among lvictors and vanquished there will be felt an equal sense of relief. The nervous strain and wear and tear of excitement attendant on the campaign will be gladly laid aside, and the citizen will endeavor to hold him down. return to his daily avocation, satisfied that whether he is on the winning or Democrats, the campaign which has going of the Republican party next year. just closed has many encouraging aspects. In Massachusetts, a strong Republican state that three years ago gave Garfield 53,245 majority, a flerce personal battle was waged between the Butler and anti-Butler forces. The vicman eloquent" has gone high enough on | wave. the ladder of political fame, and notice is distinctly served on the country that the Butler presidential boom has gone the way of all flesh.

The rural districts held their Democratic strength measurably, although the importance of victory this year to give the Republicans a fighting chance in the Sable pageantry of clouds, Mourning summer laid in shrouds. presidential battle tended to bring out a larger Republican than Democratic vote. All in all, the results show a drawn battle in the skirmish prelimi nary to next year, with much depending on the wise action of Congress, which meets in December.

The Defect of Page.

The defeat of S. Davis Page for controller in Philadelphia shows that the much vaunted freedom from bossism of that city is a vain delusion. With the support of a united and aggressive Democracy, earnestly favored by such influential newspapers as the Times, the Press and the Ledger, and with the Committee of One Hundred struggling for him and its own future existence, the bosses have proven omnipotent over all. The verdict may be accepted as a distinct rebuke to honesty and non-partisan fidelity in offi cial place, and an open letter of notification that the ringsters of that city have returned to stay. Not that Mr. Jeffrleis personally a dangerons man to place in this responsible office. He is reputed to be an excellent business man of irreproachable character. But the power | iers' home. that nominated and elected him is a Samson in its strength, and before its blightning influence the new controller ring-ridden city, pity it is that the vitally important outpost of the controllership should have been captured by the unscrupulous enemy. For the result the Democracy and the Committee of One Hundred are in no wise responsible. It was a Republican victory, pure and simple, and that party is welcome to the delicate morsel that it must continue to chew for four years to come

Divorce Legislation

The alarming increase of divorce for one cause or another has excited consid form. erable discussion in religious circles. The Catholic council of New York and the Episcopal convention in Philadelphia, both took a determined stand against it, and the Presbyterians of New York nearly went to the extremity of voting a resolution of thanks to the Catholic council for the high ground taken by them against this most perniclous evil. Dr. Leonard W. Bacon contributes an article on divorce reform to the Princeton Review which contains many sensible suggestions. The substance of these is that the divorce laws, bad as they are, ought to be better administered, and that the legal proce. dure for separation should be more open and deliberate, allowing greater chance for personal persuasion and religious influence. This is a step in the right direc tion. The secrecy with which divorce proceedings may be conducted constiproceedings may be conducted constitutes their principal evil to society. and cross the waist in front Moderna, in Unhappy married people would make a the form of letters which head her show greater effort to harmonize their differences if publicity were given to all applications for divorces. Few Democrats concede him more so as to give her a "monster" reception on so as to give her a "monster" reception on her arrival, but the dispatch acnouncing the approach of the Gallia failed to reach the gallant colonel in time, and, as a result, Mme. Patti and Signor Nicolini were compelled to remain on the steamer until its arrival at the pier in the city? Patti is looking considerably brighter and improved than when she was here before, and has gained somewhat in weight. She is to appear on Friday at the academy of ondon Dally News Some excitement is stated by the Indian papers to have been caused among the people of the Madras presidency by the fact of the sun having recently presented a bright green appearance, particularly near the time of setting. Prof. Michie Smith, commenting upon this phenomenou, says that as far as he can discover the appearance of a green sun is very uncommon. Mr. Lockyer, however, once observed the sun to be of a vivid green when seen through the steam of a little paddle boat on Lake Windmere, and this circumstance, he thinks, points to a solution of the difficulty, and shows that the cause of the appearance is an unusual amount of aqueous vapor in the atmosphere, existing as actual vapor, and not condensed into clouds. Some experiments with the spectrum, of which Prof. Smith. gives the details, appear to confirm this

The Prince Von Redern Bend.

At Berlin, Count Von Redern, grand chamberlain to the emperor, is dead. Count Von Redern is one of the last of the remarkable group of statesmen of whom the Emperor William and Prince Bismarck have for so long been the central figures. He was born in 1802, and in 1879 was raised to the title of prince, being already a general of cavalry and a privy conucillor,

Affairs In Great Britain

Lord Chief Justica Coleridge consulted Mr. Charles Russell and other leading members of the Cognish bar to day re-garding the deferences of procedure in the high courts of justice of England and America. One of the points discussed was the admission of foreign lawyers to practice in English courts.

It is probable that the government will atroduce at the next session of Parliament a household suffrage bill, which shall apply to both town and country throughout Great Britain and Ireland. A bill for the redistribution of seats in the House of Commons will probably follow.

A Printing Press for India. The executive committee of the women's foreign missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church now holding their annual session at Des Moines, Ia , have voted to raise $25,000 for the establishment of the first woman's periodical in India. David C. Cook, the Sunday school publisher, has given a $2,200 Cottrell steam printing press to the American mission press in India. This will be the first steam printing machine, except those of the government, in use in India, and will soon be on its way.

-Goldoni to Have a Statue

London Times. About the middle of next month a statue of Goldoni, the celebrated dramatist, will be inaugurated in Venice, where so many of his pieces were first brought out. The statue has been modeled by Antonio dal Zatto and cast by Arquati. Those who have seen it declare that it is an admirable reproduction of well known portraits taken when he was in his prime. It will be placed in the Campo San Bartolomeo, opposite the Mercerla. Catnolics to Honor Luther.

Dr. Dollinger, president of the Royal Academy at Munich, Germany, and leader of the Old Catholics may take part in the estivities on Saturday next in honor of Martin Luther apart from religious grounds, because he did so much for the language, letters and education of the country as to deserve the everlasting thanks of all Germans.
