PATHER HANSON DEAD,

Famous Old Negro, Who Lived One Hun-dred and Tweive Years. The death at Hyde Park, Mass., of "Old ather Hanson," brought to an end an Father Hanson," brought to an end an interesting life that has spanned twelve years more than a century. The old man's real name he would never disclose, but his coffin plate is inscribed: "William Hanson, born in Maryland, 1771, died at Hyde Park, 1883." Three-fourths of Father Hanson's long life was spent in slavery. A delusion of his old age was his refusal to believe that slavery was actually done away with and he never could be induced to make known his name, for fear his old master would learn of his whereabouts and releaf proof of his great age. He was born in Maryland and his earliest recollections is of "a great Frenchman." The name of Lafayette was mentioned to him and he recognized it. He was at the time five or recognized it He was at the time five or six years old and he remembers running after the band and seeing the decorations. Lafayette's trip through Baltimore to Philadelphia was in the fall of 1777, Father Hanson was born in slavery, and while a boy his duties were to care for an old lady. When she died he was sold to a hard master, who treated him cruelly and he ran away. He was caught and again sold, and put to work in the fields. He was not well treated. Until his death his back bore the fearful scars of fifty lashes inflicted because he did not bring in enough yams one day Another time he was thrashed because he prayed so loud, for Father Hanson was a whole souled Methodist all his life. He was employed in the reconstruction of Fort McHenry, at Baltimore, after its partial destruction by the British, in 1812, and his eldest son worked with him on the job, the boy being then twenty years old and the father about forty. Father Hanson was four times married and when his last child had been sold he again ran away, some years before the war, and came North. For twenty years he has lived in Hyde Park, doing light jobs about town. He was sent to Tewsbury a year or two ago, but left, as he says, because they didn't give him enough to eat and compelled him to sleep on a board. He has since been supported by citizens.

PARNELL CARRIES LIMERICK.

The Parnellite candidate had an easy victory at the Limerick Parliamentary election, Friday. The election was held to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Richard O'Shaughnessy, who was elected as a Home Ruler in 1874, but had become classed as a Liberal within the past few years and whose resignation was simultaneous with his appointment to a lucrative post under the Giadstone goverament. Charges of desertion and bribery were freely made against him at the time, and Mr. Edward McMahau, a pronounced Nationalist, was nominated by the Parnelites as his successor. The Conservatives nominated Mr. James Spaight, who had been defeated by Mr. O'Shangh nessy at the last election. Considerable bitterness was manifested during the canvass, but within the past few days the fight has practically been abandoned by the committee in charge of Mr. Spaight's interests. The election was quiet and uneventful, lacking most of the exciting elements which make Irish elections usually picture que and sometimes san-No jaun ing cars were employed to bring feeble or backward voters to the polls and there were no display of the colors of the respective parties, either at the headquarters or at the hustings. A large vote was brought out, however, and more of the two thirds of the 1,906 registered voters of the city deposited their ballots. At 8 p. m., the result of the poll was declared as follows: McMahan, 922; Spaight, 473. The announcement of McMahan's decisive victory was received with great enthusiasm by the large crowd assembled in the street and their was much rejoicing in the city during the even ing, but no acts of disorder are reported.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

In olden times it was thought that evil spirits came in through cracks and keyholes. The generally approved way to keep them out was to plug up the keyhole and stop the cracks with cotton. Notwithstanding these preventive measures, the evil things had their own way and often came in as they pleased.

So comes malaria now-a-days. We try to keep it out of the keyhole and it comes in by th crack. We stop up the crack, and lo ! It comes from a leak in the plumbing, or an opening

We cannot always keep malaria out, but we can give it battle and drive its effects from our systems. If Brown's Iron Britzes is taken in time, malaria has not a ghost of a chance This is a great family medicine. Your druggist sells it and you ought to keep a bottle in the

PARKER'S TONIC.

Twists and Twinges.

"My brethren," shouted Dr. Talmage one bright autumnal Sunday, "here is a lesson rom the cornfield. God has arranged that the car and the husk shall be parted. Every rheumatic pain is but the thrust of the husk-ing peg, and every neuralgic twinge is only a twist of the husker."

Possibly; but nobody wants to be husked, for all that, and nature teaches us to resist the process. Therefore, we accept with gratitude whatever helps us to suppress those very twists and twinges.

From his pleasant home, Greenmont, near Sing Sing, N. Y., M. Alfred Baer, a French gentleman, writes: "I have suffered almost intolerable torments from rheumatism for many years. Of the numerous remedies which I tried, none benefited me, But Parker's Tonic gave me great satisfaction, I certify with pleasure that it restored my health. You are welcome to publish this and Messrs. Hiscox & Co. call especial attention to the fact that this preparation, which has been known as Parker's Ginger Tonic, will hereafter be advertised and sold simply under the name of Parker's Toxic. As unprincipled dealers are constantly deceiving their custom-ers by substituting inferior preparations under the name of ginger, and as ginger is really an unimportant isgredient, we drop the misleading word.

There is no change, however, in the prepara-tion liself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of Parker's GINGER TONG, contain the genuine medicine if the fac simile signature of Hiscox & Co. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper. ni-imdeed
