The Historic Democracy. Not the least interesting phase of the recent contest for speaker among the Democrats...

McCleure and Carlisle. His cotemporaries are making fun of Col. McCleure's Carlisle flight. His agitation is so clearly exaggerated by the demands of the situation...

But the Democracy were not alone in finding slavery beyond constitutional effacement. In no authorized utterance of the Republic...

A party takes its character from its leaders. The convictions that they utter and defend, if they receive the support of the majority of its votes...

There is an unanimous desire every where expressed that Randall be made chairman of the committee on appropriations.

THE ABLE BODIED EDITORS, who vociferously proclaim Democratic division and disasters as certain consequences of Mr. Carlisle's nomination...

ANOTHER VETO.

THE GOVERNOR REFUSES LEGISLATIVE FAY.

His Reasons Given at Length—He Allows Only the One at the Extra Session.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 4.—The governor today sent back to the Legislature the salary bill recently passed, without his approval and gives his reasons for the veto in the following message.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 4, 1883. To the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On my return to the Executive Department, I have received from the Legislature the bill for the purpose of appropriating the sum of $1,000,000 for the salaries of certain officers and employees of the State.

It is my duty to inform you that I have vetoed this bill, because it is unconstitutional and because it is an unjust and oppressive appropriation.

THE EMPLOYEES GET THEIR MONEY.

Seeing no legal reason, however, for depriving of their pay the employees of the two Houses whose attendance was compulsory...

The House, after hearing the governor's veto message read, indulged in a short discussion and then adjourned without voting on the matter.

NO BUSINESS IN THE SENATE. No business of importance was transacted in the Senate.

FEATURES OF THE STATE PRESS. The Pittsburg Telegram has consolidated with the Chronicle, the latter's existence being maintained in the former.

PERSONAL. JEFFERSON Davis' book has been financially a failure.
