and Accident at Bainbridge. Eddie, a five year old son of H C.Reich enbagh, residing at McKee's Half Falls, Union county, Pa., was drowned by acci dentally falling into the canal at lock No. 4, west of Bainbridge, Lancaster county, on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Reichenba, b who is captain of the canal boat "Laura, had stopped at the point above named intending to remain over Sunday. At noon, while the boatmen were feeding the horses at the stable on the opposite side of the canal, Eddie started some time afterwards to join them, taking with him a little bucket. On their return his mother, not seeing him with the party, inquired after him, but they had seen nothing of him. Search was at once made and his hat and bucket were found floatgreat excitement, and willing hands come and Love Lane. This discovery created the bottom of the canal. It was removed to the boat, and Deputy Coroner M. H. Smith, of Baiubridge, was sent for and held an inquest, the jury returning a verdict of "accidentally drowned." The boat was towed to Bainbridge and the body was placed in charge of James Haw thorn, undertaker, by whom it was coffin ed and handed over to the parents, who left with it for their home. During the stay of the bereaved parents at Bainbridge much sympathy was manifested for them and many kindly offices were tendered them, Mrs. Elizabeth Hummell being especially conspicuous in the good work.

Copper Pine Development.

A joint stock company has been formed at Dillsburg, York county, to be called the Dillsburg copper, lead and iron com-pany. The capital stock shall be one hundred thousand dollars, with the privilege to increase the same to one million dollars. The company has bought the Baker & Hess copper mines, which are now being rapidly developed, and which are known to contain a vast and valuable amount of ore, assaying from 5 to 13 per cent. of pure copper in the out crop, worth in ingots about $300 per ton of 2,000 pounds of fine copper. It is the intention of the company to locate their furnaces and smelting works at or near Dillsburg, where ore is rich and abundant. It is said that fully 75 per cent. of the capital stock has already been subscribed.

Police Cases There was considerable drunkenness on the streets on Saturday night and a number of arrests were made. After the Mantua club, of Philadelphia were defeated they got drunk to drown their sorrow. They turned up at the hotel of George Wall, at South Queen and Middle streets. As soon as they got into the barroom they began wrangling among themselves, and became so disorderly that Mr. Wall telephoned for police officers. short time Officers Leaman and Steinwandel arrived. The men were very disorderly and Officer Leman took hold of two and started to the station house with them. Steinwandel took another and started up street, followed by a crowd, including the members of the Philadelphia club. When near the corner of German street some one struck Steinwandel over the head with a loaded cane, cutting him badly. "In the scene that ensued," the prisoner escaped was shown that the two arrested had not been guilty of any serious offense and they were discharged on payment of costs. Later in the night another of the party was arrested and he paid his costs also, and all left town on the 12:40 train. The man who hit the officer was not found, or at least none of them arrested were identi-

They have made as good watches in Lancaster as are made in the world, but the one thing they have yet to learn is how to make the public know the merit of their timepieces. The Waltham and other successful watch companies spent as much money to make their watches known as the Lancaster company now counts as capital, and with good reputation established sales and profits steadily multiply. The Lancaster company seems to have understood all about making watches and little about selling them. While they run the factory on modern steam principles, they run the sales on the Concstoga wagon theory, and that won't do these days

Slight Fire. Saturday evening an alarm of fire was struck from box 51. The firemen promptly responded and found the alarm to have been caused by the bursting of a coal oil lamp in the cellar of Frank Myers, who keeps a store at the corner of High street the cellar, and great fears were felt for a "8 time that it would ignite and explode, in which cases the building would doubtless ... have been burned and the flames have spread to an adjacent frame building in which was stored fifteen barrels of gaso line, used for lighting the street lamps in the western part of the city. Watch Factory Subscriptions. Since the publication of the status and prospects of the watch factory in the In TELLIGENCER of Saturday, it has been determined to increase the capital stock to be sold to $88,000, the stockh liers having relinquished an additional $40,000, reducing their own stock to $160,000. The time for the payment of subscriptions has been made twenty months, so that five per cont. of amount subscribed will be paid in each month, except in the case of the foremen whose agreement is for one year. Thus far upwards of $33,000 have been taken by employes, stockholders and other parties.

A Mr. Shapira, of Jerusalem, a bookseller and dealer in antiquities, has just deposited in the British museum fifteen slips of black sheepskin leather on which are written, in characters similar to those on the celebrated Moabite stone, portions of the book of Deuteronomy differing materially from the received version. The date of the slips is the ninth century be-Assets over ONE MILLION, TWO fore Christ, or sixteen centuries older than any authentic manuscript of any part of the Old Testament. Mr. Shapira bought them from an Arab, and he asks for them $5,000,000 from the British museum If genuine, the interest and importance of the discovery cannot be overrated; and, so

1 am God, thy God. Thou shalt not kill the person of thy brother. the person of thy brother.

I am God, thy God. Thou shalt not iniquity with the wife of thy neighbor. I am God, thy God. Thou shalt not steal the property of thy brother.

I am God, thy God. Thou shalt not swear by my name falsely, for I visit the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generations of those who take my name in vain. I am God, thy God. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy brother.

I am God, thy God. Thou shalt not covet his wife, or his man servant, or his maid servant or anothing that is his.

hate thy brother in thy heart. I am God, thy God. These ten words God spake. Dr. Ginsburg, the eminent Sematic scholar, to whom Mr. Gladstone has just given £50 toward the production of his work on the Masorab, has deciphered the above and is busy completing a translation and determining on behalf of the museum the genuineness of the fragments.

A Hypothetical Case. N. Y. World. The logic of Mr. Curtis' speech on civil service reform is unanswerable; equally unanswerable is the argument of Judge Groesbeck. But their arguments suppose a state of

If we go into suppositions, how would it do to base our suppositions on facts and apply our arguments to a state of affairs which might exist? Suppose that the Democratic party had been in power twenty-four years.

affairs that does not exist.

Suppose that it had been overthrown in consequence of its abuses, its extravagance, its inaptitude and its refusal to regard the wishes or the needs of the people. Suppose that it had constantly made partisanship the test of office and had filled every federal office, without excep tion, with its henchmen and strikers. Suppose that the Republican party, coming into power, should find every department honeycombed with corruption and disgraced by waste, mismanagement favoritism, nepotism and jobs.

Are we to suppose that in that case the Republicau civil service reformers would say that no official should be disturbed and that no new appointment should be made except by the test of the civil service commission's catechism? We do not think the Republicans would do that. We think they would say : "Turn the rascals out!"

Seeking Rest From Place Hunters. President Arthur while at White Sul phur Springs, in a quiet chat with one of his friends, stated that besides his great desire to visit the Yellowstone park and its wonderful geysers, a strong impelling motive for quitting for a time the populated states, was his anxiety to get rid of the importunities of placehunters. "You cannot conceive. said, "how they beset and besiege and harass me everywhere. They are eager for any office in my gift. They will even clutch at consulates where pestilence and death await them. They will take the appointment reckless of the consequences, and some of them actually carry their coffins with them. In one case where a consul was recalled who had es ed being struck down at his post he offered before leaving to sell his coffiin to his successor. By One of the Fools.

" " by-pardon my remarking it-but, my dear old friend, how changed you are. I declare you must have lived very high or very fast to have driven the color out of your hair and the spring out of your step this fashion." Looking at the sunset on the river from the grounds of his place up the lindson, my school chum—who is now one of the best known mining expects in the country-answered: "It wasn't fast living done it, but dy spepsia and nervous collapse, from over-work. I ought to have stopped years before I did. I was a foot. But who isn't, if you come to that? "I am thirty five years old," writes Mr
