TO MEET HIS DARLING. SUICIDE FROM GRIEF AT HER DEATH

Dr. Hunter's Farewell Message-Crazed by

Ills Wife's Death, He Kills Him-

Fluid. Two years ago Dr. Mulford S. Hunter married Isabella Hinckley Susini, a daughter of Signor Basil Susini, of New York, the well known singer. She was then twenty years old, and a girl of remarkable beauty. At the convent of the Sacred Heart she received a thorough education.
From both parents Miss Susini inherited musical ability of a high order, which was developed under the tuition of Achilles To make her happy seemed the object of his existence. They boarded with Mrs. Hinckley, Mrs. Hunter's grandmother, at No. 155 East Thirty-first street and every hour the young dentist could spare from business was devoted to his wife. When she became ill early in the summer he called in Dr. G. W. Brooks, of No. 58 West Thirty second street, who pronounced the disease to be cerebro-spinal meningitis. Day and night the anxious husband watched at the bedside, and saw with ever increasing dread that she grew worse day by day. Worn with fatigue, he took his station in the sick room on the night of July 22. Towards morning he fell into a doze and dreamed that his wife was dying. He awoke with quickened pulse, turned up the gas, and bent quietly over the wasted form on the When he touched his wife's cheek lightly he found that it was very cold. "My God! The dream is true! She is dead ! he screamed. The despairing cry brought friends to the room. Kneeling beside the bed the sorrow stricken husband, with great tears rolling from his eyes, was trying to bring life back to his idol. She was not dead, as he had supposed, but only a little life remained, and in a few moments the spark was extinguished. From that hour Dr.

Hunter was an altered man. He accused Dr. Brooks of malpractice and demanded an investigation. Mrs. Hunter's body was taken to Detroit by her husband, and then it became evident that his mind had completely broken down, He was kept under restraint for some time, but was finally allowed his liberty when he appeared capable of managing his affairs again. Upon returning to New York he reiterated his charges against Dr. Brooks and clamored for an official inquiry. He grew more and more desperate and on Friday night shot him

Among the dead man's effects were the ousiness card of Dr. G. W. Brooks, surgeon, No. 38 West Thirty-second street, between Fifth avenue and Broadway. The name was scratched out, and over it was written "Murderer." On the back of the card were the words, in a fine angular

"In view of his wild charge against my self I intended to apply for a commission de lunatico inquirendo. Mrs. Hunter died of cerebro spinal meningitis, and all the doctors in the world could not have saved her. Of this her parents and friends are window. Mrs. Brooks heard him groping front door. He imagined that he must kill me, my wife and himself in revenge for Mrs. Hunter's death. I beleive that Hunter's mind was naturely unsound, but the loss of his wife no doubt increased the infirmity. While I was treating Mrs. Hunter he was so nervous and peculiar that I had great difficulty in getting a co-herent story from him. I have practiced medicine for forty years."

Mrs. Brooks said that Hunter entered the house clandestinely on Thursday night. He had called several times during the doctor's absence from town, threatening to kill both the doctor and Mrs. Brooks. When his wife died he was determined to take his own life, and was with difficulty prevented from doing it.

SURGEON OWENS' DEATH. Said to Have Been Occasioned Through a Commodore's Personal Spite Saratoga dispatch to the Press,

Among the naval people soje rning here deep regret is felt for the loss of Surgeon and Mrs. Owens, who recently died of yellow fever at the Pensacola navy yard. The fate of this gifted and brave young officer was poculiarly hard. A year ago, while he was at the same post, yellow fever was impending, and, out of humanity, he advised Captain Hepkins. the commandant, to ask and obtain a leave of absence, he being nervous and always in feeble health. The captain asked the department to be sent away. which is only customary to grant, both to officers and men, when exposure to an Shortly before the leave came, becoming not transcended orders, and he was a most conscientious and faithful man, with a couspicuously gallant record. It was a pecuniary hardship to him as well. He had saved up only $1,000 from his pay, and this was exhausted by his expenses at Washington during the court martial. He was acquitted, there being really not the shadow of justice in this prosecution of him, but went back to his post sorely wounded in pride. He was continued there this year, whereas one year's service at a post of danger like that is like a year's ruise on a monitor, equivalent to a three year's ordinary cruise, and he was entitled to a transfer. Captain —, however (now commodore by virtue of his being chief of bureau), who wields a singular and unwholesome influence over Secretary Chandler's mind had determined on Sur geon Owen's punishment because his testimony had been merciful toward Hopkins whom this testy commodore disliked. Hence he was remanded to Pensacola, where he had been unremitting in his devotion this summer, to sick civilians and marines alike, has become a worshipped marines alike, has become a wershipped name among them. Now he and his sweet wife lie in hasty graves, leaving three doubly orphaned children, one being a babe three months old, to the care of her loving relatives. Two of these children are lying ill with the terrible scourge that removed their parents. Mrs. Owens was a niece of Rear Admiral Pierce Crosby, of the Atlantic squadron, and of the wife of Captain Queen, U. S. N. The paymaster at the Pensacola yard is also dead of the

the Close of their Annual Convention on Sunday at Rochester.

The Freethinker's convention at Ro-chester, N. Y., closed on Sunday. Two thousand people were in attendance. It was resolved to leave the selection of a place for the next meeting to the executive committee. A vote of thanks was extend-ed to the "Liberals and the public of Rochester, the press of the city, that have used us better than we have ever been used before, and to the newspapers that have attempted to be fair and impartial." The speakers were Rev. Thomas Mitchell, of Brooklyn; Hon. Elizur Wright, of Bos ton, who argued against miracles; George Chainey, of Boston; J. H. Burnham, of Michigan; Mrs. Judgo Keekel, of Mis souri, and Charles Watts, of England. An invitation is being prepared by leading citizens of Buffalo for Rev. Thomas Mitchell to deliver his lecture, "A Defense of Christianity," and for T. B. Wakeman to deliver his reply thereto in Rochester. The gentlemen have accepted the invita tions and the discussions will take place next Thursday and Friday evenings.
