SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 25, 1888,

WHY? Many a monk of olden time, Dwelling amid the cloister shade.

Has won a crown that ne'er can tade, And wears a royal robe sublime. His lights were fancy, but to him They were the beacons in the night,

That led his weary footsteps right-Not waning tapers low and dim. The painted robes that deck'd a saint, The pallor of a chiel'd brow.

Brought adoration-made him bow. And beg some penance, some restraint. The knotted scourge, the wasting fast. The hours of prayer on floors of stone, The world push'd back, the aim alone To gain salvation's rest at last.

Yet we who have our guiding light Before us, pointing out the way, Revert our eyes, our footsteps stray. And we are groping through the night.

How Men Should Dress.

-Churchman

Boston Congregationalist. We have seen in the public press refer ences to some late endeavor at "common sense dress" for women. Why, in the name of all that is reasonable and sensible can we not have common sense dress for men? We have lately heard that some long-headed clothier predicts a speedy return to "small clothes;" and, what with the help of the bicycle and yachting uniform, and the prevalent tendency among boys toward long stockings and knee breeches, why man not a reform in this respect be soon achieved? It will, of course, be at once objected that legs, in general, are not good enough to bear so truth-telling a style of covering. But to this there are two replies : First, that probably, with the attention bestowed upon physical culture, there are as many good legs now as ever there were; and cond, that once the novelty worn off, no more thought would be given to the subject than now is bestowed upon whether ears are large or small, or hands genteel

We doubt if it be possible to array the masculine figure at once more comfortably and becomingly than was done 100 years ago-in long stockings, breeches, somewhat prolonged vest, or doublet, and a bread skirted, handy, big pocketed jerkin or coat, crowned with a roomy chapeau or soft hat. The test of sculpture and painting is a good one to aid in determining what is permanently comely. And, while it would be hard to overstate the stiff and repulsive ungainliness of a man modeled into a statue in the full dress suit and hat of our day, one does not soon tire of look ing at pictures like those of Franklin and Dr. Johnson, or even of the profuse, yet still comely, exaggerations of costume of Charles II and his court.

What marbers Earn. New York Tribune.

A barber in a prominent hotel said to a Tribune reporter who had noticed the frequent "tips" that he received : "We don't make as much as you think we do. The pay in the best hotels is $2 a day and we get from $1 to $1:50 extra in fees. Sunday work earns us our days off. How many customers a day? About thirty, sale Agent for W. C. Benson's remedies. averaging up the time taken to cut hair, shampoo, etc. No, we have no brotherhood or association. We had one a few years ago, but it came to an end. Pay us to strike? Hardly. Hundreds of men would be ready to fill my place within a day. Sometimes we are called to private residences. Then we get fifty cents a shave, at times $1. We have to furnish our own tools-razors, scissors, etc.-and that costs about $5 per month, outside of the $50 capital necessary to start us. Of course every good barber has his regular customers, but it wouldn't pay to start a shop of your own, as few of these customers would follow you; they get used to a place, you see, and dislike to change. Why is a shampoo charged forty cents when a 'hair cut' is also forty cents? Well, we don't make much on the 'hair cut,' and so we even it up on the sham

THE GRAY MEDICINE O., N. 1

REOWN'S IRON BITTERS.

THE PECULIAR OLD MYSTERY.

It was one of the peculiarities of the old-fashioned doctors that never would tell their patients what they were prescribing for them. They said it would do the patients no good o know, and that it would only be gratifying a foolish curiosity. In order to keep patients from knowing, they would write the prescriptions in dog-Latin, so that most patients could not read them. All that sort of thing is now over. The patient wants to know what he takes. He is weak, and wants to be strong, or he is dyspeptic, and wants to dige:t well-Or he has a troublesome liver which he wants to put to rights. So he takes Brown's Iron Bitters about which there is no mystery at at all. This is the best preparation of iron in the world, in combination with gentle yet efficient, tonics. It gives strength. It builds up enfeebled systems. It enriches impoverished blood. It removes feminine weaknesses It casts out debility. It is what you want, and your druggist has it.

WAS BUT SKIN DEEP.

The renowned Queen of Sheba, with all her oyal pomp, magnificent apparel and brilliant retinue, would never have appeared within the presence of the grandest of the monarchs of the past, had she not also possessed that which is the crowning glory of the female person—a skin unchallenged for its Oriental softness and its almost transcendental purityleopatra, holding emperors at bay, and rulng empires by her word, had quickly lost her tharm and power by one attack of blotches, or of pimples, or of horrid tan and freckles. WOMAN RULES THE WORLD.

by her beauty, not less than by her purity of character, loveliness of disposition and unsol fish devotion. Indeed, in the estimation of perhaps too many men beauty in a body takes precedence over every other consideration Beauty thus forms an important part of woman's "working capital," without which too many, (if not bankrupts in what relates too many, (if not bankrupts in what relates to influence within the circle where they move), are powerless for great good. Hence we see not only the propriety but the duty of every lady preserving with zealous care that which to her is elsential to success, and influence, and usefulness in life. And, since 'beauty is but skin deep," the utmost care and vigilance are required to guara it against the many ills that flesh is heir to. Among the great and annoying enemies of beauty, ing enemies of beauty, OF EITHER SEX as well as of comfort, happiness and health, are those pestiferous and horrid skin diseases tetters, humors, cezema (sait rheum), rough and scaly eruptions, ulcers, pimples, and all diseases of the hair and scalp. For the cure of all these, Dr. C. W. Benson, of Baltimore, after years of patient study and investigation devoted to diseases of the skin, at last brought forth his celebrated Skin. Cura, which has already by its marvelous curas, estabbrought forth his celebrated SKIN CURE, which has already by i's marvelous cures, established itself as the great remedy for all disease of the skin, whatever be their names or character. "Why-pardon my remarking it-but, my dear old friend, how changed you are. I declare you must have lived very high or very fast to have driven the color out of your hair and the spring out of your step this fashion." Looking at the sunset on the river from the grounds of his place up the Hudson, my school chum-who is now one of the best known mining experts in the country-answered: "It wasn't fast living done it, but dy spepsia and nervous collapse, from over-work. I ought to have stopped years before I did. I was a fool But who isn't, if you come to that? "I am thirty five years old," writes Mr

"I am thirty five years old," writes Mr Charles H. Wattı, of West Somers, Putnam Co., N. Y., and had suffered from dyspepsia for litteen years. Went the round of the current remedies, falsely so called. Listlessly and without hope I gave Parker's Tonio a trial. The result may be stated in these words, if cured me. I endorse now without hesitation. It is the dyspeptic's refuge "Mr. G. R. Cole, druggist, of Carmel, N. Y., certifies to the truth of Mr. Watta's statement.

Hiscox & Co., proprietors, call especial at tention to the fact that this preparation, which has been known as Parker's Ginger Tonic, will hereafter be called simply Parker's Tonic. As unprincipled dealers are constantly keceiving their customers by substituting interior articles under the name of ginger, and as ginger is really an unimportant ingredient, we drop the mis-eading word.

There is no change, however, in the preparation itself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of Parker's Ginger Tonic, contain the genuine medicine if the fac simile signature of Hiscox & Co. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper.
