They are pretty nearly the same size, and made of about the same stuff." The talk, of which the foregoing is a fragment, took place in Gallatin, Missouri, not long ago, in the snug office of Dr. M. troduced it substantially in these words. "Nonsense, that is the rigmarole of boy, or rather, of a man who either doesn't know or doesn't care what he says. Those things, as you call them, are just as different as the moon is from green cheese. Now, liniments, lotions and ointments are market '82 Pennsylvania and '82 New York state will have no competitor. '82 Connecticut, as a whole, has sunk into line with common Ohio. We particularly request buyers of leaf to examine claim that there is a sufficiency of fine leaf, and that though the seconds of the crop, as a rule, do not burn well the wrappers are faultless in that respect. We examined this tobacco here as well as in the country numerous times. In our judgment seven eights of it is trash, and all the protests of interested or disinterested parties will not make us its course. think and write otherwise of it. Trash it is, and trash it will be-sweat it as you may. The comparative diminutive number of cases of fine tobacco in the '82 Ohio crop, leave, as we have mentioned before, the '82 Pennsylvania and the '82 New York state the only two crops fit for greatest excitement prevailed among the manipulation into fice eigars. It is calculated that both crops contain only about 30,000 cases of really fine grades.

To the casual observer it will appear strange that under these conditions there is not a rush for these crops, and that prices do not rule exceedingly high. This is easily explained. People are afraid to take hold of them in large quantities. The Pennsylvania crops during the past several years have changed from good to bad when the cold weather set in; the state, in many instances, lost its rich silky nature during the same period.

Therefore, though there exists an undis guised anxiety on all sides to secure good tobacco, no heavy transactions are taking place. If nothing interferes with the fer mentation of the two crops mentioned high prices will be realized for the same. '81 Pennsylvania is looming up once more. The failure of the '82 Connecticut crop and the prospective shortage of good tobacco gives medium tobacco a new chance for an outlet. There certainly was more inquiry for '81 Pennsylvania last weck than in any other week for the past six months. Over 500 cases changed

Holders of Samatra are like Micawber, waiting for something to turn up. Buyers for Sumatra have of such small numbers that holders have become exceedingly nervous. They need fear no losses; the cossation in demand for result among the poor who were burned Sumatra is temporary only. Should the '82 Ponnsylvania and '82 state prove de. out. It is not known accurately how many dwellings were burned, but they will ficient in tine wrappers, there will be a number at least a score. The fire is a ter-sciamble for Sumatra no doubt, and prices will shoot up rocket like. Even with the best results in these two crops, there is not enough of fine seed leaf in the country to cause Sumatra to become a drug in the market. Prices for the same may not ircrease materially in such a case; but it has a strong foothold in the country, and in many quarters the finest of seed leaf is net considered a substitute. Such cases, however, have no perceptible bearing upon the seed leaf market. The sales of the week were as follows: Pennsylvania, crop '81, 500 cases at 9 to

A GREAT FIRE RAGING.

A dispatch from Williamsport early this norning says : A great conflagration, which has now been raging for several bours and has destroyed an immense amount of property, broke out at 6 o'clock on Monday night and was still burning fiercely this morning. The fire started in Finley, this stock personally, and not to take our views as an absolute guide. Holders of this tobacco are protesting against our emphatic condemnation of the same. They department, aided by the citizens genrally, and aid was summoned from Sunbury, Watertown, Lock Haven and other towns. Before 10 o'clock aid had arrived from Watertown, Lock Haven, Sunbury and Milton, but by that time the fire had got beyond all control and was burning fiercely with the firemen powerless even to check

> At that time the yards of Finley, Young & Co., Payne & Co., C. Rhen and H. Merriman & Sons were all on fire. The fire had then reached upper Vine street on the north and about a dozen dwelling houses were in flames. The people in the threatened districts and hundreds of persons were engaged in re-moving household effects. Though there was no wind blowing, the fire burned with great florceness, the intense heat arising from the huge piles of burning lumber driving the firemen before it.

At half past 11 the fire was still burning as fiercely as ever and seemed to be gain ing headway rapidly. All the houses on both sides of Susquehanna street for the distance of a block were gone and it was then raging along upper Vine street. An aggregate estimate of the lumber destroyed places it at 28,000,000 feet, and the aggregate loss will reach something over half a million dollars. The heaviest sufferers are Finley, Young & Co., Payne & Cochran and H. Merriman & Son. At midnight the fire was still burning, but was believed to be pretty nearly under control. The firemen bad concentrated their efforts to prevent its spread west. A large number of dwelling houses on Vine and Susquehauna streets have been destroyed. At one o'clock it is believed that the fire is under control. The territory burned over is about sixteen acres in extent, all of which was comparatively filled with lum ber. The firemen from this and other places are still gallantly fighting to prevent the spread of the flames and their work is beginning to tell. Much suffering will several hundred men out of employment right in the busiest part of the season. It is reported, but not definitely known, that a boy was burned to death. A later estimate places the aggregate loss of lumber at thirty-five million feet. Unless the wind changes the fire can now be con-

THE BONAPARTISTS. Political Significance of the Recent Banquet In Paris. The annual banquet of the Bonapartists, held in Paris, recently, was significant in the ignoring of Prince Napoleon and the laudation of Prince Victor. The latter, though not, of course, expected to attend, as he is serving his year in the army, was, figuratively speaking, raised on the bucklers of his partisans and preclaimed Napo leon V. Prince Napoleon's organs have been condemning the whole affair, and even representing that the banquet had been got up by police spies or government hirelings. There were repeated cheers for "Prince Victor" and for "The Emperor," which were treated as synonymous terms;

while a proposal to raise a cheer for Prince Napoleon was received with general cries "Non!" In like manner Prince Napoleon's name was absent from the list of toasts, which included the Empress Eugenie, "still and ever for us the Em-press of the French," Prince Victor and M. de Cassagnae. The two sons of M. Amigues presided, and, without naming Prince Napoleon, suggested that he occupied an ambiguous position by being a candidate for M. Grevy's seat as well as for the imperial crown. They hinted that when Prince Victor had attained his offective majority, by having completed his military duties, he would assert his claim, and that some social peril would THE GREAT REMEDY FOR EVERY KIND oblige even the Republicads to resort to a plebiseite, whereupon the prince would offer himself to France. They scouted any idea of a compromise with the republic, such as Prince Napoleon was said to contemplate, but which was contrary to the imperialist traditions. At the dinner there women and children, and even infants in arms. About as many more persons were Jeromists, and caused a little disorder.

Popular Gatherings.

The attendance at Camp Geary, Gettysburu, was increased yesterday. In the morning the Eighty eighth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers dedicated three tablets, one in Zeigler's grove, near Tarry town road, one where Gon. Hancock was wounded, and one on Seminary Ridge. Gen. George W. Gill, of Camden, N. J. delived the address. The Ninety-first Pennsylvania volunteers dedicated a monament on Little Round Top, near where Generals Weed and Vincent fell. Joseph Sinex, who commanded the regiment during the engagement delivered an address. In the afternoon the Seventysecond Pennsylvania unveiled a monument General Alexander S. Webb being the speaker. The Baltimoro Schuetzenfest yesterday began its annual festival at its park on the Belair road, near Baltimore. Many visitors were present from New York and

UNDENIABLE It is an UNDENIABLE FACT that we make nd sell more CLOTHING than any other establishment in the county; that it is thoroughly WELL MADE, and that prices asked therefore, are always low enough to suft the most economically inclined-a fact established by years of pusiness success-a fact that is growing more and more convincing as the rears roll on. We are able to day to offer BETTER IN-DUCEMENTS than ever. We have increased our facilities, increased our stock, increased business; never have sold as much CLOTHING in the same length of time as in the present year of 1881. We have increased all the inducements to customers, increased our facilities for selling and means of buying , and believe we can justly claim to stand forth without a rival in the CLOTHING business in this section of the country.

Thanking our many friends and customers one and all, for their past liberal patronage and support, and promising our very best efforts to merit such tavors as all will see fit to bestow in the future, we remain sincerely
