WEDNESDAY FVENING, AUG. 1, 1882, A LITTLE GRACE DARLING.

Because of a Drowning troy by a Young Girl who had Learned to Row and Swim. David Atkinson is a bridgeman of the Liberty street ferry at Communipaw, New York, and has occupied that position for eighteen years. His eldest child, Mary Anne, is 14 years old. She has bright brown eyes, dark auburn hair, and rosy cheeks somewhat bronzed from exposure to wind and sun. She has been her father's housekeeper since the death of her mother a year and a half ago.

And a right good housekeeper she is too," said her father yesterday, "and that is not all. I never knew until a few weeks ago that she had become an accomplished boatman for a girl of her age."

Many young ladies of Jersey City practise rowing daily in the basin south of Communipaw. After attending to her household duties, Mary Anne would hasten to the basin and go rowing with the gir ls, who took considerable interest in her, and soon taught her the use of the oars. She soon became so expert that she could dis tance her teachers in boat races. She is also a good swimmer and with these ac complishments the waters of the basin had no terrors for her.

Last Sunday afternoon, as she was abou to step into her boat, she was attracted by the shouts of four small boys in a rowboat about 100 yards from the bank. Only one of the boys appeared to be able to handle the oars. He was about 12 years o'd. He finally got up to shift his position and in doing so fell overboard

The boys were paralyzed with terror could render no assistance. Miss Atkinson, springing into her boat, pulled with vigorous strokes to the drowning boy. He sank twice before she reached him, and as she threw down her oars to grasp him he was sinking the third time. At this moment the brave little girl made a supreme effort, and, leaning over the side of the boat, caught the drowning boy's hand. With a few vigorous pulls she landed the senseless form of the boy in her boat, and rowed to the shore. A crowd had collected meanwhile, and experienced hands resuscitated the boy. His name was Thomas Koslow. Miss Atkinson did not forget the frightened boys left in the boat, but rowing back, she towed their boat ashere. Mr. Atkinson is justly proud of his daughter, and now says he is glad she learned to row.

A LARGE PURCHASE.

8,000 Acres in Pike County to be Turne luto a Crauberry Swamp. A large tract of upland, forest and swamp, about 8,000 acres, lying in the township of Shohola and Blooming Grove, has been sold within the past month to H. Herbert Thompson, of New York, who will at once begin operations for its im-provement. The Blooming Grove association's celebrated park adjoins the laud on one side. The famous Shohola falls are included in the tract, which is one of the most picturesque of Pike county's many five scenes. The purchaser intends to drain the swamp that supplies the Shohola creek, and the plan proposed is to cut down the crest of the falls and deepen the channel above the precipice for some distance. After the drainage is completed the wettest portion of the tract will be used as a vast cranberry

The soil and bog are particularly well fitted for the growing of cranberries, of which large quantities are aiready found on this land, and finding a ready sale in Philadelphia and New York markets. Much valuable pine and oak, which the land contains, greatly enhance the value

Articles with High Sounding, Crack-Jaw Names are Not a Success.

A REFRESHING CHANGE

To Plain English.

Every reader of newspapers has observed ime, and again, in the advertising columns, many singular and frequently unpronounce able names of medicinal remedies. The Greek and Latin languages especially have been drawn upon to furnish names by which paten medicines could be introduced to the public. The inference is, in many cases at least, that their proprietors depend more upon the attraction of high sounding titles than upon the essential merits of the reme

It is retreshing once in a while to find a medicine advertised, whose simple, into ligible name in English at once conveys to the reader an understanding of the uses and pur poses of the remedy.

A notable instance of this kind is found in the medicines of Dr. C. W. Benson, whose SKIN CURE and CELERY and CHAMO-MILE PILLS impart at once in their names, either their purpose or the ingredients which compose them. Dr. Benson's Exist Curs is warranted to heal all diseases of the skin, such as tetters, numors, inflammation milk crust, eczema, diseases of the hair and scalp, scrofula, ulcers, pimples and itching on all parts of the body, It makes the skin white oft and smooth, removes tan and freckles, and is the best toilet dressing in existence. Its popularity is attested by the immense ales of it which are taking place everywhere. It is the only genuine " Skin Cure " and all should beware of the various remedies which have been struggling for existence, and now endeavor to ride into popularity by advertising themselves as "The Great Skin Cures." There is only one, and that is Dr. Benson's. Be sure and get it.

TROUSERS, because of the more and harder service received, usually are the first to go. Frequent brushing and fixing up often makes them look passably well, but they're seedy looking withal. You know it. You're not content.
