Presbyterial Society of Foreign Missions.

At the sixth annual meeting of the Woman's Presbyterial society of foreign missions, held at Chestnut Level on Wednesday and Thursday, Rev. C. Stewart, D. D., delivered an interesting address appropriate to the occasion. The devotional exercises on Thursday afternoon were conducted by Mrs. Dr. Underwood, of this city. The money contributed during the year amounted to two thousand dollars; thank offerings one hundred and nineteen dollars. The officers remain the same, with the exception of the vice presidents.

The closing exercises were very impressive. At three p. m. on Thursday, the society adjourned to meet September, 1884, in this city. This was the largest and most profitable session ever held by the society.

Y. M. C. A. in Session.

Mr. J. P. McCaskey, of this city, has been made one of the eight members of the state executive committee of the Young Men's Christian association, which is now holding its state convention in York. Among the delegates from this city in attendance are the following: Daniel S. Kurtz, Samuel D. Bausman, John M. Davidson, Chas. H. Frey, J. Albert Zecher, Walter G. Bateman and Frank E. Smith.

Large Ball.

Last evening the Marion club, which is composed of well known young men of this city, held a ball in Mennerchor. There was a very large audience present and it was a fine affair, everything passed off nicely.

Good Gunning.

Jacob and Charles Franciscus and Horace Miller returned last evening from a two days gunning trip in the lower end of the county. They killed twenty-nine large fat ground hogs and a grey squirrel.

Waived a Hearing.

John Burke, who was charged before Alderman Barr, by G. J. Hildebrand of Quarryville, with cruelty to animals in overdriving a horse waived a hearing this morning and gave bail for court.

Religious.

Rev. Fredk Aurand, of Middleburg, Pa., will preach in Gotwald chapel, West James street, to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are invited.

Amusements.

"Oliver Twist"—Miss Bertha Welby, as Nancy Sikes, in this strongly emotional play, has won great praise. The Jersey City Argus says of her: "Bertha Welby again proved herself possessed of the highest emotional abilities. She conceives the character of meanest duety and truthfully, and gave a very strong portrayal of the good hearted unfortunate, Nancy Sikes. Her voice has a very considerable flexibility and readily adapts itself to the different shades of feeling. In the scenes of grief and despair her tones were sympathetic, and the play of her features excellent." She appears in this city Monday evening. The scenery is very fine and realistic.

"Moths."—There will be fun and frolic, laughter loud and long, at Fulton opera house on Tuesday evening, when Edwards' Folly company present this jolly, side splitting melange of comedy here. It used to be known as "Fun in a Balloon," but the title was changed and the play made funnier and worthier. Nobody should miss "Moths." It sparkles and glitters and is loaded with mirth.

A Handsome's Woman's Sad Death.

Early Wednesday morning the body of Mrs. Anna D. Reynolds was found at the foot of the third story stairway at her residence in Philadelphia. Although she had fallen down stairs there was nothing to show the fall had killed her, and it is beleved that she committed suicide by taking poison. She was seen on Thursday night very much intoxicated. Mrs. Reynolds was very handsome and well educated and when sober her conversation was bright and pleasing. It is supposed that poverty and the neglect of her friends drove her to suicide. Her apartments were in great confusion. On the bureau was a piece of brown paper addressed to her daughter, and with the following words written on it: "Ella, goodbye, I can wait no longer." Some drugs with a peculiar smell were found in the bottom of a whisky glass on the mantlepiece.

Knowing that my ointment is superior to any article in the market, I guarantee it to cure the worst case of itching piles in existence.
