Beecher's Bad Head.

For two months in the year Henry Ward Beecher can't preach. In August and September he takes his vacation and endures the onset of the hay fever. And it is so he says, something terrible and tremendoùs. A man with hay fever isn't accountable for his actions. He is merely a wild beast-frantic with snuffing, sneezing and headache. His eyes are red and so is his nose. Every nerve in his skull thrills with distress and his head is a tountain of tears. He lives only to fly from easide to mountain-top in search of relief. And yet, whether we call this form of Catarrh hay fever, rose-fever, hay cold or rosecold, Ely's Cream Balm will cure it. This remedy is simple, pleasant and easy of application. Placed in the nostrils it penetrates and soothes the affected parts at once, restores the impaired senses and creates healthy secretions in cases of the longest standing. You cannot run away hay fever, but you can drive it from you by using Ely's Cream Balm.

THE TICKERS' STRIKE. THE AMERICAN RAPID CONCEDE.

The western Union's Alleged Firmness Superintendent Zeublin Charges Operators With Tampering With Disputches -His Instruction Denounced. WASHINGTON, July 26.-The seven

Western Union operators not members of print : the Telegraphers Brotherhood who last week signed an agreement strike by a certain date if no action should be taken by the Western Union executive committee looking to a compromise of the question at issue between the company and strikers, were discharged at noon to day. Superintendent Zeublin arrived here last night with four men to take the places of the seven named. All of those discharged were first class operators, and they constitute a majority of those who continued to work since the

What the Discharged Men Say. The discharged operators say that Supt. Zeublin this morning appealed to each of the seven men individually and endeavored to get them to withdraw their names from the agreement above referred to, and he informed them that he was instructed to discharge them unless they consented to withdraw. Each man replied that he "would keep his pledge to his fellows." The hour at which the announcement was to be carried into effect was twelve o'clock. A few minutes before noon the seven men congregated in an ante room of the operat ing room, where, after a few words more from the superintendent, they were informed that they were discharged They all went to the headquarters at the brotherhood where they met with an en thusiastic reception, and a mee ing was held, it is supposed, for the purpose of icitiating the new men.

Superintendent Zeublin Makes a Statement In response to an inquiry from the associated press office as to the present condition in which the exodus has left the Washington office Superintendent Zeublin made the following reply in writing :

"With exactly the same number of men who arrived from Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Chester, Pa., last night, with four men en route will now have the office fully equipped with a force of first class loyal and enthusiastic operators, The business will no longer be intentionally mangled and errors wilfully caused by traitorous employes."

The Lischarged Men Deny the Instruction The men who were discharged indig nantly deny that there is any truth in the charge of Superin tendent Zeublin that they have mutilated the business passing through their hands. They say that the fact that they were urged by Mr. Zeublin up to the moment of their dismissal to withdraw from the agreement, is evidence that the charge is wholly groundless. Mr Zeublin has removed his headquarters to Washington for the war. The Stike Not Yet Ended. NEW YORK, July 26.

By the majority of persons the surrender of the American Rapid telegraph company to the demands of the strikers regarded as a certain indication that the strike was nearing its end, and that the other companies would soon follow suit and yield to the combination of the operators. It was rumored that the Baltimore and Ohio company would be the next to give in but it was stated this morning by officers of the Baltimore & Ohio company that it was the intention of that company to remain firm. At the office of the American Rapid company 166 operators were on duty to-day, including the 116 men that went out on the day of the strike.

Telephone Men Threa: ened to S:rike a PHILADELPHIA, July 26 .- A committee of the linemen and inspectors of the Bell telephone company presented a bill of grievances to the company this morning and declared they propose to strike at 3 p. m., unless their terms were acceded to.

Am-rican Rapid men Return to Work The striking operators of the American Rapid company returned to work this morning in a body escorted by a number of t'e strikers who are still out. BURLINGAMS AND BROOKS. eneral L. D. Campbell Relates the Exciting Incidents of Their Quarrel.

The following letter from the Hon. Lewis D. Campbell, with regard to the most exciting event in the Congress that immediately preceded the war of the rebellion, was received by Mr. Robert O. The letter was not intended for publication, but in view of its historical value Mr. Dormer has permitted us to put it in HAMILTON, O., March 3, 1879.-R. O.

Dormer, esq.-Dear Sir : I am in receipt of your letter of the 1st instant. I am the only man living who knows all about the

Brooks Burlingame affair about which you make inquiry......You are clearly in error in regard to the matter. It occurred in those stormy days, a quarter of a century ago, when kneck downs, the drawing quite probable that State Senator Gordon of bowie knives and pistols were not unfrequent in the halls of Congress, and as it is known that he would labor as duels and rumors of duels in Washington. Senator Butler, of South Carolina, was Brooks' uncle. He was a very aged man, tottering over the grave. He had been striken with paralysis and trembled like an aspen leaf. Sumner, in making a very aggressive anti-slavery speech in the Senate, assailed Butler and referred to his physical weakness. Sumner was then 45 years old, full six feet high, well proportioned and a fine specimen of physical development. Brooks, the nephew, looked for Sumner on the avenue to chastise him. Failing to find him, he went to the Senate chamber, after the body had adjourned, and there beat Sumner over the head with a guttapercha cane, fear fully. I arrived in the chamber soon afterward, washed the blood off of Sumner, and brought him to consciousness. I also requested the surgeon to sew up the scalp wounds and take him to his boarding

The next day (being chairman of the ways and means committee) I offered a resolution for an investigation, and was appointed chairman of the committee. Subsequently, as chairman, I reported a resolution to expel Brooks, and it was carried. Brooks was re-elected, and came back to the House of Representatives, Some months afterward Burlingame made a carefully prepared speech, in which he eferred to Brooks, saying : "He stole into the Senate chamber in a cowardly way and there smote the senator from Massachusetts as Cain smote his brother.'

There was then a challenge expected, of course. However, friends interfered and some explanations were made on Burlingame's part, which were accepted by Brooks' friends and published. There- epidemic. upon the New England papers commented severely upon Burlingame's conces-sions and charged him with showing the white feather. These things stung him to the quick. Then for the first time he came to me for counsel. I told him if he really did not mean what he had said in rapidity of its spread. his speech he ought to take it back unequivocally. If he did mean it he could afford to say so and accept the conse deaths from cholera yesterday. quences. I replied that, beiog called on to name a place outside of the district, I was not fool enough to name "Richmond or Charleston," and take my friend through his "enemy's country." Brooks was arrested and put under bonds. I telegraphed Burlingame to return. He did so. He, too, was arrested and put under bonds-myself his surety. Burlingame immediately left for the West.

Soon afterward Brooks and Laue and their friends discovered that it was regarded among duellists as a let down on their part, and that Burlingame's record was all right. Lane wrote me a threatening letter, asking to open up the corres pondence, and saying that unless I informed them where a letter would reach Mr. Burlingame by the next Tuesday they would make expose, etc. To this I promptly replied in substance that Bur lingame had gone West, and that if they wanted him to go and hunt him; and if they hankered for my blood they need not wait till Tuesday, and they should "hurry up the cakes ;" that I was on hand, etc

This ended the correspondence. I will simply add that it well known to members of Congress from the South and from the North that I was the best, both with the rifle and pistol, there was in the opinion, too, that I would fight if called on. This was perhaps because I had more cheek than most members. You know that cheek is often mistaken for courage. Whether it is so in my case I am not a proper judge. I never received but one challenge for a duel, and that party soon found a reason to withdraw it when he learned from a Southern friend that I meant business. Although differing upon a claim for a pension in the name of | widely in politics at that time Brooks was my warm personal friend and died so. So that Brooks was a coward is far from cor-

IMPOSTANT, IF TRUE. Political Information By a Roundabou

Philadelphia Cor. N Y. Herald. There is a belief that Senator James Cay Gordon would liked to be named for the chairmanship of the Democratic state administration, and, in consequence would be antagonized by a score of prominent and influential Democrats from every section of the state, who are opponents of Attorney General Cassidy for the senatorship. The present chairman of the state committee is a good deal of an anti administration Democrat, and is publicly against Cassidy for United States senator. With the belief growing stronger every day, that Mr. Cassidy is to be given a cabinet portfolio under the next presi will be made chairman of the committee, earnestly as any man in the commonwealth for the success of the Democratic ticket.

Counting the Rebel Army. When Lee's army was passing through Chambersburg, Pa., in 1863, on the way to Gettysburg, Pa., Mr. Geo. R. Messrs smith, now deceased, the cashier of the bank, took a station on the bank steps and undertook to ascertain the number of rebels, tallying every hundred men on a slip of paper in his band. A rebel officer ordered him to desist under threat of being placed in arrest. Mr. Messers-smith bowed and proceeded to his barn and obtained 100 grains of corn, which he held in his right hand, which was thrust into his pantaloons pocket. He again took his stand on the steps of the bank, and for every hundred men that passed he dropped a grain of corn. When his hand was empty he had numbered 10,-000 men, and then he gathered the grains up again to repeat the enumeration. Thus he stood in the hot sun-and indeed the weather was scorching at the time-count ing until he had numbered the entire host. amounting to 60,000 men. During the night he communicated to Governor Curtin the information he had thus obtained.

MEDICAL BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS

THOSE WOMEN FOLK.

Things which they don't Understand. Anybody who has led a domestic life knows how common such things as the backache, and pains in the caest, are among the women who do the work. Often-and perhaps generallythe distresses are born without much complaint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, those coarse-grained animals whom New England women call "the men tolks," seldom look. So long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed, under the dootor's care, the average thick-skinned husband and father gives the subject no attention. At the same time the poor household drudges-who deserve a better fate-creep around, broom or utensils in hand, up stairs down stairs and out-of-doors, doing that woman's work, which "is never done." Losses of loved wives and fair girls-losses whose suddenness and unexpectedness astonish those wooden-pated husclear sky, and form the logical sequel to the story of neglect.

Now, you men who stand at the heads of ten thousand such homes, allow us to drops word in your receptive ears. It these women of yours are worth having, they are worth saving. That backache-that pain in the chest! What are they but indications of some organic trouble of the kidneys, the heart, or the lungs? End it at once by the application of BEN-SON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER IL will soothe that nervous distress, drive away that pain, banish that dull, weary backache, give new strength to the body and hope to the heart. No other plaster will do this. The Benson's Plaster, however, is not made to sell -but to heal. It is a remedy which never yet broke its promise-and never will.

Your druggist has it. But before paying your 25 cents and putting the plaster in your pocket, look for the word CAPCINE cut in the middle. Seabury & Johnson, Pharmaceutical Chem-

With Pen and Pencil. " No, sir , I don't believe newspaper men are any more dissipated than any other class of men who earn their living by their brains,' said Mr. A. B. Siegfried, manager of the ad vertising department of the St. Paul Pioneer

Press. Still, those of them who do work are tempted to stimulate, for it's very hard on tne nerves and stomach.' " As for example - ?" " As tor example, in my own case, I stuck to my desk on this paper until my nerves were like a bunch of telegraph wires after a gale, and my stomach kept about as good time as a two dollar watch. My friends suggested this and the doctors advised that, but one day I 'caught on' to an 'ad,' of PARE-ER's Tonic, and tried it. I have never endorsa proprietary medicine before, but I shall depart from my rule and say that the Tonic is not merely the best thing, but the only thing that breaks up these attacks. All desk workers should make a note of it." This preparation which has been known as PARKER'S GINGER TONIC, will hereafter be advertised and sold simply under the name of PARKER'S TONIC. As unprincipled dealers are constantly deceiving their customers by subconstantly deceiving their customers by submitting interior articles under the name of ginger, and as ginger is really an unimportant ingredient, we drop the misleading word.

There is no change, however, in the preparation itself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of PARKER'S GINGER TONIC, contain the genuine meticing if the fee similar structure of History. medicine if the fac simile signature of Hiscox & Co. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper.
