AN OLD MAN DUPED.

GAGGED AND ROBBED IN HIS HOUSE.

A Thief and His Woman Accomplish—Elder Snyder Takes to His Room a Sharper for a Long Lost Son.

Glen City, Pa., Dispatch to the Times.

Elmer Snyder is a wealthy farmer, who lives a short distance outside of this village. He is a widower and lives alone with his servants in a fine mansion close by the highway. He is a prominent figure in political and social circles and is deacon in the Methodist church here. About five years ago his wife died. The cause of her death was attributed to the absence of her only child, a boy, who ran away from home about fifteen years ago, on account of some trifling troubles with his folks. The farmer is one of the largest land owners in this district and it was always believed that he kept a large sum of money in the house. About two weeks ago he presented a flashily dressed, handsome young man to his friends and neighbors as his long lost son. Simultaneously with the arrival of the young man ugly rumors began to spread about his past life in Chicago, and other cities of the West. It was generally known that young Snyder had led a fast life and for a time the country people fought shy of him, but the engaging manners and plausible talk of the young man made him many friends and the old farmer soon grew proud of his handsome boy. In a few days another rumor started, to the effect that he was not Snyder's son, but another person, trying to impose on the farmer. This story soon gained credence, from the fact that the old farmer soon grew proud of his handsome boy. In a few days another rumor started, to the effect that he was not Snyder's son, but another person, trying to impose on the farmer. This story soon gained credence, from the fact that the old farmer soon grew proud of his handsome boy.

PROPHYLACTIC FLUID.

A Household Article for Universal Family Use.

ERADICATES

For Scarlet and Typhoid Fevers, Diphtheria, Salivation, Ulcers, Small Pox, Measles and all other contagious diseases.

MALARIA

Persons waiting on the sick should use it freely. Heart Fever has never been known to spread where the use of this Fluid was taken. The worst cases of diphtheria yield to it.

SMALL-POX

Fevers and Sick Persons refreshed and rest soon prevented by bathing with Darby's Fluid.

PITTING

A member of my family was taken with Small-pox. I used the Fluid; the patient was not delirious, was not pitted, and was about the house again in three weeks, and no scars were left.

DIPHTHERIA

The physicians here use Darby's Fluid very successfully in the treatment of Diphtheria. A. A. STROLEWICK, Greensboro, Ala.

WOMAN APPEARS.

He grew in the old man's favor and accompanied him everywhere. If he had led a wild life he showed no traces of it whatever. He was a well-dressed, handsome, elegantly dressed woman, unaccompanied, drove up to the village inn and secured accommodations for a few days, saying she was from Philadelphia and desired a quiet room. While walking on the street she met the old man, who recognized her as the woman who had been with him in the Snyder household were surprised by the re-appearances of Mr. Snyder at breakfast, and as he was a habitual early riser the fact caused much comment. A few weeks ago he had been told that a young man named Snyder had been found in the room they found the door locked, another unusual fact. They rapped loudly, and receiving no answer determined to break open the door. First they tried to find young Snyder, but could not find no trace of him.

FOUND FOUND AND GAGGED.

Bursting open the door they saw the old man lying at full length upon the floor, bound and gagged. The ropes that bound him were wrapped around his arms and legs, and he was lying on his back, his mouth tightly wedged in his mouth. Cutting the cords and lifting him to his feet they administered restoratives. When he had sufficiently recovered the old man said: "That young man was not my son; I have been cruelly deceived and robbed, pointing to a safe which stood in one corner of the room. The servants saw that the safe had been opened and the contents scattered about the floor. 'Last night,' continued the farmer, 'the young man and I remained up till about 11 o'clock talking about the Western states. At last he started to talk about my real estate, money, bonds, etc., but I never suspected anything and shortly after I went to bed. Sooner than I thought I heard a noise, like as if a door had been opened and shut, and I got up and looked out of the window, but as I couldn't see anything I went to bed again. I don't feel asleep. How long I slept I don't know, but I was roughly awakened by a gag being forced into my mouth and before I could help myself was bound and gagged. In the partial darkness I saw two figures. After they had securely fastened one of them went to the bureau and took the lamp which stood on it."

KIDNEY-WORT.

"The greatest misfortune of the present days," remarks the author of a recent medical treatise of much value, "is, that it motivates the wives of to-day are so often afflicted for their duties and for all domestic enjoyment by reason of shattered health and over-taxed systems. For these special weaknesses to which womanhood is so apt to fall victims, no surer, better or safer remedy can be found than Kidney-Wort. The wonderful tonic properties of this great remedy have specific action correcting the disorders of female organism, and then in building up the general health, keeping the secret organs in perfect order and imparting the glow and elasticity early womanhood."

PHYSICIAN'S WIFE'S TESTIMONY.

"Domestic remedies and prescriptions by myself (a practicing physician) and other doctors, only palliated my wife's chronic, two years standing, inflammation of the bladder. Kidney-Wort, however, cured her. 'The oars are the oars of a letter, sent to the proprietors of this remedy, by its author, Dr. C. M. SHERMAN, of Sun Hill, Washington Co., Georgia. The list of cures might be prolonged almost indefinitely. For the purpose of this article, however, only a few more will be adduced. 'I had kidney and other troubles over 30 years,' writes Mrs. J. Galloway, of Elk Flat, Oregon. 'Nothing helped me but Kidney-Wort. It effected a permanent cure.' Mr. Nelson Fairbanks, of St. Albans, Vt., is chosen 'home' and his case will seem to merit special mention. Briefly, it is, in his own language, this: 'Kidney-Wort is a medicine of priceless value. I had pills for 16 consecutive years. It cured me.'" is a disease which attacks the human family in spring, and has formed the chief subject of many learned articles. We cannot pass from this subject without supplementing it with the assertion that Kidney-Wort is a specific for other diseases than Malaria, and such disorders as may be directly traceable to it, Dyspepsia, or indigestion, is a most distressing complaint. Every reader of this article probably knows the symptoms. The effects are wide-spread and far-reaching. Almost the entire human organism is apt to become deranged, when dyspepsia is suffered to run on unchecked. Kidney-Wort can be relied upon to cure any case of Malaria, Dyspepsia, Kidney and Liver Troubles and a host of their kindred or attendant ills. All we ask is a trial. That will make you its life-long friend. It is a matchless alternative, a pleasant yet powerful tonic, and, indeed, 'fills the bill' as a peevish, pleasant, powerful preparation. As near as mortals may be able to reach perfection, Kidney-Wort may safely be called perfect. It is not a compound of herbs, alleged to have been discovered by some mythical missionary, whilst in some imaginary 'foreign land.' Kidney-Wort is a preparation, however, combining all the essential ingredients of far advanced thinkers, and scientific men who labor for the amelioration of human ills. Buy a bottle, and you will, if afflicted, agree with thousands of others who have done so and found themselves renewed thereby in health and spirits. 162-M.W.F.

MALARIA

CHOOK'S CAPTURED INDIANS.

Taken to the San Carlos Reservation—The Effect of Groundless Rumors.

A dispatch from Carlos says: There was great excitement at the agency here Saturday morning when Captain Crawford commanding four companies of cavalry with 500 Indian scouts came to the reservation. Lieutenant Davis met them two miles from the post, and after congratulations and inquiries as to the Chiricahuas, the party came to the agency. Chief Loco and his family headed the hostiles. Loco, Nana and Bonito were met by Indians acquainted with them. Nana said he was too old for further operations, and was glad he had arrived at a safe place. Loco said he was anxious to get settled on one of the reservations. He has no friends, but seems glad to be under the protection of General Crook. The exact number of the arrivals is not yet known. The officers of the command think the Chiricahuas will be peaceful. Chief Geronimo, in his first talk with Gen. Crook after the capture, said he would like to have a farm. Rumors had reached the Indians that in case of capture they would be put in irons and killed; hence they say their delay in coming in. While the Indians generally do not distrust Gen. Crook, these rumors have had a bad effect on his plans. There are people willing to see the military would be brought into the territory, making business better. As an evidence of what Gen. Crook has had to contend with, it may be stated that, six miles from Wilcox, several persons approached the hostiles with the intention of selling ammunition to them.

A STUDENT DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

In Meadville about 5 o'clock Friday evening an accident befell one of the Allegheny college students that has cast a gloom over the college exercises. Newton Egbert, aged 22 years, while bathing with other comrades in French creek, above the water works, was taken with cramps and sank to the bottom, all efforts of his companions proving 'helpless to rescue him. His remains were found two hours later and physicians tried their best to resuscitate him, but without effect. Young Egbert lived near Pine Grove, Mercer county. The sad intelligence has been sent to his parents.

A YOUNG LADY HURT.

Miss Lizzie R. Mott, granddaughter of the late Henry S. Mott, ex canal commissioner of Pennsylvania, was thrown from her dog cart in Millport on Saturday, receiving concussion of the brain that will doubtless prove fatal. She is now fifteen years old and a beautiful and accomplished lady. Her brother, Henry Sparing Mott, aged twelve, who was with her, was seriously injured. The accident has caused great excitement. Miss Mott is well known in New York at Philadelphia.

WALK MODE, AND SLEEP SOUNDLY.

MR. JOHN W. COLE, Principal of the Gate School, Troy, N. Y., writes us:—
"I have been afflicted for several years with indigestion, and of which was unknown to me for a long time, and my condition gradually getting to be so serious and distressing a character as to cause great anxiety with my family and friends. I became restless and nervous, and the cause of my sickness was the disordered condition of my kidneys and liver. At this time by accident a friend who had similar symptoms to mine informed me of the great improvement in his health by taking Hunt's Remedy and persuaded me to try it. I immediately commenced taking it, and from the first I began to improve, and its continued use afforded very encouraging results. I can sleep soundly, walk better, am free from pain, and the severe attacks of headache from which I suffered so much have disappeared, and I cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy for all purposes for which it is advertised. I will add in closing that my wife has benefited very successfully from the attacks of sick headache with which she had been afflicted from youth."

ALMOST DISHEARTENED.

A prominent citizen sends us the following statement:—
