At the York Democratic county conven tion at York, Tuesday, a resolution ex pressing deep regret at the sickness of Judge Black, another that the platform and resolution adopted by the recent Democratic state convention at Harrisburg have met their hearty approval, and another fully endorsing the Democratic nominees for auditor general and state treasurer, were adopted.

IIn York while Mr. and Mrs. V. K Keesey were returning from a drive down the Wrightsville pike, their horses were seared by a flaming keg that had been used by several boys in inflating a paper balloon, and suddenly turning around, broke off the pole of the carriage and ran on the pavement, throwing the occupants out. The horses then kept ou, knocked a man down, terribly injuring him, and were at last caught.

Last Sunday morning Mary, an 11-year ld daughter of John Ortlip, of West Bradford township, Chester county, died of hydrophobia after enduring agonies of a distressing character for over twentyfour hours. The child was bitten by a strange dog some five years ago, but at the time nothing serious was feared, though the dog was discovered to be mad a little while afterward and was killed. indi On Saturday morning last the child, while at breakfast, was suddenly taken with spasms while endeavoring to drink a cup of coffee, and though the best of medical skill was brought to bear upon the case she continued to suffer until Sunday morning, when death came to her relief. The bite was over the right eye and was a very trifling one.

ROBBERY.

One Thousand Dollars and Two Gold Some time after two e'clock this morn ing a thief entered the sleeping apartment of J. B. Lebkicher, who keeps a saloon at the corner of Chestnut and Market street and stole almost $1,000 in money and two valuable gold watches. The circumstances as they are reported to us are as follows: Owing to the crowds now in the city attending the German festival, and the late hour at which many of them and of our own citizens, were on the street last night, the saloon was not closed until 2 o'clock this morning. At that hour Mr. Lebkicher, went to bed, and his friend Dr. A. Wassen, dentist, of York, slept with him, Mrs. Lebkicher and a lady friend sleeping in another room. When the parties got up in the morning it was found that the pockets of Dr. Wassen and Mr. Lebkicher had been rifled; that about $900 in money and a valuable gold watch had been stolen from Dr. Wassen and $25 and a gold watch from Mr. Lebkicher. Certificates of deposit and other valuable papers in Mr. L.'s pocket were not taken. Dr. Wassen's rifled pocket book was found in the back yar'. It is not known how the thief gained entrance to the house. It may be that he was concealed inside before the house was closed. No locks were broken, but the back door, which was locked on the inside when the house was closed, was found to open when the family arose in the

The Harrisburg Patriot narrates how a sharper, claiming to be a son of a bank director in Lancaster, tried to throw dust in the eyes of one of Harrisburg's elderly citizens. The sharper was possessed of a pleasing address, and after the ice of acquaintanceship had been broken the nice young man requested his elderly friend to do him the slight favor of identifying him at one of the city banks in order to have a $1,000 check cashed, This the old gentle man, smelling a rat, flatly refused to do, and "his nibs" has been compelled to seek fresher fields and greener pastures for the practice of his '' little game.''

Feast of the Assumption The feast of the assumption of the blessed Virgin Mary into heaven, a holiday of obligation among Catholics, was appropriately observed in the Catholic churches of the city to-day. It commemorates the beautiful tradition that the remains of the Mother of Christ, body and soul, were assumed into heaven, after having been laid away in an earthly tomb. The masses at St. Mary's were at 7 and 9 a. m.; at St. Anthony's at 9 a. m.; and special services of an interesting character were also held at St. Joseph's. There will be vespers at 7 o'clock this evening at St.

Slight fire.

Between two and three o'clock this afternoon a two story brick stable belonging to Mrs. Herman Miller, situated on Mifflin street, immediately in rear of ber soap store, 42 East King street, was discovered to be on fire. The firemen responded promptly to the electric call and very soon had the flames extinguished, the building being only slightly damaged and a half ton of hay and straw destroyed. The fire is be lieved to have been the work of an iumorning. The matter has been placed in cendiary, as the match appears to have been applied to a bundle of hay that had been thrown down from the mow, and from this the flames ascended to the hay in the mow above. The site of Garfield is in the oil regions of Pennsylvania, "When I was here before," muses a visitor, "a city stood upon the crest of this gently rolling hill, a city with no room or time for visitors, and only elbow room for men with Quarryville R. R., urgent business. I slept in a blanket on the sales counter of a bake shop, and was glad to pay a dollar for the privilege; to-day the bake shop is gone, but I could aloop in as many deserted buildings as there are days in the month." It is estimated that over $3,000,000 was invested in land and machinery, and only about half of that value in oil was obtained. After figuring up in that way "but I can't go. She wants me to stay-Tom's widow, I mean; my partner, sir, an' I'm taking care of his widow and one wife and a little money. He struck up a partnership with me, for I knew all about the oil business, and he didn't. He got killed at the well, and as he was dying I promised to do the square thing by his widow. She wants to stay here, because they lived here the first days of their mar ried life. When she gets over it we'll go away; but what she wants I want, an' so A Queer Place.

A stranger visiting the Pitman Grove campmeeting might be impressed with the idea that he had stumbled on a party of lunatics. Yet on inquiry he would be told that the several dozen people who are wildly shouting and carrying on at the "mourners' bench" are those who are seeking the salvation of their souls. Some of them cry out : "Amen! Glory! Lord! I am here! Come and take me! My eyes have been closed but they are now open ! Yea! Lord !" Brother Inskip shouts aloud : " If any of you feel that you can give up all to God, stand right up and say so !" Then the brethren around him shout, "Stand up! stand up!" Then Brother Inskip spies a man who is not standing up. He points at this man and says : "Come, brother. Yes, you, I and Brother Inksip continues : "He's up now. Let us sing !" After Dr. McDonald had preached a sermon of unusual pungency, Brother Inksip jumped up and exclaimed: "Draw the ropes! Stop the crowd! Sit down! Sit down! The Holy Ghost is in our midst! When the bell rings for dinner pay no attention to it. To your knees! To your knees!" About a a quarter of the crowd thus appealed to paused for a few moments. Presently the linner bell rang, and away they scampered to the enjoyment of creature comforts.

What the House Should Do. Philadelphia Record. The present congressional apportion ment in Pennsylvania is an outrageous portionment-which the Republican senators propose to substitute for it—is still more outrageous. What remains for the not to be considered as a weakening on the House to do is to pass fair bills, making all reasonable concessions to Republicans 1036 was to inquire on what terms the men would be taken back into the service | Senate to concur to adjourn and go home? We want to get rid of the few the very few-Straw Hats we have left. To do this we call your attention to the following: Any Boy's Straw Hat in the store, 25c; Men's Macanaws, French Palm Leaves and Manillos at $1.00; these sold at $4.00 early in the season. This takes in nearly everything in Straws, and it will pay us better to slaughter them than to carry them over.
