MON AT FVENING, JAN. 28 1984,

Not from Benjamin. The New York Tribune prints from the advanced sheets of Thurlow Weed's memoirs, an anonymous letter found among Mr. Weed's papers, addressed in August 1860, to the British consul at New York, in which the writer declares that there is a strong sentiment in the South favorable to a return to English rale and asking for an interview with the consul upon the matter, which could tration under which local self government, not be then had because of the consul's absence from New York. He is requested to address his answer to "Benjamin," to be called for at his office. Upon this hint the letter is proclaimed to have come from Judah P. Benjamin, although the style of the communication contradicts the suspicion utterly. The writer claims to be a member of Congress, but if so he was a very silly member. Benjamin has never been sus pected of silliness; on the contrary if there ever was a more astute of a "practical politician;" he is as adcitizen among us he has not been vanced in his theories of revenue reform recognized in the present generation. If as Mr. Watterson, Mr. Carlisle or Mr. Mr. Benjamin had any such propositions to make to the British government he made last session in support of their would not have made it to the consul at position on economic questions was

We feel quite certain that a very large majority of our citizens, regardless of politics, will regret to learn of Mayor MacGonigle's determination to retire from the office which he has so acceptably rage resolutions in the Senate, shows filled for three terms. Had he been otherwise inclined there is no doubt that he would have been upanimously renominated and re-elected by a decisive which may be forced upon them, the majority. Lancaster will be fortunate, indeed, to find another whose efforts for the promotion of the city's best interests will be as wisely directed Mr. Mac Veagh's independence, instead of the application of Mayor MacGonigle's business principles to the finances of the city, which had been drifting from bad to worse, and which, under his direction, have been so far righted that the exhibit which the authorities are able to make to-day is the best seen for many years.

In the selection of his successor the Democratic party needs to make care ful choice so that it may not disappoint the public expectations reasonably raised by the standard of magisterial fitness maintained by Mayor MacGonigle's renominations. The unjust gerrymander of the city and the partial disfranchise. ment of large portions of it in the apportionment of council men is so grossly in favor of the Republican party that the election of a mayor from the opposition is essential to the best interests of the city. The wisdom of one branch of the municipal government being a check upon the other is now very generally recognized There is double responsibility upon the Democrats of Lancaster to pick out a man of unchallenged capacity, experience in and acquaintance with munici-There is no time to lese.

Lamar's Letter.

Senator Lamar was invited to the Commonwealth club reception tendered in Philadelphia to Speaker Carlisle. Being unable to attend he sent the following letter, of which a copy has been furnished us:

DEAR SIR.-Your committee h ving appointed and announced the time for olding the primary meetings for the selection of caudidates for the municipal offices to be voted for on the third Targeday of February next, and my name hav ing been pretty generally mentioned in connection with the mayoralty, it is but fair, in order that the canvans to fill the position properly may preced without embarrassment, that I declare publicly my intention not to enter the contest for reelection. It is known to my most intimate friends that I entered the content two years ago against my own inclinations, and against the strong protests of those who are nearest and deprest to me. The additional two years' experience which I have had since has not served to lessen my own repugnance to a personal canvass for a fourth term, nor has it diminished the deeided opposition of those to whom I am inclined to listen.

At this point, I am sure, I may be permitted to thank my follow citizens-Demcrats and Republicans-for the honors they have conferred upon me in thrice electing me to fill the principal municipal office in their gift, I also thank the press of these city for dealing with my official conduct. kindly, includently. THE COMING RABBIT. Warmly Commended by a Treuton do real-Rev. M. Ungerleider, of Trenton, N. J., ma received and accepted a call from the Hebrew congregation of this city, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Samuel Laski, who went west a weeker ten days ago. Rev. Underleader is a single man, about 30 years of age, and is well known to many of the flebrew- of this city. The Trenton Sunday Advertisor says of him :

"Rev. M. Ungerleider, rabbi of the Har Sinai congregation of this city, has tendered his resignation to the trustees of hat congregation to accept a call to the Shairy Shomaim (the Gates of Heaven) congregation at Labouster, Pa., who are resolved to secure him at any salary Mr. Ungerleider is one of the most learned rabbis in this country, and came directly here from the University of Vienna. His work in Har Sinal congregation was marvelous As a preacher he is known all over the United States, and as a Tal mudist and philosopher he has but few equals. The members of Her Sinal in this city are profoundly sorrowful to lose him, as he is undoubtedly one of the best here. His farewell sermon will be delivered on Tuesday next, when a througed synagogue is expected. His many Chris-
