eases caused by Derangement of the Liver, Bowels and Rieneys.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER.
Bad breath: Pain in the Side, sometimes the pain is felt under the Shoulder-blade, mistaken for Rheumatian: general loss of appetite: Bowels generally costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, is dull and heavy, with considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a paintul sensation of leaving undens something which ought to have been done; a slight, dry cough and flushed face is sometimes an attendant, often mistaken for consumption; the patient complains of weariness and deblity; nervous, easily startled; cold feet or burning, sometimes a prickly sonsation of the skin exists; spirits are low and despondent, and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial, yet one can hardly summon up fortitude to try it satisfied that exercise would be beneficial, yet one can hardly summon up fortitude to try it —in fact, distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when but lew of them existed, yet examination after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged, it should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the above symptoms appear, Persons traveling, or living in unhealthy localities, by taking a dose occasionally to keep the Liver in healthy action, will avoid all Malaria, Billous attacks, Ditziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Depression of Spirits, etc. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage.

If you have catten anything hard of digestion, or feel heavy after meals, or sleepless at night, take a dose and you will be relieved.

Mr. Philip Moore, of West Webster, Monroe County, N. Y., says: "My daughter, now eighteen years old, has, for the past eighteen months, ben afflicted with rheumatism in a hes, for the past eighteen mottles, ben afflicted with rheumatism in a very severe form. One year ago it settled in the knee, since which time she has been unable to touch her foot to the floor or move her limb without suffering the most excluding pain. Her limb was fast growing out of shape, although we were doing for herall we could, having used all the remedies we could hear of and that were recommended for rheumatism, none of which benutted her in the least. Her case was pronounced incurable by the physician and by our neighbors, and all believed that she would be a cripple all her days, and that her limb would never be restored to its original all her days, and that her limb would never be restored to its original shape. But I am happy to say that to-isy my daughter is entirely free from all rheumatic pains, and that she can walk with perfect ease, having thrown aside her crutches, and her limb seems as strong and perfect as ever; all from the use of your wonderful medicine "kheumatic Syrup," which we consider one of the best medicines ever introduced for purifying the blood, and I only regret that all others who are afflicted with rheumatism can not know of its superfor merils. You are at liberty to use my name if it will do you any good, and I shall be only too gladio tell any and everyone what it has done for my daughter."

OUR AGRICULTURISTS.

SLIM MEETING OF THE SOCIETY. some Inquiries Into the Cause Thereof, and

Some Suggestions to Remedy The Evil A stated meeting of the Lancaster county agricultural society was held in their room in city hall yesterday after-

The following named members were present: Messrs. H. M. Engle, Marietta; John C. Linville, Salisbury; James Wood, Little Britain ; Johnson Miller, Warwick ; Israel L. Landis, Manheim; C. L. Hun-secker, Manheim township; Frank R. Diftenderffer, city; Levi S. Reist, Oregon; J. M. Johnston, city; Ephriam S. Hoover, Manheim; S. P. Eby, city; James Col-lins, Drumore; Charles P. Collins, Cole-rain; Jacob Hostetter, Penn township; Mr. Hershey, West Lampeter.
In the absence of President Rush, Vice President Engle was called to the chair.

F. R. Diffendersfer reported that he had read two competitive essays which had been handed him for examination and had then handed them over to S. P. Eby, erq., another member of the committee ap-pointed to pass upon them; but that Mr. Eby had informed him that he had not yet handed them over to Mr. Johnston, the third member of the committee; and that, therefore, the committee was not yet able to report.

Mr. Johnston said he had no doubt the two members of the committee who had examined the essays would make a just award, and he was quite ready to waive an examination of them. [Mr. Eby came nto the meeting some time afterwards and stated that he had not read the essays with sufficient care to make a decision at the present meeting, and so the matter was post poned.]

Mr. Linville presented to the society a bound volume of the report of the chief signal officer of the United States, which had been forwarded for the library; also, a catalogue of the world's cotton expesicopy of a newspaper called the Sugar

A Dearth of Business. Israel L. Landis said there seemed to be great dearth of business in the society, and he would like to know why this is so The society was organized for a good and useful purpose, and yet its meetings were very slimly attended, and there seemed to Every farmer takes one or more papers and when they can get in the papers the infor-mation they seek, they will not leave their homes and lose a day every month to attend the meetings of the society. He did not believe that any plan could be devised to increase the attendance at the meetings, and the society would have to be content with the small number of "old regulars" who are in the habit of attend-Lovi S. Reist said there was much truth

Eph.S. Hoover was of the same opinion, and added that farmers gained much use ful information in visiting each other and exchanging views on the manner of cultivating various crops. When they hear of a farmer who is unusually successful in any particular branch, they visit him, find out his mode of culture and adopt it Mr. Hershey thought the regular most

Mr. Eby presented bills for coal, coal box, coal bucket, &., which were ordered to be paid.

Pruning Peach Trees. In answer to a question by Mr. Eby, Mr. Eogle said that peach trees that had grown so inxuriantly, or on which the branches were too close together, might safely be trimmed now, or at any time between now and next spring, providing the wood is not frozen. Trim freely and head off those branches which have made too much growth.

AN IRVING ANECDOTE

The English Actor's Story of Forrest and "King Lear." A banker who attended the Collis dinner to Henry Irving, in Philadelphia last week said in conversation with the loungers in the Lotus club parlors: "After dinner Mr. Irving proved himself to be most pleasant in conversation, and an excellent story teller. He told a story about Edwin Forrest which was new even to Dan. Dougherty, Geo. H. Boker and other old Philadelphia friends of the late tragedian. "Mr. Forrest," said he being out to dinner, sat opposite an old gentleman who was a very diffident person, but apparently a great admirer of Forcest. The old gentleman sat the whole evening drinking in every word Forrest said, and at last mustered up courage in a slight full in the conversation to say to Mr. Forrest : "You-ah-play King Lear, I believe?"

"Lear!" shouted Forrest, raising from his seat, and raising both arms aloft and fixing the old gentleman with a stagy and terrific look; "Lear," he repeated in thun-der tones, as the mild old questioner quailed and sank in his chair, "I am

Lear !''
The intimate friends of Forrest present greatly enjoyed the story-which was most Irving's imitation.
