Discialmers by the Democrats-A Resolution Calling on the mouse to Adjourn on Tuesday Next Adopted by a Party Vote

In the state Senate yesterday Wagner offered a resolution that the rules be sus pended, in order that a committee of con ference might be appointed on the part of the Senate to meet a similar committee on the part of the House, to which all con-gressional bills should be referred. The senator from Cumberland spoke briefly in handsome man and a quick witted one. When he married his wife, thirteen or fourteen years ago, he controlled an excel lent business as a hatter in Cleveland support of his proposition, and read from Better educated than most commercial the record of the regular session to show men, with an unusually good humor, a ready wit and a comely face and figure, he might and no doubt would have achieved that four Republicans had voted for a bill repartee between the senators, and Cooper asked, "Are you a McClure man, too?" At this point Humes thought best to draw the line, and he spoke with the confidence of conviction when he said, "Fortunately or unfortunately, as the senator from Del aware chooses to take it, this is McClure's Republicau year." Lantz charged that devoted and enthusiastic husband it would the Democrats were keeping the Legislature in session until after the 1st proximo, that the Democratic state convention, which meets on that day, may have an opportunity to endorse the Democratic position, and Gordon in an undertone replied, "So it will." Then he arose to a personal explanation, and, after reading from the Philadelphia Times a statement that he, Stenger and Chris Magce were in Philadelphia together last night arranging a bargain on appor-tionment, said that he was not in Philadelphia last night, but was in the mountains, and had not seen Chris Magee for a fortnight until this morning.

In the Senate, yesterday, Senator Sut-ton arose and made the following statement :

" An attempt seems to have been made to create the impression that hostility exists between the administration and the Independent Republicans, and in further-ance to this a stry has gone into a Philz-delphia newspaper to the effect that I made an offer to the Statewarts that 'if they would arrange counties so as to shut out Senators Stewart and Smulley the Democrats of the Senate muld accept the bill and see that the House passed it.' I Take, for example, the husband of Miss Maggie Mitchell, one of the ladies who his own account Maggie Mitchell, one of the ladies who have illuminated the stage with a pure womanliness and an honest domesticality. The husband of Miss Mitchell is Henry T. Paddock, a bright, genial, kindly and en-terprising gentlemen, who has merged himself so thoroughly in the personality of his wife that nobody outside of her pro-fession knows him. Mr. Paddock is a handsome man and a quick witted one. Perhaps as soon as it shall be generally inderstood that the pretty Gertie Granville, of Harrigan & Hart's Thearte, is married to Tony Lart, the latter will subside into the some unenviable condition of an actress' husband. About the only man who in a similar case never succumbed to its usual conditions was Levy, the cornet player, who married Miss Minnie Conway. But if Mr. Levy escaped going to posterity as "Miss Conway's husband," he lost his wife in the process, for their marriage has been j idicially declared null and void.

CRIME AND CALAMITY.

A Man Found Dead In a Creek The body of Patrick Clancy, of Tona-wauda, New York, was found in a creek at Buffalo Thursday morning with the head crushed in. He laid down upon the breakwater on Wednesday night and is believed to have fallen asleep there. Soon afterward cries of distress were heard, and a large pool of blood was found upon the deck. Some drunken sailors are sus-pected of the crime.

John L. Hechman, for five years su preme treasurer of the Catholic Knights of America, who was defeated for re election in May last, left his home in Graton, West Virginia, for Europe, on Suaday night. He recently failed in business, and is reported to be "short" from $30,000 to $60,000 in his accounts.

Swayne, who was arrested in Nashville for the stealing of the ledger needed in the Polk trial, has contessed that he took it at the instigation of Polk, and received $175 for the deed.

A fire at Little Falls, New York, Thurs-day, destroyed the plaining mill of West & Co, the lumber yard of William H. Waters and a mowing machine factory.

Loss, $26,000. M. W. Wilinson, a farmer of Lincoln county, Missouri, was shot dead by an unknown assassin while asleep in his house, last Tuesday night.

band" he will disappear as thoroughly as if he had been carried off by a tornado.

Catharine Lewis in early life married a tall Swede named Oscar Arfwedsohn. He has been in his day a very rich man. Dark and melancholy nowadays, he lives apart from his wife, by whom he has had one child. It is said that this husband of a prima dorna is so reduced in circumstances that he is tending bar in a saloon on Eighth avenue.

Miss Jeffreys Lewis, her sister, is a Mrs. "The Republicans say they concede us twenty senators and we have been will ing to accept twenty two, and I do not hesitate to say that on the same basis I Maitland. Mr. Braham, although a very ties together and Cumberland and Perry. ciever musician, has been completely eclipsed by the fame of his wife, in which, by the way, the cynical disposition of fortune has constantly prevented him from sharing. Miss Effic German, of Wallack's, is a widow. Her late husband was a negro minstrel named Gibbons, who died of a prolonged and lingering malady. Her devotion to him was beautiful. She spant all her earnings on his necessities and comforts, and when she was not occupied at the theatre in reheatsal or performance she was sitting with his hand in hers, by his bed of long-drawn anguish. The off-spring of her marriage was a delicate and interesting boy, to whom she is passionate'y attached.

Then there is Mrs. Wi'kins-the only Mother Frochard. It is safe, of course, to infer that there has been a Mr. Wilkins. But who was he? It will surprise a good many people to learn that the late Ser-gean: Wilkins was one of the most successful lawyers ever produced by the English crimical bar. He began life as a pot boy —he ended as a member of Parliament. He used to conduct a side show with a circus and he narrowly missed elevation to the English bench. And yet nobody who hears his wife's name ever thinks of the once celebrated and almost erratic sergeant at law.

When "Olivette" was first produced in New York the town fell in love with the pitite and sweet faced Veloutine of the cast. To day, while still professionally known as Marie Jantzen, she rejoices in a husband, James Barton Key, the tall red headed and brawny son of the late Philip Barton Key, shot in Washington by Gen Sickles.

Everybody knows that Minnie Maddern is a fascinating and extremely popular girl actress. But how many people know that she is the wife of Legrant White, a very young man who, if he had not merged himself and his prospects in his wife's future, would be occupying to day a very enviable place in public esteem as a musi-

Has anybody any doubt that there is a 'Miss Clara Morrris' husband ?" Let him, in such a case, go to the Everstt house and behold a short, stout man with a round face, large staring eyes, thick curly gray hair and long red brown whisk-ers of the English pattern. In the guise will be seen Frederic Harriott, first a well to do flour merchant and a relative of the Havemeyers, who has settled down into the lucrative but obscure position of general manager and agent for one of the most gifted women on the American stage. Even the charming Miss Maud Granger has a husband—or by this time, perhaps, had, for a suit for divorce is pending be-tween them. Up to the time he married her Alfred Follen, a nephew of Mrs. Frank Lessie, was one of the best known and most cordially liked young men of the local press. After his marriage, in deference to his wife's views, he took to Perry Davis's Pain Killer.
