

FOUND DEAD.

TRAGIC END OF "BARNEY SHORT."

His body found in the woods, with skull fractured and brain exposed. A mysterious tragedy.

As Miss Robinson, a school teacher of Maple Township, near the school, on the morning of the 29th of January, in the vicinity of Rawlinsville, between 7 and 8 o'clock, she found the dead body of Bernard Short, a well known resident of the lower end of Market, with his skull fractured and his brain exposed from the injury.

There was nothing except the injured and lifeless body to indicate how the deceased had come to his death, but an investigation of his whereabouts the previous evening develops facts that justify the conclusion that his tragic fate was the result of accident, though some of his friends harbor the suspicion that he was a victim of foul play, and that his murder was incited by motives of revenge or plunder.

Mr. Short was the owner of the Lamb hotel on South Queen street, below Vine, this city, and a frequent visitor to Lancaster was in town yesterday. He left the city on Monday, Feb. 29th, at 5:20 P. M., and reached, stopped at and left Rawlinsville about 8 o'clock. Nothing more is known of him until his body was found as related. His horse and sleigh went toward home, which is the road between Rawlinsville and Liberty square, about one mile from the former and two miles from the latter.

Decceased was about 55 years old and very well known in the city. He was a thoroughbred farmer, a successful and industrious and pushing, somewhat litigious and not so prosperous, sometimes as others. He was a son in law of the late Bernard Burns, and formerly lived with him.

Eighteen years ago he bought the place on which the discovery was made, the experience in bankruptcy, his suits with Jno. Hildebrand and with the insurance company are well remembered in legal circles and in the neighborhood where he lived.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—Vice President Charles Hartshorn will serve as president of the Lehigh Valley railroad until a successor to the late Harry E. Packer shall be chosen. The board of directors have power to fill the vacancy until the next annual meeting of the stockholders.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—The commander at Tokar said: "It would be impossible for our condition to be worse. The rebels have filled up all the wells outside the town. The water inside is brackish and bad and the troops are suffering from diarrhea. There is great fear that it will be necessary shortly to surrender. Only ten twenty rounds of ammunition per man are still left. The firing on the part of the rebels continues day and night."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—In answer to the writ of habeas corpus, Uriah Clewer produced his daughter Bertha in court this morning. Her husband, the so-called "missing skeleton," was also present. In open court the girl declared that she was restrained of her liberty in any way, and preferred to go with her father and not with her husband. The case was then dismissed. There was a great crowd in court. This is the first time that the girl has been in open court since she was confined in the Middle and New England states than usual, while an increase on the Pacific coast is quite marked. Failures are also more numerous in Canada and the provinces.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—A strike was called here to-day by the arrest of eight well known citizens on the charge of horse racing with sleighs on the public road. They were held for court. The charges are brought under the blue laws of 1791, which prohibit racing, and provide that the horses be sold, and the proceed placed in the county treasury.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Keely motor company held here to day, another postponement of the promised public exhibition was announced, at the request of the inventor.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—The debt statement issued to-day shows a decrease of $11,000,000, a decrease since June 30th last of $65,007,480.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—The jury in the case of Travisville Sykes, for the murder of Kate Townsend, has returned a verdict of guilty.
