"THAT LITTLE HAT." I find it in the gardon path, Its little crown half full Of wilted flowers-where's the rogue

Who dared my roses pull ? I find it on the roadside there The flowers tossed away.

And in the crown, packed carefully, A load of stones and clay. I find it in the daisled field, Or hidden in the clover, Inspected by the wandering bees, And crawled by insects over.

I find it on the old barn floor Or in the manger resting, Or swinging from the beams above, Where cooling doves are nesting.

I find it 'neath my busy feet Upon the kitchen floor, Or lying midway up the stairs, Or by my chamber door. I find it in, I find it out.

'Neath table, lounge, or chair; The little shabby, brimless thing, I find it everywhere. But on the curly, golden pate

Were ever seen together? -M. D. Brine. FARM NOTES.

Valuable Hints for Farmers.

Shrewd gardeners are ever on the alert to get all they can out of the small plot of ground at their disposal. Some will get three crops of a certain kind from the same land, but two are very common with many. For instance the early peas can be sown for a fall crop and very welcome they are. Beans, the early and snap varieties, may yet be planted. Lettuce can be sowed in drills to head; spinach for winter use; the Golden-Globe, the China and red turnip-rooted radish for winter use; the turnip, of course, which we have spoken of more at length; cabbage, if planted at once, may yet head ; and so with rutabago. But they must all have the best attention-if fair crops are expected. If we consider for a moment we shall see how nicely extra crops of these things will come in at a period when they are not usually enjoyed, or can be put away for winter.

To Keep Very Shaded Places Green. Especially in the front yards of dwellings both in town and country which are much shaded, we often see the ground complete ly bare, not a living thing being perceptible. Sometimes there are many nearly nude, straggling limbs lying upon the ground or very near it, which are unsightly and every way worthless, that ought to be cut away. This would give room for the growing there of some plant or vine that would be adapted to it, and which would not only cover the naked spot and make it a "lively green," but would be adding much to the general appearance of the premises. The best vine for this purpose is undoubtedly the periwinkle. It will grow almost anywhere in the shade if proper attention is given to it, but not otherwise. It is a beautiful vine and will densely cover the ground, producing nearly the whole season a very pretty blue flower. Weeds, however, are its deadly enemies. It cannot fight them. Steadily they will encroach until they drive away our favorite and occupy the field of battle. A little help now and then, however, will defeat the common enemy, and allow us to enjoy the cool looking, popular ever-green for many years without renewal.

A Heavy Crop of Clover. Mr. Alvin Devereux contributes the following statement to the Deposit, N. Y., Courier:

I recently cut seven acres of clover which turned out a remarkable yield and a few facts as to how we gathered it may not be uninteresting to your readers. We cut a half acre of it and put it in cocks, which numbered 118, and you can guess they stood pretty thick upon the ground. Nearly every day we had rain and the problem was how to cure such a crop of clover and make good hay. We decided the question by determining to put the clover without curing into the silo, and as we had to drive over the scales we determined to know just the amount that grew on the seven acres. On Monday morning we commenced drawing in the half acre of cocks, on Tuesday we were delayed some by rain, but on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the last load was weighed. We found that it footed up 75 tons, 300 pounds, and the question came up how much cured hay it would make. No two men thought alike, so we determined to know. The last load which weighed 1,520 pounds was spread from the wagon to dry. Leaving it until night it was put in the cocks to sweat, opened again the next morning and thoroughly cured; it was drawn in the barn in the afternoon and weighed. The product was 680 pounds, the grass yielding over 44 per cent. of hay, which would give a yield of 33 tons from the seven acres. As soon as the last load was in stone were placed on the covers, weighing

A Large Lot of BASEBALL SHOES, 75c. & $1.00, $1.25 45,000 pounds. The covering and weighing cost just five dollars. The clover under this weight has settled eight and one half feet, so that it now occupies a space equal to 4,675 cubic feet. If it takes 600 feet of clover hay to weigh a ton then this crop made into hay would have used up 19,800 feet of barn room, and I Of All Descriptions Made to Order leave your readers to draw their own con clusions between the silo and the hay bay of the barn. I will only say that it would have required two bays each 30x16 feet and 20 feet in depth to have held the

LIKE AN EVIL SPIRIT

In olden times it was thought that evil spirits came in through cracks and keyholes The generally approved way to keep them out was to plug up the keyholes and stop the racks with cotton. Notwithstanding these preventive measures, the evil things had their own way and often came in as they pleased.

So comes malaria now-a-days. We try to keep it out of the key-hole and it comes in by the crack. We stop up the crack, and lo! it comes from a leak in the plumbing, or an opening from some neglected drain, or from some unsuspected source and unguarded direction. We cannot always keep malaria out, but we can give it battle and drive its effects from our systems. If Brown's Iron Birress is taken in time, malaria has not a ghost of a chance. This is the great family medicine. Your druggist sells it and you ought to keep a bottle in the

[From Andrew's American Queen] CLEOPATRA OR THE

Queen of Sheeba's Beauty

WAS BUT SKIN DEEP. The renowned Queen of Sheba, with all her royal pomp, magnificent apparel and brilliant retinue, would never have appeared within the presence of the grandest of the monarchs of the past, had she not also possessed that which is the crowning glory of the temale person-a skin unchallenged for its Oriental oftness and its almost transcendental purity-Cleopatra, holding emperors at bay, and rul-ing empires by her word, had quickly lost her charm and power by one attack of blotches, or ot pimples, or of horrid tan and freckles. by her beauty, not less than by her purity of character, loveliness of disposition and unsel fish devotion. Indeed, in the estimation of perhaps too many men beauty in a body takes ecedence over every other consideration. Beauty thus forms an important part of woman's "working capital," without which too many, (if not bankrupts in what relates to influence within the circle where they move), are powerless for great good. Hence we see not only the propriety but the duty of every lady preserving with zealous care that which to her is essential to success, and influence, and useful-ness in life. And, since "beauty is but skin deep," the utmost care and vigilance are re-ouired to guarq it against the many lils that flesh is heir to. Among the great and annoy-ing enemies of beauty,

OF EITHER SEX as well as of comfort, happiness and health, are those pestiferous and horrid skin diseases tetters, humors, eczema (salt rheum). rough and scaly eruptions, ulcers, pimples, and all diseases of the hair and scalp. For the cure of all these, Dr. C. W. Benson, of Baltimore, after years of patient study and investigation. atter years of patient study and investigation devoted to diseases of the skin, at last brought forth his celebrated SKIN CURE, which has already by its marvelous cures, established itself as the great remedy for all disease of the skin, whatever be their names or character. Its success has been imposed and unter. Its success has been immense and un-paralleled. All druggists have it. It is ele-gantly put up, two bottles in one package. In-ternal and external treatment. Price, $1.00.

Having dissolved party exceptions and petmanently closed the Chestnut Street Iron Works, I desire to inform my old patrons and the public generally, that I am still in the business, being located in the Penn Iron Company's Works, North Plum street, where I am making Iron and Brass Castings of every de-tription, and will be pleased to serve all who may favor me with their patronage. From 40 years experience in the business and using the best material and employing the best mechanics, I am sati-fied I can guarantee entire satisfaction. Castings made from a mixture of iron and steel which are more reliable for strength and durability than the best cast iron known. V teeth roll pinions, rolls and rolling mill work a specialty. Castings made of very soft iron, and brass castings of every description. I have all the patters of the well and tayorably known Mowrer Corn and Cob Crusher, refitted and improved. Also on hand, mills completely fitted up or in parts, to replace old ones which have been in use for years, guaranteeing them to give satisfaction.
