Jadge Simoston on the Revision of Taxes

Judge Simonton, of the Dauphin pectation that she will register a Democounty court, has been indulging him- cratic victory, as did the Buckeye com self in some of that judicial legislation monwealth one month ago. But the to which judges are prone. The state triumph cannot be won unless every boatd for the revision of taxes, which is Democratic vote is polled. To the polls enpowered by law to equalize the state then, Democrats, and make certain the taxation in the several counties of the condemnation that the bosses have state, and which, therefore, naturally richly deserved at the hands of an out assumed that it had the power of in- raged people ! creasing or diminishing the assessment of any county, raised Philadelphia's assessment to some two hundred millions driven out of the high places they had on the evidence of the recorder's books so long dishenered in our common wealth. that more than twice that amount of mortgages were recorded in the county. work then ausuicionally begun and drive expected to counteract the ramors that The evidence certainly seems satisfactory, and the fact seems to be indisputable that the movey at interest subject to taxation by the state in Philadelphia, has not been assessed at too great a sum by the state board.

Judge Simonton declares, however, that the amount of the assessable porperty is to be determined by the local board of assessors ; a decision which own behalf and against the people, will clearly seems to deprive the state board all be at the polls to-day, and unless the of revision of its functions.

We do not understand how he reserves any powers at all to them, if they are successful. Vote while there is yet bound to accept the return of time ! the county assessors. He says that the state board was formed to equalize the assessments between the parting quest ; in other words, vote that counties; and that it has not acted the Democratic party must come, and equitably in its Philadelphia assessment, that the Republican party must go because it has not changed the assessment of other counties while changing Philadelphia's ; that the whole assessment of the state having been ninetyeight millions, of which Philadel phia's was forty five millions, it was grossly inequitable to raise Philadelphia to two hundred millions without increasing the assessment upon the remaining counties. But why so, if the state board only had evidence before have not already east your ballot, put it in German Emperor. It is said that the it that the Philadelphia assessment was for Taggart and Powell, and make certain too low ? If Philadelphia really has five hundred millions of unsatisfied mort gages, she cannot complain of a two hundred million assessment ; and if her authorities think she is not assessed in home in each of the seventy-two election proper proportion to the rest of the state districts of the county, more than 700 they can easily show the fact by the votes will be lost to the party. To the mortgage records of the counties. Noth- polls ' ing of the kind was done in this suit. There is nothing to show that the state board did not equalize the assessment throughout the state by raising Philadelphia from nearly forty five to two hun phine from nearly forty: five to two hunders of dollars. If this had beer added to the correct is first based of the state board on the state board on the state board on the state board of revision cannot go belind the county sussessment is only through the county sussessment.
