STATE NEWS.

Items From the Various Counties. There is a new house in Pike county, the floor of which is made of yellow pine boards first put into a stone house in 1724. The explosion of some dynamite cartridges on railroad work, near Scranton killed Foreman John Mack and a workman named Thomas Norton, scattering their bodies in fragments. The action of Mack's heart, which was torn from his body, was visible to the workmen for several minutes after the explosion occurred.

Her medicine bottles were all labeled, and it is a mystery how her attendant made the fatal mistake. She is about thirty-five years of age, has always been a reliable attendant and is almost beside herself from

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

"As weak as a cat " is an expression frequently used by decilitated sufferers who are try-ing to tell how forlorn they feel. It is an incorrect expression, for a cat is one of the most egile and vigorous animals, in existence. It would be more correct to say," as weak as a imp old rag," for that gives the idea of atter inability to hold one's soil up. The weary peron who feels thus is generally worn, worried, weeful and wretched.

Sometimes it is a case of over work, and sometimes of impersect neareshment. The blood in the system of a person who is "as weak as a rag" is in a wrotchedly thin condition. It needs from to impart richness, redness, and strength. This is to be had by taking lineway. INON BUTTER'S, the only safe and proper preparation of iron in connection with gentle and powerful tonics. The physician and the druggist can tell the worn and weary how valuable a remedy Brown's Inos British has been found in actual every day use

From Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper A LADY SAID

Those Borrid Pimpies! No. I Cannot Go.

Please Present My Excuses." Probably two-thirds of the ladies in society and nomes of our land are afflicted with skin diseases of various kinds, to do away with which, if it could be done without fajury, would be the happiest event of their lives. Then she would have instead of a disfigured and marred countenance, one that would be handsome, or at least good looking, for any one with a clear, pure skin, no matter but the cut of her features are, has a certain amount of good looks which attract everybody. As it is now, she imagines every one sees and talks about "those freekles," "those horrid pimples," and other blemisnes with which she is afflicted, but this is true of either
