The green leaf of the new come Spring."

—Shak. Everybody recognizes spring, when it is gives us a definition, which may not be inappropriate here. 'Spring," says he, "is the eason of the year when plants begin to vegetate and rise; the vernal eason, comprehending the months of March, April and May, in the middle latitudes north of the equator. Thompson, in his "Seasons," and Shak . peare in many of his works, have, perhaps, no peers in describing it, and yet "etherial spring" is freighted with malaria, "that instdious foe, larking in the very air we oreathe." It spreads over the fairest portions of our land; brings death and diseas to thous nds; cuts off scores and cores of our children and youth, as well as those in adwhere are asking, "What is it?" Bare assertions of proprietors have come to possess less force than they frequently merit. The cause of this condition of popular skepticism is, in the main, to be found in the fact that charlatanism covers our broad land. Meritorious articles are too frequently found in bad company. The proprietors of Kidney-Wort always prove all their assertions, touching the merits of their preparations. When weaffirm, theretore, that Kidney-work is a specific for just uch disorders as have been mentioned in this article, the proof, too, belongs to and shall, follow this statement. A PHYSICIAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Dr. R. K. Clark a regu'ar physician of extensive practice in Grand Isle County, and a worthy deacon of the Congregational Church, at South Hero, Vt., has used Kidney-Wort for several years in his practice, and before the present proprietors purchased an interest in has done better than any other remedy I have writes: "I do not recotlect an instance where the patient to whom I have given it has failed to receive benefit from its use, and in some severe cases most decidedly so." These are strong words. They are from a representative, conscientious, ever-approachable public citizen, however, and-better still-they are Kidney Wort will bear all the encomiums layished upon it by its friends-and their name is legion. "I will swear by Kidney-Wort alt the time," writes Mr. J. R. Kauffman, of Lancaster, Pa. We will supplement this by asserting, as a matter of fact, and one capable of demonstration, that all honest patrons of this remedy are its friends and advocates.

MURDERED FOR MONEY.

A Mystery Revealed—The Disappearance of a New York Man and $30,000 Explained.

The little town of Matamoras, Ohio, 35 miles below Wheeling, has just experienced a singular and unparallelled secsation. In 1864 a New York syndicate sent a man to Matamoras to prospect for oil lands. He came with a fine team and had about $50,000 in greenbacks. He went from Matamoras to Archer's Fork, a short distance above, and stopped with a man named Ward, whom he took into his employ. He and Ward prospected about the country for a time, when suddenly he disappeared

His team remained at Ward's, but that individual said he had absconded with his employers' funds and had left him the team in payment for his services. This story was scouted, but there was no evi dence of other facts and it therefore had to be accepted. Soon afterward Ward's cir cumstances underwent a great change. He was a poor man and owned a small and sterile farm, which he disposed of and moved to Metamoras, where he porchased a hotel property and brave and our amaz ingly. About three years ago, Ward, while walking into the yard from the house, threw his hands up, and exclaiming "Oh, my God !" dropped dead. With his death all talk of the disappearance of the New Yorker ended, until it was brought back in a thrilling way recently.

A Murderer's Confession James West, a good-for-naught about Matamoras, who had suddenly come into be said "I have a terr ble disclosure to make ; seed for a minister." A party of New York physicians among them Drs. The disease there appears to be dying out as only 24 cases are now in the lazaretto against 36 in 1878. Decapitated by the Cars. An eccentric citizen named Wm. Seere, being tired, sat down by the side of the railroad track at Union City, Erie county. He fell asleep and his head dropped across the rail, his neck lying on the metal. A train came along and struck the head from the trunk, severing it as clean as though out with a knife.
