a lot of sick folks here who saw how they cured me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do.
MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 31, 1881.
I have tried seven bottles of Hop Bitters, which have cured me of a severe chronic disease of the kidneys, called Bright's disease by the doctors.
RODNEY PEARSON.
WALDEN, KANSAS, Dec. 8, 1881.
I write to inform you what great relief I got from taking your Hop Bitters. I was suffering with neuralgia, dyspepsia, nervous debility and woman's troubles. A new bottle has entirely cured me, and I am thankful for so good a medicine.
MRS. MATTIE COOPER.
CEDAR BAYOU, TEXAS, Oct. 28, 1882.
I have been bilious opposite to any medicine not prescribed by a physician of my choice. My wife, fifty-six years old, had come by degrees of disease, to a slow sun down, and doctors failed to benefit her. I got a bottle of Hop Bitters for her, which soon relieved her in many ways. My kidneys were badly affected, and took twenty doses and found much relief. I sent to Galveston for more, but word came back, none in the market, so great is the demand; but I got some elsewhere. It has relieved both of us to good health, and we are duly grateful.
Yours, J. P. MAOBT.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, MISS., Jan. 2, 1880.
Gents: I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe form of dyspepsia. I have used up four bottles of your Hop Bitters, and it has done more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor, but feel as if I were such a relief from your medicine and torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took my system of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, I am well, and my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever.
HENRY KNOCK.
MILTON, Del., Feb. 10, 1880.
Being induced by a neighbor to try Hop Bitters, I am well pleased with its tonic medicine, it having so much improved my feelings and I could not have any more of that much out of town, causing great foolishness for years.
MRS. JAMES BETTS.
KALAMAZOO, MICH., Feb. 2, 1880.
I know Hop Bitters will be a recommendation honestly. All who use them center upon them the highest praise, which is the credit to making cures—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the public. They took high rank from the first, and maintaining it, are more called for than all other medicines combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness I shall continue to recommend them—something I have never before done with any other medicine.
J. J. BABCOCK, M. D., & DRUGGIST.
KARUKA, Mo., Feb. 9, 1880.
I purchased five bottles of your Hop Bitters of Bishop & Co. last fall, for my daughter who had been sick for eight years, and am well pleased with the result. They cured her more good than all the doctors or medicine she has taken, and have made her perfectly well and strong.
WM. T. METZGER.

GREENWICH, N. Y., Feb. 12, 1881.
Hop Bitters are the most valuable medicine I ever used. I should not have any more now but for them.
HENRY KNAPP.
LONE JACK, Mo., Sept. 11, 1879.
I have been using Hop Bitters, and have received great benefit from them for liver and kidney complaint and in larval fever. They are superior to all other medicines.
P. M. BARNES.
CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 28, 1879.
My better-half is freely indulged with the idea that your Hop Bitters is the essential thing to make life happy.
B. POPE,
Secretary Plain Dealer Co.
SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Sept. 3, 1880.
Gents—I have been taking your Hop Bitters and received great help from them. I will give you my name as one of the cured sufferers.
Yours, MRS. MARY F. STARR.
GREENHAWK, Miss., Nov. 5, 1879.
My daughter, now a young mother, is using your Hop Bitters, and is greatly pleased with the beneficial effects on herself and child.
D. D. MOORE, Proprietor New South.
LANCASTER, PA., Nov. 6, 1879.

Dear Sir—I have used four bottles of your Hop Bitters, and they cured me of a severe chronic disease of the bowels, and was giddy in the head and nervous.
FRED. THUNBERGER.
Gents—Have used two bottles of Hop Bitters in my family, and think them the best medicine ever made.
Geo. W. POTTER.
BATTLE CREEK, MICH., Jan. 31, 1879.
Gentlemen—Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestion and general debility, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and then attended me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf.

WINDOW SCREENS.
We have made Wire Window Screens for the past four years, but there was always a serious objection: we could not get them up quick enough, nor cheap enough. We have, however, overcome that, with our Patent Screen Frame, which enables us to fit up a screen complete in from thirty to thirty minutes, and much lower in price. The Frames are made in Popular and Walnut, and the sizes run from twenty-three inches high up to thirty-five inches, and in width from thirty-eight inches down to 26 inches. Our Screens are put in the windows that you need not remove them in opening or losing the window or shutter. We have Landscape, Figured and Plain Wires, 20 in., 22 in., 24 in., 26 in., and 30 in. A liberal discount to the trade.

THE DEAD PRELATE.
THE DEPARTURE OF ARCHBISHOP WOOD.
A Sketch of His Life and Work—An Early Convert to the Catholic Faith—His Rise Through a Succession of Holy Orders.
The Most Reverend James Frederic Wood, D. D., first Archbishop of Philadelphia, died on Wednesday evening at the Archbishop's residence. During Wednesday, with but one or two short intervals of consciousness, the Archbishop remained in a comatose condition. Several times during the day and evening the clergy of the cathedral, assisted by the visiting priests, recited the prayers for the dying prescribed in the Roman Ritual. He passed away calmly and peacefully, at ten minutes past eleven o'clock, in the 70th year of his age, and the 28th of his episcopate.
Archbishop Wood was a convert to the Catholic faith. He was born in Philadelphia, April 26th, 1813, of English parents, and received his elementary education in a school in Dock street. He subsequently spent five years of his youth in England, where he attended a grammar school at Gloucester. After returning to his native country, in 1827, he went to Cincinnati, and became a clerk and afterwards cashier in the Franklin bank of that city. In April, 1836, he was received into the Catholic Church by Archbishop Carroll, and in the fall of 1837 he resigned his position as cashier, and went to Rome to study for the priesthood. He entered the college of the Propaganda, and after nearly seven years of study, during which he was appointed by the authorities of the college prefect of discipline, he was, on the 25th of March, 1844, at the age of 31, ordained priest by Cardinal Franzoni, prefect of the Sacred congregation of the Propaganda. He returned to this country in October of the following year, and was appointed rector of the cathedral at Cincinnati. After filling this position for ten years, he was appointed pastor of St. Patrick's church, in the same city. While discharging his duties as pastor he received the rank of Bachelor of Divinity from the University of Philadelphia, with the right of succession. On the 28th of April, 1857, twenty-one years after his reception into the Catholic Church, and thirteen years after his ordination to the priesthood, he was consecrated bishop by Archbishop Purcell. He at once came to Philadelphia and entered upon his episcopal duties taking special charge of the financial affairs of the diocese. Under his administration these affairs and means were devoted to the erection of the cathedral and sustaining other works. Before the completion of the cathedral he erected the present cathedral chapel and organized the cathedral parish, which is now one of the strongest parishes in the city.

During the three years of his coadjutorship the duty of visiting and confirming throughout the vast diocese under the jurisdiction of the Philadelphia Ordinary devolved almost entirely upon the junior bishop, and of course the other dioceses then included nearly all Pennsylvania, West New Jersey and the whole state of Delaware. The total number of churches over this wide area was only 131, chapels and stations 17, the number of priests 137, and of coadjutors 10. The diocese was divided into three new dioceses were formed. The state of Delaware with a portion of Maryland, became the See of Wilmington, with Bishop Becker as its Ordinary. The territory of the state of Pennsylvania was formed into a separate jurisdiction, of which Dr. Shanahan became the first bishop, with the title of the diocese of Harrisburg. Northeastern Pennsylvania became the diocese of Scranton, with Rt. Rev. William O'Hara, D. D., as its spiritual head.
On the death of Bishop Newman, Jan. 5, 1860, Bishop Wood succeeded to the Episcopal title and full administration of the diocese of Philadelphia, and devoted himself with characteristic energy to the additional duties devolving upon him. The cathedral was dedicated in November, 1861; the cathedral chapel was enlarged; many churches were completed and others commenced, and additional religious orders introduced among them the sisters of the Good Shepherd, the Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis of Assisi, and the Little Sisters of the Poor. The Catholic Home for Destitute Orphan Girls was established, and other educational institutions were strengthened and enlarged. The theological seminary of St. Charles Borromeo, at Overbrook, was also created and was opened for the reception of ecclesiastical students in September, 1867, and of common students in the following year. The Good Shepherd, in West Philadelphia, costing over a quarter million dollars, was also built by the deceased prelate.

During his episcopate Archbishop Wood visited Rome several times, and was present at the canonization of the Servants of God, martyrs in 1862, and at the celebration of the eighteen hundredth anniversary of St. Peter and St. Paul, in 1864. He was also present at the opening of the Vatican council, December 8, 1869, and attended his last session for seven months, and was called by illness to return home. Before leaving Rome, however, he left upon record his faith in the dogma of papal infallibility and his desire for its definition.

On the 12th of February, 1875, Pope Pius IX., then in the 25th year of his Pontificate, divided the province of Baltimore, and to the new Metropolitan See and Archbishopial dignity thus created elevated Bishop Wood, in recognition of his learning, piety and zeal. Four months later, June 1, 1875, Archbishop Wood was invested with the pallium or badge of office with the most impressive ceremonies at the cathedral, by Archbishop Bayley, of Baltimore, the primate of the Catholic Church in the United States, in the presence of Dr. Ronetti, the papal legate; Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati; Bishops Elder, of Natchez; Lynch, of Charleston; J. Quinlan, of Mobile; Fitzgerald, of Little Rock; Conroy and McNairy (coadjutor) of Albany; Domene, of Pittsburgh; O'Hara, of Scranton; Shanahan, of Harrisburg; Corrigan, of Newark, and Gibbons, of North Carolina. There were also present the Right Abbot Wimmer, of S. B., of Latrobe, Pa.; Monsignor Scharf, of Philadelphia; Mgr. Santelli, of Montreal, and a very large number of the clergy of the archdiocese and neighboring states. The sermon was by Bishop Lynch, of Charleston, recently deceased. In the evening there was a procession of Catholic societies past the archiepiscopal residence, which was reviewed by the newly created archbishop, who was complimented by a serenade, and the next day the clergy of the archdiocese gave him a reception at the closing exercises of the theological seminary.

On Sunday, May 23d, 1880, the first provincial council of the Roman Catholic Church in Pennsylvania was opened at the cathedral by Archbishop Wood, there being in attendance the bishops of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, Harrisburg, Scranton and Erie, with their theologians and other assistants. Pontifical high mass was celebrated, and the papal benediction was imparted by Archbishop Wood. The sermon of the occasion was by Bishop Shanahan.

On April 29th, 1882, the 69th anniversary of his birth, the 25th anniversary of the consecration of the deceased as bishop was celebrated at the cathedral with imposing ceremonies, nearly every rector and curate of the Roman Catholic churches of the city and vicinity being present, together with many from distant localities, and all the suffragan bishops of the archdiocese. Bishop Shanahan delivered an address eulogistic of the life and labors of the deceased prelate.
In the afternoon of the same day the archbishop was given a reception at the Overbrook seminary, when an address of congratulation and a purse of $20,000 were presented to him by the clergy of the archdiocese. In the evening he was given a reception by the Catholic club at the club's quarters on South Broad street.
The annexed statistics will be of interest in this connection:
Number of priests in the old diocese in 1837, 137; in the new portion in 1857, 87; in the new portion in 1860, 105; in the new portion in 1882, 248.
Another Prelate Deceased
Most Rev. Francis Norbert Blanchet, archbishop of Oregon, is dead, at the age of 93 years. He was a Canadian by birth and had been a Catholic missionary for more than 50 years. He was consecrated bishop in 1845, and in 1881 resigned the position on account of his advanced age. He being 78. Most Rev. Charles J. Scharf, formerly of Victoria, was appointed his successor.
