FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 9, 1883.

THE BIRTHDAY. Baby came this morning. She came in the dawn's light. This is her little name. Hung with the purest white. Wrapped in lawn and lace. She sleeps in dusky calm. Still as a snow-hite lily. Little pink palm to pain. Just a sweet rare secret. That never a mortal knows. Her years all folded together. Like leaves of the budding rose. Only a line of pink. The folded blossom eaves. But we know the rose is there. With all its scented leaves. The harp-strings hold the song. And the grape-flower holds the wine. The marble holds the angel. The silver holds the shrine. The baby keeps the secret. The mother her tender wife. And the lover who best knows. The secret of her life. -Little E. Barr, in Our Continent.

A Constitution for Russia. Vienna dispatch to the London Standard. The Zaren's health from a perfectly trustworthy St. Petersburg source that the Zzar, immediately after his return, sent for Count Tolstoi, and told him that it was his firm resolution to grant to the nation more freedom and such reforms as were suitable to the spirit of the people. Count Tolstoi was the person directed to set to work and devise measures of reform "so that happiness and contentment may soon reign throughout the country." On the following day the emperor's command issued the same resolution to his minister, M. Pobedonozzeff, who wired for M. Katkov, on whose arrival he had an audience with the Zzar, who invited them to assist Count Tolstoi in the working out of a constitution suitable for the Russian people. All three have been busily engaged on this for several days past, all their remonstrances against the emperor's resolution having remained resultless.

The New Supervising Architect. Supervising Architect Hill today severed his connection with the treasury department and his successor, Mr. M. E. Bell, was installed in office. It is said that the latter intends to reorganize the office and that a number of changes will take place among the higher grades of clerks. Several of those interested assert that they will be retained for at least a year, or until the new Architect familiarizes himself with his duties.

A Baptist Minister's Experience. I am a Baptist Minister, and before I even thought of being a clergyman, I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, 30 years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from catarrh. Thomas Electric Oil cured me. I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas Electric Oil was relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria, and Thomas Electric Oil cured them.
