He was held by United States Commissioner Bell in $1,500 for answer to-morrow. The complaint against O'Grady also charges that in a number of instances forgery was committed. It is alleged that he has filed with the pension bureau fully a dozen affidavits, purporting to have been signed by and sworn to before John McKinley, a member of the bar and notary public. Mr. McKinley denies having signed any of them.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS. New Buildings Erected and in Course of Erection.

Although our merchants and shopkeepers complain that the spring and summer trade of Lancaster has been exceptionally dull, the builders have had quite a busy time of it since the first of April last, as the following list of building permits, copied from the official record in the mayor's office, will show:

The new water market, corner of Orange and Pine streets, and the new eastern market, corner of East King and Church, of which mention has heretofore been made, are being pushed forward to completion.

BASEBALL. Ironides vs. Atlantic of Berks—A Very Poor Game.

The poorest exhibition of baseball, if it can be called by that name, was given yesterday afternoon by the Ironides and Atlantic, of Brooklyn, on the grounds of the former and before a good sized audience. It was a game of errors on the part of both sides and the best way of ascertaining who made them is to refer to the score. It is sufficient to say that it is the longest game ever played here.

Although they did not have near so many balls to run after nearly all the runs made by the visitors were through errors of the Ironides, who were unable to stop many of the runs made by the principal players. The game was made up by wild throwing. Jones played a poor game behind the bat, and was unable to back Hofford up. He had a large number of passed balls, and they were always at times when third base had a runner, who has no difficulty in reaching home. The game seems to be stilted up and did not move after the balls, some of which he could have had. At the bat the home team did their fine playing, and hammered both Brady and Hofford all afternoon. In the seventh inning they scored seven runs, the batting being very heavy. Hofford made a two bagger, and Schiller, after a base hit, had no trouble scoring on the errors of the visitors. The whole score follows:

Ironides. R. B. P. O. A. E. Atlantic. R. B. P. O. A. E.

Ironides. R. B. P. O. A. E. Atlantic. R. B. P. O. A. E.

Ironides. R. B. P. O. A. E. Atlantic. R. B. P. O. A. E.

Ironides. R. B. P. O. A. E. Atlantic. R. B. P. O. A. E.

Discharged. Some time ago D. B. Charles, a young man of this city, and next turned up in Chicago. His wife in this city, upon learning of his whereabouts, had him arrested through Alderman Spurrier, on the charge of adultery, and the Alderman, with a request, started for Chicago to bring him home. The New Era published these facts, which were known by the other newspaper men, on Monday. The friends of Charles here saw it for the first time in that paper, and engaged counsel in this city, before Spurrier's arrival in Chicago. Charles was discharged absolutely and is now free.

Lancaster Boys in the Show Business. Tommy Mack wrote to friends in this city, that he had joined Hi Henry's minstrels at Gowanda, New York, this week. Frank Kenney, formerly of this city, who has been living in Chicago for some years, goes with the same party.

Assessments. This popular company which has for some time been in Europe doing a big business, has returned to the United States and will appear in Fulton opera house, this city, on Friday evening. The entertainment is a delightfully comical one all through. The talent engaged, which includes the eminent Irish comedian, Mr. Thomas Libourne, of the first order, and "The Frolics of a Day," which is the name of their musical, farcical absurdity, will certainly be well-worth liberal patronage.
