The planets are very coy this month. Mercury and Uranus are evening stars, but they don't count because they are invisible. Saturn does not rise until after midnight, and Mars is still later. Both are now in the "rainy Hyades," with whose principal star, the ruby Aldebaran, Saturn will be in conjuntion at suprise of the 13th. Jupiter does not rise until about three o'clock, and Venus is so late as to be eclipsed by the glory of the coming king of day. Later in the month, however, Jupiter will be seen at any time after two o'clock, and Venus, although still late, will be visible as the sun gets lower.

The absence of planetary attractions, however, may be more than made up by auroral displays such as made last Sunday evening delightful; and about the 10th, and again on the 24th, the usual meteoric showers may be expected. In the middle of the month the moon will rule the night and will stay longer than usual; so that altogether, lovers and other persons addicted to evening strolls are provided with a very attractive programme for the

But Little Damage Done to the Wires by

New York, Aug 3-The damage to the wires of the Western Union company by yesterday's storm was found to be much less than was at first anticipated, except in one or two of the minor circuits. It was reported that the wires were in as good condition last night as at any time since the strike, and all business was cleared from the books except the usual amount of lay over business. Mr. Somerville reiterated the denial of the truth of the rumor that Gen. Eckert had resigned. He said that there had been no meeting of the directors yesterday. The company, he said, intended to make a change in its policy, and so far as it was concerned, the strike was over. Reports received from the East, West and South, stated that the company was receiving constant acres sions from the ranks of the strikers in all quarters. The leaders in the strike said that the situation, so far as they were conperned, was unchanged.

A Rumored Strike Deuled. New York, July 3 .- The secretary of the Mexican telegraph company publishes a card in which he declares that the rewithout any foundation whatever.

Knights of Labor. PHILADELPHIA, Aug., 3.—A memorial celebration of the 62d anniversary of the birth of Uriah S. Stephens, the founder of the order of Knights of Labor, is being held at Reuse park to day. The attendance of knights is large. The meeting will be addressed this afternoon by T. V. Powderly, mayor of Screpton and other prominent members. Scranton, and other prominent members of the order. It is expected that the strike of the telegraph operators will be discussed, and that their course will receive the endorsement of the meeting.

WILD WINDS.

A Tornado Which Swept Over New York State, ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 3.—The north ern part of Monroe county, including the towns of Greece, Penfield and Irondequoit was swept last night with a terrible storm of wind, hail and rain. The grain and especially the fruit were badly damaged. Many farmers report losses of from $300 to $1,000. Many grape vines were en-tirely ruined. The hail killed birds and fowls and brought blood from the horses and stock The belt traversed by the storm was two miles wide by ten or twelve miles long.

Three Children Drowged. CHICAGO, Aug. 3.-Last night, while a spectively 10, 12 and 16 years, the horses his work in. became frightened and plunged into the river at the Polk street bridge, the draw being open. The hackman and Besey escaped, but the children, being cooped up in the vehicle, were drowned. The horses were also drowned.

WEATHER INDICATIONS. WASHINGTON, Aug., 3.—For the Mid-dle Atlantic states, fair weather, cooler southwest winds and rising barometer.

The Government's Dispute With the Union Pacific Railroad. At Washington the department of justice has determined on the course that will be pursued by the government in its dispute with the Union Pacific railway. The amount claimed by the interior department as due from the company is offset by a claim of the road for unallowed compensation for carrying the mails. The construction of the law centended for by the counsel for the road brings the government into debt to the company. The main question involved is whether the government is obliged under the law to pay for the transportation of mails at rates charged private corporations for the carriage of ex-press matter. Already this question is pending before the court claims in cases that have once been tried and then sent back by the supreme court for re trial. The court above did not sustain the government's position, but held that the allowance made by the court of claims was not large enough. The government will now put in a counter claim for the amount which Secretary Teller insists upon as due. No objection will be made to this by the company's counsel, but the lateness of the pleading will be waived. The company, by consenting to this course, prevents an irdependent suit by the government, in volving the enjoining of its dividends.

CHICAGO'S BAD MEAT. H. A. Gongo Loses 20,000 Founds of Boot on

New York World. The seizure reported in yesterday's World of 20,000 pounds of Chicago dressed beef by Inspector Romaine, of the health department, causes much excitement among buyers and dealers in Western beef. The diseased meat was seized at the corner of Forty fifth street and Third aveern dressed beef. About ten days ago he A box of dynamite to which a lighted wrote that he wished to make an experifuse was attached has been discovered in ment with his car, and asked me what I would do for him in case he brought on a load of dressed beef. I replied it reached the explosive. The attempt to that if the meat was of good quality, and arrived in good condition, I would endeavor to sell it for him. When by the affair and the police are searching the car reached here I sent my inspector to the cattle yard, and he reported that the meat was rotton. I informed Mr. Gonge that the best thing he could do was to have the fat melted. He acted on my advice, and the cargo was on its way to a rendering establishment when it was seized Mr. Gonge, I believe, asserts the among the British troops an average of beef decayed because it was not properly chilled before being placed in the car."

Dr. Edward Jones, of the health depart-ment, said: "Putrid beef is unwholesome. There are well-authenticated cases where people in beleaguered cities ate meat that was absolutely rotten and experienced no ill effects, but medical experience teaches that tainted meat is injurious. It does not cause any specific disease, but acts on different people in different ways."

An Invasion of Locusts

The districts of Matheran and Mahable shwar, in the Bombay presidency, have had an invasion of locusts, huge swarms of which settled on the trees, which appeared to be covered with red foliage and clusters of red flowers during the occupation, but when abandoned were nothing but bundles of bare twigs. Although no serious danger has arisen from their appearance this year, next year's crops will suffer severely unless some method of exterminating the eggs be adopted. While the locusts are on the wing it is difficult to make any impression on them, although an Italian landowner, resident in Cyprus, has destroyed large numbers by placing in their path, soon after they are hatched out and still unprovided with wings, pits so prepared that after tumbling in it was impossible for them to get out. This, however, is only feasible during the wingless stage, when the young locusts march across the country in great columns, more than a mile in breadth. But the most radical treatment is that of destroying the eggs, which are deposited in masses in one place, generally on an uncultivated hillside. The locust is edible, in Arabia men and horses using it regularly as an article of diet. By some of the natives they are eaten with oil after being stripped of their legs and wings, but Lady Anne Blunt in her travels was in

> A Hearty Old Age. John Ericsson, the veteran engineer and inventor, celebrated his 80th birthday in New York Tuesday by doing his usual amount of work. He arose at 7 o'clock and took his customary breakfast of eggs, bread and ice water. Between the hours of rising and breakfast he indulged gymnastic exercises. Then he went up stairs and engaged himself in his work until late in the afternoon, when a dinner was served. Then came more work. At 10 o'clock Capt. Ericsson took a walk for an hour or so, and the day ended. The same programme has been carried out every day for the past ten years. Callers were received in the parlor, which is filled with models of scientific instruments. The blows of Cantrain Eriesson's hammer could be the control of the cantrain expression expressi scientific instruments. The blows of Captain Ericsson's hammer could be heard from upstairs, while through the back window a view could be caught of his solar motor, his latest work. Capt. The Splendid View of the Ocean. The wife of a naval officer staying at the Hotel Kaaterskill a few days ago remarked :

A NEWSPAPER PHILOSOPHER. One Journal That Can Get Along With

A good many newspapers are about reaching the conclusion that the use of the telegraph by business men and the press is, after all, a good deal of a luxury, even if some of the orders have to be sent by mail instead the orders have to be sent by mail instead of being flashed over the wires, and just nue and was immediately sent to Barren as many newspapers will be read if they do island. obscure place which their readers never heard of. The tendency of the newspaper press nowadays is to fill its columns with reports of crimes and casualties which may be of interest to the people of the localibe of interest to the people of the locali-ties where they occur, but which nobody living a thousand miles away cares about, to the exclusion of more important mat-ter. If the money that is wasted in telegraphing was spent by the newspapers in other ways journalism would make a great advance. No one newspaper can start out in this direction alone, but if the strike, by depriving us of a part of our telegraph service, should force press agents and special correspondents to make more careful selection of the matter they telecareful selection of the matter they telegraph, it might demonstrate the truth of the statements we have here made.

> Courtesy Excessively Stretched. Reltimore Sun The New York Herald is deluded by interviews with "well-known Virginia lawyers" into the belief that "the South,

The Southerner nowadays draws a severe distinction between well-tempered appeals to his finer sentiments and those which request him to efface himself. The Virginia cavalier of the olden time when approached upon any matter of money had the habit, if we may trust traditions, of at once handing over his well-filled purse to be used as his friend's need or convenience suggested. He was not the man to stand on trifles. His courtesy carried him to the point of ignoring business principles and stubborn facts for the sake of the pleasure of being uniformly affable, polite, generous and self-sacrificing to the point of extravagance. But he kept it up too long, as he now thinks. The giving away of Virginia's vast empire in the northwest territory was extremely courteous, and so were many of the votes of ber congressmen who surrendered solid advantages in return for compliments and abstractions from the representatives of states a trifle more shrewd. But that sort of thing is done with. The Virginian of to-day reserves his courtesy for more reasonable occasions. He will not even consent that the holders of coufrom the confederacy's successor in pos session, to whom her obligations went with her territory and assets. The idea that he will be soft soaped into paying the confederacy's debts, "if properly ap proached" he cannot but welcome with a

LIAVANA AND YARA CIGARSONLY TO the best for the money in the town, at DARKER'S TONIO. By One of the Fools.

"Why-pardon my remarking it-but, my dear old friend, how changed you are. I declare you must have lived very high or very fast to have driven the color out of your hair and the spring out of your step this fashion." Looking at the sunset on the river from the grounds of his place up the Hudson, my school chum-who is now one of the best known mining experts in the country-answered: "It wasn't fast living done it, but dy spepsia and nervous collapse, from over-work. I ought to have stopped years before I did. I was a foot. But who isn't, if you come to that?

"I am thirty five years old," writes Mr Charles H. Watt, of West Somers, Putnam Co., N. Y., and had suffered from dyspepsia for fitteen years. Went the round of the current remedies, falsely so called. Listlessly and without hoge I gave Parker's Tosics tris. The result may be stated in these words, it cured me I endorse now without hesitation. It is the dyspeptic's refuge "Mr. G. R. Cole, drurgist, of Carmel, N. Y., certifies to the truth of Mr. Watts' statement.

Hiscox & Co., proprietors, call especial attention to the fact that this preparation, which has been know as Parkers Ginger Toxic, will hereafter be called simply Parker's Toxic. As unprincipled dealers are constantly keeclying their customers by substituting interior articles under the name of gage, and as ginger is really an unimportant ingredient, we drop the mis eating word.

There is no change, however, in the preparation tisely and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of Parker's Ginger Toxic, contain the genuine medicine if the fac simile signature of Hiscox & Co. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper, augl-imd&w "I am thirty five years old," writes Mr
