WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUG. 29, 1883. EXPLOSION OF A BOILER.

A Terrible Disaster on the Steamer Riverdale as it passed New York.

The boiler of the steamer Riverdale, which plies between New York and Lancaster, exploded Tuesday afternoon while the boat was near wharf at the foot of Sixteenth street, North river.

On the arrival of ambulances the body of Mrs. Sisson, of Tarrytown, was brought ashore in a boat. Her grandson, whose name is Charles, had jumped from the upper deck and was picked up by a tug boat.

THE PECULIAR OLD MYSTERY.

It was one of the peculiarities of the old-fashioned doctors that never would tell their patients what they were prescribing for them. They said it would do the patients no good to know, and that it would only be gratifying a foolish curiosity.

They said it would do the patients no good to know, and that it would only be gratifying a foolish curiosity. In order to keep patients from knowing, they would write the prescriptions in dog-Latin, so that most patients could not read them.

All that sort of thing is now over. The patient wants to know what he takes. He is weak, and wants to be strong, or he is dyspeptic, and wants to digest well. Or he has a troublesome liver which he wants to put to rights.

So he takes Brown's Iron Bitters about which there is no mystery at all. This is the best preparation of iron in the world, in combination with gentle yet efficient tonics. It gives strength. It builds up enfeebled systems. It enriches impoverished blood. It removes feminine weaknesses.

It cures indigestion. It is what you want, and your druggist has it. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.
