WEATHER IN PROSPECT.

What the Lancaster People will do To norrow-The Sons of Veterans Meeting-Festivities in the County.

" It is going to be a scorcher." "There will be a thunder gust at 4 o'clock in the afternoon" are some of the popular pro babilities for to-morrow. No business will be done in the city. The Canks will be closed and the newspapers will make no a new one. Columbia workmen are enue. At the postoffice Sunday hours gaged in the work. will be observed from 8 to 9 a. m. and 6 to 7 p. m. There will be no general celebra tion of the day and up doubt hundreds of people will seek relief from noise and heat them from the men with other money. by repairing to the shades of the country.

Private picnics, fishing parties, public dances and excursions of various kinds are in contemplation and the following special features of the day's observance will, no doubt, engross a large share of the popular attention. his husiness

The Cliosophic society, of college and literary circles, will hold a special mid summer meeting on Mr. John C. Hager's lawn, at "The Maples," ncar the city. The third annual encampment of the Members of the order from all over the the eastern part of the state are expected to be present, and the attendance will be large. The visitors will begin to arrive in the evening trains to day, and will be met at the depu by an escort from George H. Thomas camp, of this city. To-morrow morning at 9 o'clock there will be a reception by the Lancaster camp, in the G. A. R. hall, when addresses will be delivered by mem bers of the order. At 10:30 the parade will form on N. Prince street, right rest ing on W. King, and will move at 11 o'clock over the following route : To Conestoga, to S. Queen, to Centre Square, N. Queen, to Chestnut, to Duke, to Orange, to Lime, to E. King, to Plum, countermarch to Centre Square and dis-

In the afternoon a picnic will be held at What Glen park.

On Thursday at 8:30 a baseball match will take place on the Ironsides grounds between nines from Mead camp at Read ing, and Georne II. Thomas camp of this city. At 10 o'clock B. F. Eshleman, esq., will deliver the address of welcome in the coart house, to which a reply will be made by Edwin M. Aimes, of Altoona. At 10:45 the encampment will be formally opened in the court house. Oa Friday the encampment will be reconvened for the transaction of business. To morrow morning at 8 o'clock the division officers will hold a special meeting at the Grape hotel.

Besides the picuic of the Sous of Veterans at What Glen two others will be held, one at the Green Cottage, on Poplar street, commencing in the morning, and another in the afternoon and evening at Tell's Hain, by the Aukamp social club. Omnibusses and carriages will be run to all of these.

The principal sporting feature to mor row will be the game of baseball between the Ironsides and Harvey Fishers, of Dan cannon. This will be the second game between these clubs and, as the home team won before, the game to morrow will be one of great interest. The assemblage of spectators to see the match will be

The Police Circles.

A Locust street shoemaker, assisted by friend, resisted arrest last evening when an officer attempted to serve a warrant on the former, which had been sworn out against him by his wife for ill treatment. The officers finally got them in their grip, and safely landed one of them in the lockup. The shomaker's friend struck his custodian ou his "bugle" and ran, but was soon captured and handcuffed. After that he marched quietly along to the place of durance vile. 'Squire Frank heard the cases this morning and the shoemaker was held under a bond to keep the peace with his better half. The other paid costs of the suit against him and was discharged.

Special and Personal.

Judging from the picnics held in former years to morrow's 32d annual picnic of the Columbia fire company, in Heise's woods, will be a large one and a pleasant affair. Good music has been engaged for dancing and everything doue for the pleasure of those expected to attend. Mr. James Perrottet, on Third street is entertaining his brother, Mr. James Perrottet, of Havana, Cuba The dancing party in Duffy's park, Marietta, to morrow evening, will be at tended by a number of Columbia ladies and gentlemen. Concatoga ledge No. 463, K. of P. will be represented at to morrow's Knights of Pythias parade in Marietta by nearly 50 mombers. Officer Rodenhauser has purchased the team of his brother Adam, and will take the latter's late position as deliverer of freight for the Pennsylvania railroad Officer Wittig is acting nightwatchman for him until a man can be secured for the position. Three train jumpers were arrested last night by Officer Kennedy, of the Penn-sylvan'a railroad police, and taken this morning to the Lancaster county jail. Putnam circle No. 113, B. U. (H. F.) C. A., will meet this evening.

The court reserved its deci sion. The application of the Pennsylvania railroad for appointment of a superinten dent of the New York & Long Branch rail road, also came up, the Pennsylvania com pany alleging that the New Jersey Central which controlled the Long Branch road, had failed to repair certain unsafe bridges. A letter of President Little of the Jersey Central road, directing the engineer of the road to repair the bridges, was produced. Mr. MacVeagh, counsel for the Penn'a. road, then stated that that was all his client wanted, but asked for a continuance until the bridges were repaired. Judge Nixon suggested that the whole case be dismissed and the application of the Pennsylvania road for appointment of superintendent was withdrawn.

UTICA, N. Y., July 3.-A collision occurred between the work trains ca about 7 o'clock this morning. Michael Brown had both legs crushed to the knees and his recovery is very doubtful; Morris Butterman had his right foot crushed ; Wm. Garman, John Ryan, Chas. Adams and Samuel Newell were all bruised about the head, face and body, but were not seriously hurt. Both engines were disabled. There was a very horrified to see the girl sitting on the cop-ing. She called her mother, and, as the latter reached the roof, the girl, bending down and catching hold of the cornice with her two hands, swung hereelf over. The payed yard was six stories below. The mother, with a shrick, rushed forward and caught the girl by the arm as she was relaxing her grasp on the cornice. The daughter struggled violently. "Let me go !" she oried again and again.

want to die ! I want to die !' The mother, with a strength that seemed supernatural, still held the girl, although her whole weight now depended upon 'he mother's grasp. But the sister came to her assistance and both called hysterically for aid. Their cries-" Save her ! Help, help !" rang through all the neighborhood Some children in the yard below shrieked. Men came to the window, and, after a brief look, rushed for the stairs and to the street.

Everybody shouted for help. A Brave Woman's Efforts. A lacy in the apartment blow, with a gentleman beside her, leaned far out from to base his argument on our a window directly under the struggling girl. But she could barely reach her. She could secure a slight hold upon one of Miss Staver's ankles, and this hold she kept at great personal danger, somewhat checking the hapless girl's efforts to get free from her mother's frantic grasp. It was evident to the shuddering spectators that in a moment more the strength of the woman above must give out and that the crazed girl must plunge down to death, carrying with her, by her weight, the brave lady below her, and porhaps the mother and sister. In this supreme moment of suspense, above the cries of mother and daughter and onlookers, the girl shrieked loudly :-- "Let me drop ! It will be better for me! I want to go!" Then a young girl rushed ou the roof and gave her feeble aid to the two ladies, and then a bead and should ers appeared through the trap door and the first of the rescuers swung himself on the roof. There was glad shout and then profound silence, except for the cries of the maniac. roof, and, leaning far over, had his arms about the girl's shoulders. A second stalwart man came to his assistance. The mother and sister fell back fainting. The two men slowly drew the still strugging girl over the parapet and to safety. On that dizzy height, silhouetted against the blue sky, the group of three stood motionless for a moment. Then the mother years and they always fit." And and sister arose and were embracing the rescued girl, who, dazed and now silent, seemed to have recovered her senses. The two men wiped the perspiration from their faces. In hundreds of windows up and down the block men and women were weeping and laughing at once. In an almost incredi bly brief time the roof was crowded the mother and daughters were helped to their rooms, congratulations were showered upon the two rescuers, and it seemed as if their shoulders would be shaken out of their sockets. Every one wanted to take them by the hand. Then the crowd

Some one criticises our giving so much space to Ladies' Wearing Apparel and so little to that of the sterner sex, and saysshe says (we won't hide it under a neuter) that statistics show that men spend more money in dress than women, but her husband declares if that were so we'd advertise men's belongings more than women's. Now that husband of yours need't try familiar talks in these columns. Men do pay us more money than women, but that don't decide who wear the garments. There is more variety in women's dress, and styles change more than in men's and this necessitates more talk; but men can doubtless spend any amount in a quiet way. Two very unpretentious bachelor gentlemen the other day selected some expensive cloths and ordered suits for both. The salesman not knowing them called a cutter. "Never mind," said one, " you have had the measure for years; look for Mr. H.'s measure." The cutter said. "Then we'll measure the other gentlemen." "No, his measure is mine and mine is his. Your folks have made our suits by that one measure for so it was. These two gentlemen of separate kin have lived together in perfect harmony over forty years, have always had a common purse (as well as common measure) and live in independence on their property in West Philadelphia, literally a second "David" and " Jonathan."
