omerset Democrat Last week Mr. Henry Whetstone went to see what the dog had treed, thinking, perhaps, it was a coon. He climbed the tree when a turkey flew from the top of it.

Hiram Lentz has been heard from again. He was on the mountain and killed au-other wild turkey. Also, Aaron Rose, who has killed eleven turkeys, while another of our successful hunters, Sam

Bailey, has caught six 'coons. Mrs. John Ott, of Elder township, Cambris county, was terrified by a fine big buck flying by the door, followed by two bounds. A moment later the buck stumbled, in attempting to leap over a log, and fell headlong. Mrs. Ott grabbed a carving knife, rushed upon the animal and plunged the blade into its throat. She then skinned the carcass, which weighed 180 pounds when dressed.

There are still some bears around in Som erset county. One of these animals killed a hog for Gideon Hiteshaw the other day. It was seen by William Egolf, as he was going to his sa mill. Several men went in pursuit of bruin, but the dogs refused to run him down, as they were afraid of getting shot. Sometimes even our 'erack shots" miss their aim, as was the case re cently, when a good marksmen hit the dog and missed the beast.
